[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 2.—Norman H. Davis, United States ambassador at large and delegate to the nine power treaty conference; Capt. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, and Yvon Delbos, French foreign minister, today took the first step toward coördinating the policies of these three nations for a common stand on the far eastern problem.

These three, in a series of consultations among themselves, and with Chinese indulgence, are understood to have regulated in advance the machinery of the conference, to which signatories of the nine power treaty guaranteeing China's integrity, and other nations with interests in the far east, were invited. They fixed the program for the opening session tomorrow and decided on the first concrete step which the conference as a whole will take.

Will Send Appeal to Japan.

This step will be an appeal by the conference to Japan to accept mediation of its undeclared war in China and to send a representative to Brussels to negotiate an armistice. The invitation will remind the Japanese that this is a conference of powers interested in the Pacific and not a committee of the league of nations.

It will be far more than a simple note of invitation, however, and may contain a veiled warning to the Japanese of further decisions by the conference if the Japanese turn down the invitation.

Because of the importance of this first formal gesture of the Pacific powers as an independent international organism, the text of the note has not yet been settled on. The spokesmen of the leading delegations were reluctant even to speculate on its broad lines. It is possible that the note to Japan may be sent off tomorrow night, but this is unlikely.

Belgian to Head Parley.

So far it is definite there is agreement only on the following points:

FIRST—Paul Spaak, Belgian foreign minister, will be chairman of the conference. He tried to dodge this honor, but was overruled by the big three. Efforts to induce Davis to be chairman were turned down by him.

SECOND—The chairman will open the plenary session in the Academy palace tomorrow morning with a short speech. Davis will follow him with a long speech. Delbos and Eden then will speak, but more briefly than Davis.

In the afternoon other speakers will be heard. Then the conference will adopt the principle of sending a new invitation to Japan and will appoint a steering committee, likewise presided over by Spaak.

Italian Envoy to Speak.

It is known that the Italian delegate will make a speech, and Maxim Litvinov, soviet Russian foreign commissar, also probably will speak. It is doubtful if any other delegates will speak. The rest of the procedure has only been fixed in very broad lines.

China, naturally, will be given a hearing. Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate, already has let it be known that his country will accept no armistice until the Japanese evacuate Chinese territory.

No final decision can be taken, of course, until Japan's answer has been received. If the answer is negative, as it is expected to be, the conference will designate certain powers to act as mediators. That is one vital point in the whole conference, and it does not appear that the big three have made up their minds on the exact formula.

The Hotel Metropole, which is the headquarters of the British and American delegations, was the scene of great activity all day. Capt. Eden had a long talk with Davis. Later, together with the Australian delegates, Eden lunched with Davis. In the afternoon Davis saw Dr. Koo.

EDWARD WINS A STATE DINNER AT WASHINGTON

Roosevelts May Put On One, Too.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—A load of anxiety and embarrassment was lifted from the White House and state department today when the wife of Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador, announced that the duke and duchess of Windsor will be entertained at a large British embassy dinner on Nov. 12.

A state dinner is tops in the official world. It marks the highest social honor that can be paid to the person for whom it is given. Thus did his majesty George VI.'s ambassador extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary at Washington put the seal of approval on the extension of all possible courtesies to Edward, duke of Windsor, and the American wife for love of whom he gave up the British throne.

It Solves Many Problems.

Until the British embassy gave this sign of cordial reception of the abdicated monarch and the twice divorced wife, who had been ostracized by the British royal family and England's ruling class, America's rulers were in a dilemma. They couldn't make up their minds whether to take the Windsors to their bosoms and give them the key to the capital or to greet them with a formal bow and a finger tip handshake.

President Roosevelt found himself hopelessly at sea in these social waters and he looked in vain for guidance to Emily Post and the social experts of the state department's division of protocol. In fact, by the time the British ambassador came to the relief of the sufferers the question had become headache No. 1 for the etiquet department.

The relief came not a moment too soon. The Windsors were about to sail and were to land in America on Nov. 11, and the President was under increasing pressure to say if, when and how official American hospitality would be offered to these old friends—the duke, who danced himself into the hearts of American girls a decade or two ago, and the American woman who shook the greatest monarchy in history.

That's It—A Luncheon!

Mr. Roosevelt finally had vouchsafed the information that the duke and duchess would be entertained at the White House at a luncheon. But, it appeared, Mrs. Roosevelt would not be present at the luncheon. Just why not was not revealed. The effect was apparently what was intended—to let it be known that the Windsors were to be accorded only a minimum of the pomp and circumstance that royal visitors rate at the White House.

That, however, was before the British ambassador put the official hallmark on the royal scion and his consort. It may be that under the changed circumstances the Windsors will find they rate a state dinner at the White House, or at least a luncheon graced by the presence of Mrs. Roosevelt.

The headaches in Washington officialdom were caused by the momentous questions of state involved in the impending visit of the duke and duchess to study housing reform in the United States with a view to instructing more benighted countries in that art and science.

The British Are Atwitter.

British officialdom betrayed an uncomfortable feeling that the British Isles stood first on the duke's list of such countries and that the duke was bent on ingratiating himself with British slum dwellers for political purposes.

London clubs rang with denunciation of Edward. It just wasn't cricket for him to behave in this manner. Everybody recalled how he went to Wales when he was king, without asking the cabinet's permission, and bewailed the lot of the unemployed miners, exclaiming that "something must be done about this," the excla-

HOLD YOUR FIRE, BOLIVAR

Admits Firing Fatal Shot in Park Murder

Anthony Sapienza, who grew a heavy mustache and long sideburns and even knocked out one of his own teeth to disguise himself from police who were on his trail, confessed yesterday that he fired the shot that killed Herbert W. Lee in a moonlight holdup in Grant park on Aug. 22.

Sapienza's confession came only a few hours after he was returned to Chicago from Shreveport, La., where he was working in a concession of a traveling street carnival. Lieut. Thomas F. Kelly and Sergt. Daniel Kenney of the state's attorney's office captured him in Shreveport Sunday as he was stamping the Lord's prayer on souvenir pennies before a gaping crowd of Louisiana pleasure seekers.

Three Now in Custody.

The capture, crowning weeks of patient pursuit that led the investigators through six states, completed the roundup of the three men involved in the park murder. Already in custody were Leonard Doxey, who drove the automobile in which the three men fled after the fatal shot was fired, and Albert Minella, Sapienza's companion in the holdup who was wounded by a wild bullet in the struggle in which Lee protected his money with his life.

After being returned to Chicago, Sapienza, a stocky, hard faced man of 32, was taken before Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney, and Assistant State's Attorneys Harry Posner and Emmett Moynihan. Sapienza remained unshaken when shown the statements of Doxey and Minella, naming him as the gunman in the holdup. "I was home in bed at the time," he insisted.

Faced by Wife's Statement.

"What about this?" asked one of the prosecutors. He shoved before Sapienza a copy of the statement made by his wife, Josephine, mother of his three children. In this statement Mrs. Sapienza said her husband had come home early in the morning, bringing Minella with him, and that Sapienza forced her to stay up the rest of the night caring for Minella's wound.

Sapienza squirmed uneasily in his chair. Then when Doxey was brought in and accused him of the shooting, he collapsed.

"Okay," he said. "I'll tell the

WOMEN DEMAND GAS WEAPONS TO WARD OFF ATTACKS OF RAPISTS

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Women want tear gas to protect themselves from men. The gas would be carried in little fountain pen gadgets.

The movement was launched in Queens, where sex crimes have baffled police for years. Clubwomen are so disturbed they demand drastic measures to save themselves from attack.

Mrs. Eugene L. Greenewold, a member of the Flushing Women's Civic club, originated the idea.

"It would help police catch the culprits, too," she said.

Lieut. Austin H. Meade, in charge of the Juvenile Aid bureau at Flushing, was less enthusiastic.

"Tear gas would be a dangerous thing in the hands of a lot of women," he said.

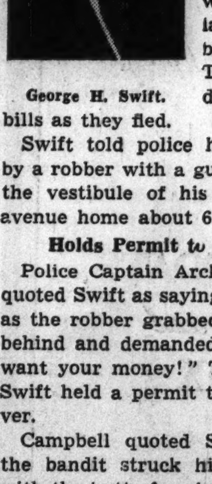
Geo. H. Swift, Boston Packer, Battles Thugs

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—George H. Swift, director of Swift & Co., Chicago meat packers, was held up and beaten tonight by three robbers who took a $2,000 pearl scarfpin and between $300 and $500 in cash from him.



George H. Swift.

The packer fired a shot at the robbers from his own pistol but the bullet went wild and was later found imbedded in a wall. The bandits dropped $25 in bills as they fled.

Swift told police he was accosted by a robber with a gun as he entered the vestibule of his Commonwealth avenue home about 6 p. m.

Holds Permit to Carry Gun.

Police Captain Archibald Campbell quoted Swift as saying he fired a shot as the robber grabbed his arms from behind and demanded: "Mr. Swift, I want your money!" The officer said Swift held a permit to carry a revolver.

Campbell quoted Swift as saying the bandit struck him on his head with the butt of a pistol. At the same moment the robber's companions seized the packer's revolver, striking him on his right wrist.

The robbers clipped the $2,000 oriental pearl from the stickpin. They fled without taking another billfold containing another $300 or so that Swift carried in an inside pocket.

Suffers Wound on Head.

Mr. Swift's condition was not serious. He suffered only a wound on the right side of his head and a contusion of his right wrist.

The merchant, who is 59 years old, is the son of Gustavus Franklin Swift, founder of the packing company. He is chairman of the board of the National Leather company, the New England Dressed Meat and Wool company, and the North Packing and Provisions company.

Mrs. Swift, the former Lucile Darst Casey of Chicago, and a daughter were in the house at the time of the robbery, but apparently did not hear the shot.

RESULTS OF ELECTIONS

AKRON—Lee D. Schroy (Republican incumbent) conceded winner over Judge G. L. Patterson (C. I. O.).

ALBANY—John Boyd Thatcher (Democrat incumbent).

BOSTON—Maurice J. Tobin (Democrat).

BUFFALO—Thomas L. Holling (Democrat).

CANTON—James Seccombe (Republican incumbent).

CLEVELAND—Harold H. Burton (Republican incumbent).

DETROIT—Richard W. Reading (anti-C. I. O.).

HARTFORD—Thomas J. Spellacy (Democrat incumbent).

NEW HAVEN—John W. Murphy (Democrat incumbent).

NEW YORK—Fiorello H. La Guardia (Fusion incumbent); Thomas E. Dewey (Fusion Republican) won the district attorney's office.

PITTSBURGH—Cornelius D. Scully (C. I. O. supported Democratic incumbent).

SYRACUSE—Rolland B. Marvin (Republican).

UTICA—Vincent R. Corrou (Democrat incumbent).

NEW JERSEY—Senator A. Harry Moore (Democrat) defeats the Rev. Lester H. Clee, Presbyterian clergyman and Republican, for the governorship. Moore was backed by Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City.

La Guardia Is Mayor Again; Dewey Victor

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Nearly 2½ million voters in a city election devoid of violence today made Fiorello H. La Guardia the first "reform" mayor ever to succeed himself. They also elected young Thomas E. Dewey as district attorney of New York county and knocked the last props from under the dying tiger of Tammany Hall.

To the plurality of 454,425 run up for La Guardia in the city-wide voting for the Fusion-Republican-Labor-Progressive ticket was added a plurality of 108,823 for Dewey, his running mate, whose decisive defeat of Harold Hastings, Tammany Democrat, paralleled in the borough the mayor's city-wide victory over Jeremiah T. Mahoney.

Win Board of Estimate.

But making doubly effective the defeat of Tammany Hall by La Guardia and the young racket smasher, against whom the full force of the tottering machine was directed, the anti-Tammany sweep spurred by Dewey's fight on politico-criminal alliances was strong enough to give the Fusion-Republican forces control of the potent board of estimate.

With the La Guardia-Dewey victory also came about the election of Joseph D. McGoldrick, Fusion candidate for city controler, and Newbold Morris, Fusion candidate for president of the council. La Guardia and the Fusion Republican forces thus will have support of all but one of the 16 votes in the estimate board, city fund administering body previously controled by Tammany Hall.

Fusionists Win All Around.

Borough President Raymond V. Ingersoll of Brooklyn, Borough President George U. Harvey of Queens, and Borough President Joseph A. Palma of Richmond, all candidates for reëlection on the Fusion-La Guardia ticket, were reëlected. In Manhattan Stanley M. Isaacs, Fusion candidate for borough president, defeated Ald. Timothy J. Sullivan, Tammany candidate.

Mahoney conceded defeat of the routed Tammany forces soon after 9 p. m., when returns still were fragmentary. He sent a telegram of congratulations to the mayor, and Max J. Schneider, defeated candidate for the council presidency, sent a similar message to Morris. At the same time Hastings conceded victory to Dewey and wished him luck—and for the first time in more than 100 years of its history the leader of Tammany left the Hall before the figures were near completion and the lights were turned out.

The Complete Figures.

Complete returns tabulated late tonight follow:

Mayor—The 3,910 districts in New York City gave Mahoney 889,591, La Guardia 1,344,016. This is an actual plurality of 454,425.

CONSERVATIVE BEATS O'BRIEN BY BIG MARGIN

Even Council Slate Seems Defeated.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—In its first try at politics on a major scale, John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization was defeated roundly today when its candidate for mayor of Detroit was swamped by Richard W. Reading, who received the conservative support.

With 875 precincts reporting—more than 95 per cent of the 918 in the city—Reading led Patrick H. O'Brien, the C. I. O. partisan, by an overwhelming majority which he maintained since the first returns.

The vote stood: Reading, 243,926; O'Brien, 146,172.

O'Brien conceded defeat on the basis of returns from the first 400 precincts.

"I am willing to bow to the mathematics of the situation," he said, "but I have made a good fight."

O'Brien Stirs Up Detroit.

A statement by O'Brien during the primary campaign, in which he ran 38,000 votes behind Reading, aroused the people of the city and placed the C. I. O. on the defensive during the entire election fight.

"Labor," said O'Brien, "must seize the reins of government in Detroit and every other American city."

As today Detroit [illegible] to the polls and established a local record for a purely municipal election. Officials believe it will reach 425,000, which would eclipse by more than 160,000 the previous high of 263,000, established in 1931.

Council Aspirants Lose.

The rout of the C. I. O. seemed complete when it appeared that none of their five candidates for seats on the common [city] council would be elected. Early in the evening there was a chance for two of them—Maurice Sugar and Richard T. Frankensteen, assistant president of the United Automobile Workers of America—but as additional precincts reported their leads diminished.

Political forecasters called the turn on the election results by predicting that a heavy vote would rebound to Reading. The polls were busy all the thirteen hours they were open, lines forming before the opening at 7 a. m.

Under the city charter, those in line at the closing hour of 8 p. m. are allowed to vote. Many factory workers, released from their tasks late in the day, were in the queues at that hour.

Little violence was reported. The weather was clear, cool, and windy.

Reflects A. F. of L. Stand.

The bitter fight between the C. I. O. and the American Federation of Labor was reflected in today's returns, with most of the A. F. of L. membership apparently supporting Reading in the voting booths.

At the primary on Oct. 5 there were five candidates for mayor, Reading, O'Brien, and John W. Smith, a former mayor, being the leading contenders.

Smith had A. F. of L. support and drew 68,000 votes. It has been a question in many quarters as to where these 68,000 votes would go in today's election—to O'Brien or to Reading. Apparently most of them went to Reading. The straw vote showed 82 per cent of them so inclined, and returns give this estimate authenticity.

O'Brien Loses Own Precinct.

O'Brien even lost his home precinct to Reading, 476 to 63. He failed to carry Reading's precinct, 491 to 59.

The union men managing O'Brien's campaign frankly were bewildered at mid-day when the extent of the avalanche of votes became apparent. They said they didn't know what it meant, but they did not claim that it indicated victory for O'Brien.

C. I. O. leaders began to feel their oats as a political machine shortly after the General Motors and Chrysler sitdown strikes last winter and spring, in which they won agreements. By midsummer they had decided to run a slate of candidates for the common council and back O'Brien for head of the city government.

Detroit's Government Setup.

Detroit has a council of nine members elected at large from the twenty-two wards without regard to geographical or ward lines. The eighteen high candidates in the primary are nominated and the high nine in the election take seats. They run without party designations, as do the mayoralty candidates.

The mayor's post pays $15,000 a year. The incumbent is empowered to appoint heads of about 70 city departments.

Five councilmen candidates were placed in the running by the C. I. O. and all were nominated. O'Brien ran second in the field of five for the mayoralty and this meant that his name would appear on the ballot with Reading's.

Reading and O'Brien conducted a hot campaign and during the last few days each burned up the air and mounted the platform at every opportunity. In addition, last minute roorbacks caromed off the walls of the opposing forts.

In his closing speeches Reading pounded home his theme that a victory for O'Brien meant that John L. Lewis would become political boss of Detroit.

Republican Leads in Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Mayor Harold H. Burton, Republican candidate for reëlection, led his Democratic opponent, John O. McWilliams, 120,134 votes to 96,040 tonight on the basis of unofficial returns from 750 of 864 precincts.

Burton supporters forecast a majority of nearly 25,000 votes for the man who defeated former Gov. Harry L. Davis, former Cleveland mayor, in the 1935 Republican mayoral primary.

McWilliams, Cuyahoga county engineer, was supported by the "Union for Political Action," through which some Cleveland leaders of the A. F. of L. opposed Burton. McWilliams, admitting defeat, congratulated Burton.

Republicans Are Winners.

Akron, O., Nov. 3.—[Wednesday.]—(AP)—Akron's mayoral battle ended today with County Democratic Chairman J. Earl Cox conceding the election of Mayor Lee D. Schroy, Republican incumbent, over Municipal Judge G. L. Patterson, Democrat, who received C. I. O. support through the Labor Non-Partisan league.

Outcome of the race, one of the "hottest" mayoral fights in the state, was not apparent until more than one-half of the city's 226 precincts had been tabulated. Returns from 180 precincts gave Schroy 34,970 votes and Patterson 28,950.

At Canton, a focal point in the steel strike last summer another candidate who had C. I. O. support, Darrell D. Smith, Democrat, went down to defeat with the reëlection of Mayor James Seccombe, Republican incumbent. Smith conceded the election of Mayor Seccombe.

C. I. O. Ahead in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 2.—(AP)—C. I. O.-supported Cornelius D. Scully, Pittsburgh's Democratic mayor, rolled up a commanding lead tonight over his Republican oppoent, Robert N. Waddell.

Returns from 342 of the Steel City's 412 districts gave Scully 101,338 to 76,262 for Waddell, a young insurance executive and former Carnegie Tech football coach, who waged a spirited campaign against "boss rule."

Chairman Phillip Murray of the steel workers organizing committee and his organization supported Scully and the entire Democratic slate.

EX-GOV. CURLEY LOSES RACE FOR MAYOR OF BOSTON

Victor M. J. Tobin, City's Youngest Executive.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—(AP)—A 36 year old school committeeman, Maurice J. Tobin, tonight won a $20,000 a year job as mayor of Boston by handing a 24,673 vote defeat to James M. Curley.

The final unofficial vote, tabulated by the Boston police department, gave Tobin 104,884 and Curley 80,211. Both are Democrats. It was the second successive setback for the man who served three times as mayor of Boston and once as governor of Massachusetts. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Republican, defeated him for the United States senate in 1936.

A Nonpartisan Election.

The other three candidates dropped far behind in the nonpartisan election. Former Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols conceded long before finding out he trailed Tobin by 49,913. District Attorney William J. Foley polled 28,531, while Albert Santousso received only 2,910.

Curley's campaign manager, Francis B. Masterson, promptly intimated a recount would be demanded.

Tobin, until recently a telephone company trafic manager, became the youngest mayor of Boston in 32 years. Slim and more than six feet tall, he has a family of two young daughters.

Record Vote Polled.

The vote broke all records for balloting in past municipal elections, far surpassing the 247,355 ballots cast in in the last such contests here in 1933.

Across the Charles river, in Cambridge, seat of Harvard university and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, partisans came to blows as the contest between John W. Lyons, former president of the city council, and Mayor John D. Lynch was so close the election commission refused to announce who won. An unofficial count gave Lyons a 311 margin.

Philadelphia Goes Democratic.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 3 [Wednesday]. — [Special.] — The Democratic party triumphed in Philadelphia yesterday and achieved at least a partial victory in state-wide balloting over five proposed constitutional amendments. The figures in both instances looked slim in comparison with the plurality of 660,000 rolled up by President Roosevelt in Pennsylvania a year ago and with his 209,000 plurality in Philadelphia. More than 600,000 votes were polled, a record for an "off year election."

Nevertheless, with the exception of 1933, when a coalition of Democrats and Republicans swept Philadelphia, it was the first "off year" election in many years that failed of capture by the Republicans. More than 600,000 votes were polled.

A state-wide survey showed that the amendment providing for consolidation of Philadelphia's city and county governmental departments would be carried "by a satisfactory margin." This means that Philadelphia will be provided with a new city charter.

The city-county merger amendment is one of four sponsored by the Earle administration and supported vigorously in campaign addresses by Gov. Earle and his associates. Incomplete figures indicated a trend against a graduated state income tax proposal.

In carrying Philadelphia the Democrats apparently recorded pluralities of from 15,000 to 20,000 instead of the 125,000 or 150,000 predicted by John B. Kelly, Democratic city chairman.

One break, regarded as significant, was that Municipal Judge Theodore Rosen captured the Common Pleas court seat now held by Judge Harry E. Kalodner, former secretary to Gov. Earle. On the other hand, the Democrats overcame cries of "court packing" and elected eight of Gov. Earle's judicial appointees to full terms on the Common Pleas bench.

LA GUARDIA AND DEWEY WINNERS IN N. Y. ELECTION

Sweep Fusion Ticket In to Beat Tammany.

These figures showed Dewey running a comparatively much stronger race than La Guardia in Manhattan, the mayor's vote in 350 districts being 100,560 to 80,153 for Mahoney.

Still another factor expected to reduce Tammany Hall to a shadow of its once powerful self was the result of the voting by boroughs for members of the new city council, of which about twenty-eight will be elected.

G. O. P. Holds Assembly.

President Roosevelt, who studiously refrained from indorsing the Democratic candidate for mayor, telephoned Mayor La Guardia from Hyde Park and congratulated him on his reëlection.

State-wide voting assured continued Republican control of the state assembly. The Republicans were certain of at least five seats in Manhattan districts, at least one from Brooklyn, with other gains reported upstate.

Bruce Barton, Republican and Fusion candidate in the only congressional race in the city, was the apparent victor in the Seventeenth district. He was running 8 to 5 over his nearest opponent, a Democrat.

Another Republican.

Lewis K. Rockefeller, Republican of Hudson, defeated Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker, Democrat of Woodstock, for election as representative in congress from the 27th district. Mr. Rockefeller was elected on a platform of opposition to the Roosevelt administration's policies. He will fill the unexpired term of the late Representative Philip S. Goodwin of Coxsackie.

Soon after his election had been conceded Dewey tonight promised a complete reorganization of the Manhattan prosecutor's office. Manhattan and New York county are the same territorially.

Win Con Con Delegation.

Republicans won eight of fifteen contests for delegates at large for next April's constitutional convention and an indicated maority of the 153 district delegates from the fifty-one senatorial districts of the state. Among the Democratic district delegates elected in Manhattan were former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, who took no active part in the current campaign, and John F. Curry, former head of Tammany.

Voters also ballotted on numerous judgeships in Manhattan and one in the state, on six constitutional amendments, and one proposition for a 40 million dollar bond issue to construct state institutions. Success of two amendments to increase the term of office of the governor and assemblymen was believed assured at a late hour.

VIRGINIA NAMES JAMES H. PRICE TO GOVERNORSHIP

Richmond, Va., Nov. 2.—(AP)—James H. Price, present lieutenant governor and Richmond Democrat, exceeding the expressed hopes of his supporters, tonight had a lead of almost 5 to 1 over J. Powell Royall, his Republican opponent for governor of Virginia.

With 779 out of 1,704 precincts reported Price had received 64,483 votes to 13,507 for Royall and had taken several areas which even he had considered his opponent's territory. Donald Burke, communist, had 446 votes, and Dr. J. A. Edgerton, Prohibitionist, 390.

Bill Fields Sticks Hot End of Cigar in Mouth

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Comedian W. C. Fields was treated at Paramount Studio hospital this afternoon after sticking the kerosene soaked end of a cigar in his mouth by mistake. The cigar had been intended for a comedy scene in which it was to blaze high and frighten other actors. Fields mistook the two ends of his smoke. His nose, throat, and mouth were treated, and production on "Big Broadcast of 1938" was canceled for some hours when the actor complained he was unable to catch his breath or to talk.

SENATOR MOORE PILES UP LEAD FOR GOVERNOR

New Jersey G. O. P. Rival Polls Big Vote.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 3 [Wednesday].—(AP)—United States Senator A. Harry Moore piled up an apparently insurmountable lead in his bid to become New Jersey's first three term governor.

With 2,935 of the state's 3,654 districts reported, Moore was far ahead of his Republican opponent, the Rev. Lester H. Clee of Newark.

The vote was: Moore, 594,428; Clee, 532,906.

Moore gained his lead in Democratic Hudson county, where Frank Hague, Jersey City mayor and Democratic state leader, predicted Moore's plurality would top his best previous performance of 133,000.

In 524 of Hudson's 653 districts Moore received 163,443 votes to Clee's 47,909.

Clee fell far behind his expectations in the first two counties to report complete returns. In his own Essex county, where he won election to the state assembly and senate in a "clean government" reform movement and where he expected 50,000 majority, he received only 14,069. In nearby Union county, where he hoped for at least 8,000 majority, the final returns gave him only 3,509.

Indications after midnight were that the Democrats, who had seventy-four seats in the last assembly to seventy-six for the Republicans, would lose eleven seats, widening the Republican balance of power to eighty-seven seats—with perhaps one or two more seats to be lost by the Democrats.

LEADERS OPPOSE HOOVER'S PLAN FOR G.O.P. PARLEY

County Committee Votes Against '38 Convention.

Joseph W. Martin Jr.

Both Congressman Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, and the Cook county Republican central committee expressed opposition yesterday to the holding of a 1938 off-season party convention. The committee voted 64 to 8 against the proposal at a meeting in the Hotel La Salle.

Mr. Martin, in Chicago to attend a meeting of the Republican national committee on Friday, announced he would issue a formal statement today giving his reasons for opposing the convention proposal, which has the backing of former President Herbert Hoover and also of John Hamilton, national chairman.

Hamilton Due Today.

Hamilton is due to arrive in Chicago today to attend preliminary conversations. At Friday's meeting, it was announced, discussion will be confined strictly to committee members or those who hold their proxies.

Congressman Martin and many other Republican leaders are said to oppose the convention idea on the ground that a declaration of party principles before the congressional election next year would have different effects in different states, possibly to the detriment of some Republican candidates. They feel that the chances are good for increasing the party delegation in the lower house.

Little Value Seen.

The Cook county committee, in its resolution, declared: "A program or policies formulated so far in advance of a presidential election would be of little or no value to our country or to the Republican party."

The committee also voted down a resolution presented by Committeeman James B. Waller of the 43d ward urging the holding of Saturday afternoon meetings with representatives of civic groups to consider suitable timber for a county slate. The committee decided to meet again soon after Dec. 1 to take up the county candidate problem.

Eight hundred friends and supporters of former United States Senator Charles S. Deneen held a rally yesterday in the Morrison hotel. Deneen and other leaders urged harmony in next year's campaigns.

BALLOT SENT FROM SOUTH TIES ELECTION FOR TOWN SUPERVISOR

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—An absentee voter's ballot, traveling all the way from Mississippi, changed the town of Boston's supervisor election today from a one vote victory for the Republicans into a deadlock between Howell Drake, G. O. P. nominee, and Joseph N. Wittmeyer, Democratic candidate.

Drake had a lead of one when the long distance ballot was opened by election officials. It was marked for Wittmeyer.

The tie vote left election officials in doubt as to what procedure they would follow. They indicated the state officials at Albany may decide or a special election may be called.

Couple Die in Apparent Relapse of Food Poisoning

Michael Matousek and his wife Mary died in their home, 2740 South Sacramento boulevard, yesterday, apparently from food poisoning. They became ill Saturday with their son, Joseph, 16 years old, and were taken to the county hospital. Matoūsek was discharged from the hospital the following day, and his wife and son were released Monday. The parents apparently suffered a sudden relapse, but Joseph showed no signs of recurring illness last night. Inquests are to be held today.

Cab Driver Is Bitten During Trafic Quarrel

Somebody bit Louis Somogyi, 29 years old, 6112 Blackstone avenue, on his right ear during a street fight after a trafic snarl at 63d street and Cottage Grove avenue last night. Somogyi, a Yellow cab driver, accused Henry Winner, 34 years old, 6039 Cottage Grove avenue, of doing the biting. Winner denied it. His brother, Mack, 37 years old, who also took part in the fight, also denied doing any biting. Disorderly conduct charges were placed against all three men.

VILLAGERS STAGE TORCH MARCH TO ROOSEVELT HOME

Celebrate Minor Victory at Hyde Park Polls.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Elated by a minor political triumph, village neighbors of President Roosevelt tonight staged their annual torchlight procession to the doors of his estate.

"It's been a grand party," Mr. Roosevelt beamed, "we've got to stage one next year."

"We'll have a good one in 1940," a member of the crowd shouted.

The President laughed off the jibe.

Celebrate a Reëlection.

The villagers gathered to celebrate the reëlection of Elmer Van Wagner, the first Democratic head of the village government in forty years, as town supervisor, and the election by one vote of Cecil Marshall as town highway superintendent.

Four other Democratic candidates went down to defeat, and what was more bitter to the President was the defeat by 2,000 votes of his friend, Edward F. Conger, in a race against Daniel J. Gleason, Dutchess county Republican leader who has twice carried the county against the President. Gleason was reëlected surrogate judge, a post he has held 24 years.

Several hundred villagers joined in the torchlight parade which had only three torches.

Mother with President.

The President stood at the head of the porch steps. Behind him was his 83 year old mother.

"I'm glad because the election proved that Democrats can win on a warm sunshiny day," he said.

As the President completed his brief remarks, some one in the crowd called out: "What about 1940?"

"Elmer here has to run in '39," Mr. Roosevelt replied, referring to Elmer Van Wagner.

After both victorious candidates thanked the villagers the paraders turned about and marched homeward, passed the town hall where Mr. Roosevelt voted in the morning, giving his occupation as a "farmer." His claim to the title lies in the fact he raises Christmas trees.

SON JIMMY SPENDS SECOND DAY ON DUTY IN LISTENING POST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—James Roosevelt, the President's son and $10,000 a year secretary, listened to the complaints and woes of eight government officials today in his second day as "clearing house" for his father.

Ensconsed in a big office just across the lobby from the President's quarters in the White House executive wing, the younger Roosevelt received the official calls at the rate of one every half hour. He was placed in the post as a "buffer" between the President and eighteen emergency and independent agencies of the government. He started on his new duties yesterday.

Director Robert Fechner of the Civilian Conservation corps expressed satisfaction at the plan as he emerged from a talk with the President's son. dent's son.

A similar tack was taken by Abner H. Ferguson, acting federal housing administrator, who said in the past officials had "found the going pretty rough" when they tried to bring matters to the attention of the White House.

PICKETING IS HELD LEGAL, ALTHOUGH NO STRIKE EXISTS

Union May Act to Obtain Members, Judge Holds.

In a decision applauded by labor leaders, Judge John Prystalski ruled yesterday that a labor union may picket a place of business — even though no strike has been called there — in order to induce workers to join the union organization. The ruling pointed out, however, that such picketing must be peaceful.

Daniel Carmell.

This finding, Judge Prystalski declared, is in accordance with the Illinois labor anti - injunction law passed in 1925. The judge declared the intention of the legislature obviously was to supply labor unions with peaceable instruments through which workers may be urged to join.

Decision Upsets Precedent.

Hitherto courts have held that peaceful picketing is legal only where a labor controversy exists, and have enjoined it unless employés were striking. Judge Prystalski's decision upsets this precedent.

The case grew out of a petition for an injunction filed by the Southtown Food market, 7816 Halsted street, against the Retail Clerks' International Protective association, an A. F. of L. affiliate. Attorneys for the market owners asked a court order to prevent picketing on the grounds no strike existed.

This petition was filed Sept. 9, and on that day Judge Joseph Burke issued a temporary restraining order pending final settlement of the case. On the following day Attorney Daniel A. Carmell, counsel for the Chicago and Illinois federations of labor, won a dissolution of the temporary order.

Workers Return in Strike.

The case went to trial last week before Judge Prystalski. Testimony was that on Sept. 4 the union called a strike at the market, but all employés but two returned to work the following day. The owners then declared that no strike existed.

Carmell argued that the legislature intended that peaceful picketing was permissible under any circumstances, as a means of gaining union members, an argument Judge Prystalski's opinion upheld.

John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, said of the ruling:

"This is the biggest thing that has happened for labor in Illinois in many years. The proper sphere of an injunction is to prevent irreparable damage. The injunction has been applied in labor disputes where it actually had no right.

"The Illinois Supreme court several years ago said peaceful picketing was constitutional, but still employers invoked the injunction as their final weapon. Now under this decision they can no longer do this."

Olander Hails Decision.

Victor A. Olander, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Federation of Labor, said he regarded the ruling as of great importance.

"I think the decision is an additional recognition of the right of publicity," Olander said. "Groups of working people having grievances frequently possess no means of indicating the nature of their difficulties in a public way other than to appear on the streets to tell about it.

"It simply is a recognition of the principle of a free press extended to the very humble and poor and placed within means available to them."

YOU SHALL ADDRESS EDWARD 'SIR,' BUT FOR WIFE 'MA'AM' IS O. K.

New York, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The British ambassador has made it clear to Americans who might encounter the duke of Windsor that he is to be addressed as "sir" but it was left to a press representative of the couple to announce today the proper salutation for the duchess.

Just plain "ma'am" will do, said this authority, but he intimated the duke prefers "your highness" or, among friends, "Wallis." He does not like the nickname, "Wally."

Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay, who returned to America from England yesterday, called the Windsors a "royal couple."

FATAL SHOOTING AS KENTUCKY CASTS ITS VOTES

Killing in Morgan, Troops Rule Harlan County.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Shootings and disturbances in two eastern Kentucky counties marked an otherwise quiet off year general election today. Unfavorable weather caused a light vote.

State police and national guardsmen patroled Harlan county tonight following the arrest earlier of High Sherif T. R. Middleton, three of his deputies, and thirty-one precinct election officials. State police declined to reveal the charges, if any, that have been placed against the men.

At Wrigley, in Morgan county, near Harlan, Constable Robert Whitt was killed and Elize Perry probably fatally wounded during shooting at a voting booth.

Early returns from 130 precincts out of 4,310 in a special election gave Attorney General Hubert Meredith, Democrat, 11,713 to 4,834 for his Republican opponent, G. Tom Hawkins. The returns were from twenty-eight of the state's 120 counties, with only one complete.

Heavy majorities against two proposed constitutional amendments — one to permit the state legislature to consolidate city and county governments and the other providing for the submission of more than two amendments to the voters at one time—were reported.

Democrats to Rule.

The Democrats were practically assured of a majority in the general assembly. With the lower house's entire 100 seats up, 43 Democrats were unopposed compared with 11 Republicans. In the Senate the Democrats have no opposition in 11 districts while the Republicans are unopposed in only one. Eight seats were being contested. There are 18 holdover senators—ten Democrats and eight Republicans.

BRITISH ENVOY GIVES CUE TO BE NICE TO EDWARD

Now Windsors Will Get a State Dinner.

mation that, according to a widely held theory, cost him his throne.

The British Labor press, however, evinced so much enthusiasm over the Edwardian model housing interest that the powers began to take alarm. Soon King George and most of the members of his family were journeying here and there to be photographed viewing British model housing. They weren't going to let the duke get away with that stuff.

Puts Roosevelt in a Jam.

President Roosevelt found himself in a tight place. He didn't want to offend the British government, with which he likes to coöperate in international affairs. If he should help the duke to capitalize a political venture he might be helping to overturn the British throne. For on both sides of the water there were visions of the British populace rising up some time and calling back the duke and Wally to rule over them, because "something must be done about this."

From British coolness American officials took their cue until the embassy warmed up to the Windsors today.

Sir Ronald conferred with acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles this afternoon on plans for the Windsors' reception. It was stated that the President had given personal instructions to the protocol division to help the Windsors with their American itinerary. They are to remain in Washington 36 hours. Edward is expected to broadcast a greeting to America from the capital Nov. 12. All networks are expected to carry the speech, his first since the abdication, about 6 p. m. Chicago time.

WINDSOR TO BRING ONLY SMALL STAF ON AMERICAN TRIP

[Chicago Tribune Press Ser 'ce.]

PARIS, Nov. 2.—When the duke and duchess of Windsor sail to the United States they will leave behind them the duchess' devoted secretary, Mrs. Bedford, and their two scotties, it was learned today. Mrs. Bedford will play nurse to the dogs at her little cottage in suburban Le Vesinet.

Only the duke's equerry, Dudley Forwood; his bodyguard, Inspector David Storrier; one maid, and one valet will leave with the duke and duchess on the Bremen Nov. 6.

The duke and duchess will be dinner and concert guests of Ambassador William S. Bullittt at the United States embassy here Thursday. The duke inspected workmen's housing projects in Paris slums today in the district known as "The Zone" outside the ancient fortifications in the northwest part of the city. He was also shown one of the shacks in the district as a horrible example of what the city is replacing with modern apartments.

HOUSE PARTY TO BE GIVEN FOR WINDSORS BY RIDGELYS NOV. 19

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The first strictly social function which the duke and duchess of Windsor will attend in the United States will be a house party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ridgely III., near Baltimore, Md., it was reported today.

The Ridgely party will start on Friday, Nov. 19, eight days after the duke and duchess arrive. It will be a week-end affair, extending through until Monday. The Ridgelys have an elaborate home in the suburbs of Baltimore.

Previous to that event, however, there will be official receptions of a diplomatic nature.

"SINCE"

"Since it relieved our coughs four years ago, we get REM whenever there's a need for a cough medicine."

Mrs. Walter W. Brown
1604 W. Oak St., Louisville, Ky.

Here's Why:

Mrs. Brown's enthusiasm is shared by thousands . . . REM is so good that delighted users are glad to pass the good word along. There are definite reasons why REM is so effective and brings relief so quickly:

(1) REM is made specifically for coughs resulting from colds.

(2) REM is a real cough medicine, not just a "tickle stopper."

(3) REM is thorough because it works two ways . . . not only in the throat, but also systemically. That's what makes it so very much more effective.

So if you have a cough resulting from a cold, don't fool around with it! Go after it with a real cough medicine like REM.

BANDIT, OFFICER SHOT TO DEATH IN MILWAUKEE

Safe Robbers Surprised; Cashier Tortured.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—[Special.] —In a hand to hand gun fight with a band of Chicago robbers at the Luick dairy near the heart of town tonight a detective and a bandit were killed, two policemen were wounded, and one of the robbers was captured. Three of the gunmen escaped.

Fred Reardon.

The gang obtained the combination to the safe by torturing the dairy cashier at his home, where they left him and his wife bound, gagged, and under guard. But they were frustrated in obtaining the safe's contents of $5,000 by the arrival of two police squads.

Once Known as Society Bandit.

On information obtained from the captured gunman, Fred Reardon, an ex-convict, once known as a Chicago society bandit, Chicago police watched all Milwaukee trains for the three fugitives. Reardon said the gang planned the robbery in a Chicago saloon on West Madison street.

The dead men were City Detective George Raabe, 42 years old, father of six children, and Edward Leonard, alias Atkins. Policemen Cecil Daugherty and Charles Smith suffered minor wounds. Reardon, who said he lived at the Sheridan Plaza hotel in Chicago, identified the other robbers as Thomas Ryan, James Adams, and James Johnson, all of Chicago.

At 7:25 p. m., three men knocked on the door of the dairy [at 1132 North 6th street], which is owned by the National Dairy company chain, of New York. Lloyd McCarthy and Edward Hoegler, late workers, opened the door as the three gunmen pushed inside.

Carries Combination.

One of the thugs, who carried the combination of the safe written on a piece of paper, squatted on the floor and began twiddling the dial. His companions covered the two workers.

Their entrance had been seen by a neighbor woman who called police headquarters. Raabe, his partner, George Legge, and Daugherty were the first policemen to arrive.

As they crashed in the front door the robbers opened fire without warning. Raabe fell dead in the first blast. His partner then put a bullet through Leonard. Another squad arrived meanwhile and the shooting became general.

Although wounded in the hand, Daugherty continued firing his revolver. He and Policeman Smith succeeded in capturing Reardon in a hand to hand tussel after the bandit dropped his gun. The third robber, Ryan, escaped in the darkness.

Slugged with Revolvers.

Two hours after the shooting at the dairy police headquarters received a call from Fred Tegge, 2366 North 18th street, the tortured plant cashier.

At 7:10 p. m. Tegge answered a ring at the doorbell to be confronted by the five armed men. Calling him by name, and expressing a familiarity with the dairy and other employés, the gunmen pushed him into the bedroom.

There they slugged him twice with pistol butts, inflicting two gashes on his head. Demanding the safe combination, they continued beating him until he divulged it. Leaving two of the men on guard, the gang tied Tegge and his wife to chairs, taped their mouths, and drove to the dairy.

About 9 o'clock Tegge said the telephone rang. One of the men answered, but when he learned it was a relative of Tegge's he and his companion became frightened. Warning the Tegges not to call the police, the two outlaws dashed out the front door. Mrs. Tegge freed herself, cut her husband's bonds, and then he telephoned the police, to be told in turn of the shooting.

Inherits $310,000

Mrs. Gwendoline Lawson Proctor, who was left $310,000 in the last of twelve wills made by Harry Nott since 1893. Nott described Mrs. Proctor as a very dear friend in the will, which was upheld in Circuit court yesterday.

12 WILLS GIVING 9 WOMEN RICHES REVEALED IN SUIT

Broker's Widow Loses Fight for $500,000.

In the forty-four years between his marriage in 1893 and his death last March 13 at the age of 70, Harry Nott, an investment broker, executed twelve wills. In eight of them he bequeathed a large share of his $500,000 estate to nine women, whom he described as his dear friends.

These facts were revealed yesterday when Judge Denis J. Normoyle upheld on appeal an order of the Probate court, sustaining the last will dated Feb. 26. It left approximately $310,000 to Mrs. Gwendoline Lawson Proctor, 5524 Dorchester avenue, a divorcée, one of Nott's friends.

Nott's widow, Mrs Maude Bryant Nott, formerly a well-known clubwoman and artist, had sought to set up the validity of a reciprocal will, the first Nott drew in 1895 which left her the entire estate. Under the last will she received only one-third, her dower right.

Mrs. Nott, who is 67 years old, has been a patient of the Mateno state hospital near Kankakee since Sept. 9, 1927, six years after she won a separate maintenance decree. Attorney David J. A. Hayes, her guardian ad litem, said he will appeal on the ground that a reciprocal will can not be revoked except by mutual consent.

Will in Long Hand.

Mrs. Proctor, a modishly garbed woman with red hair, was in court but did not testify. Previously she said she had known Nott for thirteen years but that he was not in love with her. In 1927 she divorced Alexander Irwin Proctor, wealthy Canadian airplane manufacturer.

The will upheld by Judge Normoyle was written in long hand on ledger paper from C. W. McNear & Co., of which Nott was director and vice president. William J. Mulhall, 8130 Langley avenue, a bookkeeper there, and Joseph Cassels, 2729 38th street, another employé, testified as witnesses to the will.

Attorney Hayes attempted to introduce in evidence the ten other wills Nott had drawn, all of them written in long hand, but with the signature deleted. Hayes' attempt to have Mulhall identify the handwriting was balked by the court.

Loot Marian Nixon's Home of $4,500 Furs and Jewelry

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 2.—[Special.] —Entering the home of Marian Nixon, one time star of the silent screen, by climbing a trellis to a second floor window, a burglar robbed her home of furs and jewelry valued at $4,500 last night. Miss Nixon, the wife of William A. Seiter, director, told police the robbery took place while she and her husband were away.

Steady Decline in Prices Reflected in Shops.

Housewives and family budgets are getting a break. Meat is becoming cheaper. Lower prices paid by packers and wholesalers during October are now being reflected in retail butchers' prices in the city and suburbs. Beef, pork, and lamb will retail at further reductions this week.

Family pocketbooks do not get the full benefit of lower wholesale meat prices for two or three weeks after the packers slaughter the cheaper animals. A survey made by the Institute of American Meat Packers disclosed yesterday that wholesale prices of most beef, veal, and fresh pork dropped 7 to 30 per cent and live stock quotations declined 2 to 20 per cent during October.

Retail meat prices have been coming down gradually since Oct. 1. For example, loin lamb chops dropped 22 per cent in some shops, and leg of lamb fell off 14 per cent. Even with a scarcity of hogs, pork chops came down 7 per cent, and beef rib roast of the average grade and quality was reduced 17 per cent in these retail markets.

The institute's study of wholesale meat quotations shows that prices of all grades of beef dropped 7 to 24 per cent during October. Pork went down 8 to 30 per cent, and veal 10 to 15 per cent.

The reductions come in time to compensate for seasonal increase in the prices of fresh vegetables. THE TRIBUNE's weekly surveys have indicated that in most shopping centers in the Chicago area many families were following their annual custom of turning to canned goods to avoid the higher cost of fresh vegetables.

Several fresh vegetables, however, are still cheap enough for the average family. A survey of the wholesale markets showed yesterday that potatoes have come down from $1.25½ a hundred pounds on Oct. 13 to $1.08. Butter prices were also a shade lower.

TELLS VISITOR 'NO' 3 TIMES; COSTS $90 PER NO FOR NEW WINDOWS

On three afternoons in the last month a man has called on Philip Goldberg, owner of the Wide Awake Cleaners and Dyers at 103 East Ohio street, and asked him a question. Each time Goldberg has answered "No," and each night his windows were broken. Each time it cost Goldberg $90 for new windows. Goldberg last night asked Lieut. James Devereaux of the Chicago avenue police if he should say "Yes," but the police officer said he would assign a special detail as a guard. Goldberg said his visitor may be angry because he recently gave his business to another cleaning jobber.

WOUNDED BREAKING INTO SHOP.

BED-ROCK

By CALEB

SOMETIMES in the past year or so, when there has been much discussion of the Constitution of the United States and its flexibility—or its inelasticity—we have thought of store policy and store traditions from the same standpoint.

Our own conviction is that the Constitution, which has been flexible and elastic enough to sanction our vast growth from a crude pioneer people to this complex present, is sufficiently flexible to cover future contingencies. Under it, we believe an almost social "millennium" could ultimately evolve—with the nation still safeguarded from miscarriages which might result in tyranny, oppression, and rank class distinctions.

Likewise, we have a firm conviction that the old, cherished ideals which have long been the background against which this store has worked out its current programs from year to year can remain unchallenged and never handicap us one whit.

We observe a strange fact in business and in politics. We observe it among men and among women. That is this: A certain percentage of the population seems incapable of building any kind of activity with continuity and consistent regard for underlying principles. That percentage of the people persistently tends to cut off the arm to amputate fingers. If a room in a building burns, they would destroy the building to be rid of the char.

The tradition of great businesses is somewhat different. The philosophy of men who carry great business responsibilities is somewhat different. They know that social and public wealth and progress have their sources in laborious production. There is little stimulus to consistent productive effort in connection with anything unstable—or lacking in foundation.

Thus, sound thinking suggests that change, reformation, modification, and alteration are best when on a framework of something stable and unchanging. They are likely to be constructive only when they are firmly squared with a deeply abiding set of principles or ideals which serve as foundation bed-rock.

We aim to keep our store modern and moving, but always on the Marshall Field bed-rock of maintenance of principles.

9 POWER PARLEY TO SEND JAPAN NEW PEACE PLEA

called on Spaak, elected him chairman, despite his protests and fixed the program for tomorrow. On his return Eden saw Koo.

The way the British, French and Americans have formed a triumvirate to assume the leadership of the conference was the outstanding feature of the day and probably will be the outstanding feature of the conference. Litvinov arrived at 5:40 p. m. but, as the Russians sourly remarked later, the big three could not wait forty minutes to become the big four.

Minor Friction Arises.

Although the British, French and Americans were able to agree on procedure today, even this agreement required some effort. Davis, for instance, had to argue Eden and Delbos into making speeches tomorrow so as not to leave him out on the limb. Whereas he has been working on his speech for several days, they had not even started to prepare theirs.

The conference for the British press likewise revealed that there had been plain speaking by Davis to Eden with regard to the treatment of the story of the conference in the British press, and particularly the information furnished American correspondents in London by the British foreign office.

The British press spokesman, it was reported, told British correspondents that Eden had found the position of the American delegation "considerably in advance of American public opinion." He therefore warned them, it was reported, against writing anything which might arouse the apprehensions of the American public.

Davis and Delbos Disagree.

There is, also, a trace of disagreement between the Americans and the French. Delbos, before seeing Davis, had told the French press that the conference would not last more than four days. He indicated that it would adjourn as soon as an appeal had been sent to Japan. Davis, on the contrary, insisted that the conference must not waste time waiting for a Japanese answer and therefore opposed a long adjournment.

Whether these differences of opinion mean anything or not is hard to say. On the other hand, it does not mean that the Americans, French, and British are not in complete agreement as to the fundamental purpose of the conference—conciliation between China and Japan and the impossibility of any coercive action at this time. Every one is in agreement on that.

What is striking is the identical blank faces which the members of the three delegations turn toward their newspapermen, the absence of any leaks or inspired speculation, the uniform pessimism, and the identical insistences that no action will be taken against Japan.

Queer Action for Diplomats.

Usually diplomats on the eve of a big international conference are eager to make correspondents think that great dramatic and constructive actions are going to emerge from their consultations. This time they get indignant if any one suggests such a thing.

If a French or British or American correspondent then asks: "What are we here for?" the answer is a shrug. If the correspondent points out that during the Manchurian crisis in 1932 the possibility of calling a nine power treaty conference was discussed between the British and Americans and abandoned because it was felt nothing could come of it, he is asked the address of a good restaurant.

It is all very striking.

Widowed by Killer.

MRS. CHIN JACK LAM.

Police sought clews yesterday to the murder of Chin Jack Lam, wealthy Chinese restaurant owner and former tong leader, in ill feeling between him and members of the local organization collecting funds for Chinese war relief. Chin, who was 61 years old, was shot by an unidentified assassin Monday night near a vacant lot at 209 West Cermak road.

Chin was reported to have donated $750 to the Chinese war fund at Washington, D. C., and to have refused a $1,000 contribution to the war fund of the Chicago On Leongs, the tong of which he was once national president. One of Chin's eight sons, a Lewis institute student who calls himself Robert Chan, told police his father would make no contribution to the local organization because it did not coöperate with him. An inquest into the slaying was opened yesterday and continued to Dec. 7.

Police do not believe the On Leong tong or its rival, the Hip Sing tong, were involved in the slaying. There have been no recent feuds between the two factions.

truth." First he described how he, Doxey and Minella saw Lee in a saloon with Lucille Buehler, blonde party girl, and followed the couple when they went to walk in Grant park.

"Doxey stayed in the car because the girl knew him," Sapienza continued. "Minella and I walked up behind them and said 'This is a stick-up.' Lee got tough and there was a fight. I fired one shot. It hit Minella while he and Lee were on the ground. Then I tried to hit Lee with the butt of the revolver but the safety catch wasn't set and the gun went off accidentally, killing Lee."

The murder victim, part owner of an Evanston meat market, had used the name of Herbert F. Burns after deserting a wife and child in Detroit and had lived for years under the assumed name with another woman.

Miss Buehler, suspected of knowing the holdup was to be committed, was later released. Indictments were returned on Oct. 6 against the three men. The trial is scheduled to begin Friday.

PRESIDENT LEADS U.S. INTO TROUBLE ABROAD, SAYS NYE

President Roosevelt is leading the nation into trouble, not seeking to avoid it, and now it appears that the United States is headed directly for another foreign war. Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.], gave this warning yesterday in a luncheon address before the Rotary club in the Hotel Sherman.

"The remarks made by Anthony Eden, Britain's foreign secretary, who disclosed on Monday that the United States was the leader in promoting the nine power conference over the war in China," said Senator Nye, "put a very bad fruit into the lap of the Rooseveltian administration."

"In the Brussels conference we're going to advise other nations to stop doing business with Japan but continue with China. In the end Europe will leave it to the United States to police Japan alone."

Senator Nye said that the possibility of another general European was is great, with mad and reckless leaders governing in Europe.

"SHEER DISHPAN MAGIC"—SAY WOMEN

Of This Amazing Soap That Melts Grease So Fast, Dishes Almost Wash Themselves

Now comes a revolutionary new soap to end the dishpan slavery every woman detests and dreads. A soap that melts grease with such miraculous speed that dishes "fairly wash themselves." Yet so easy on hands that thousands use nothing else for washing dishes 3 times a day.

Developed by Procter & Gamble at a cost of over $1,000,000, OXYDOL is the result of a remarkable formula that makes mild, gentle soap 2 to 3 times more efficient. Melts grease 25% faster than less modern soaps.

That is why so many women say it often cuts their dishwashing time in half. One quick wipe and dishes gleam—glassware sparkles like jewels! Yet you never need fear the rough, red hands caused by ordinary harsh soaps.

OXYDOL is particularly economical for dishwashing. Tests against popular package soaps show that, cup for cup, OXYDOL gives 28% to 60% MORE SUDS! And one package often goes ⅓ to ½ again as far as even the most modern flakes!

So try OXYDOL for dishwashing. You'll be amazed how much time and drudgery it saves—how soft it leaves your hands. Get a package today! Procter & Gamble.

JAP SHELLS RUIN U.S. HOMES IN RICH SHANGHAI SUBURB

Battle Rages in Rain at Edge of Foreign Area.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 3.—[Wednesday]—(AP)—Japanese, attempting to cross Soochow creek in large numbers and encircle Shanghai, today forced the fighting in the battle for Hungjao, fashionable residential suburb west of the international settlement.

Dozens of American and other foreign residences in the suburb were in constant danger from shells pouring into the area from Japanese batteries on the north side of the creek. Several were demolished by direct hits.

The Hungjao battle veered toward the Siccawei mission center on the southwestern outskirts of the French concession.

Japanese Stretch Lines.

Foreign observers reported that the Japanese had stretched their line for about a mile each side of Rubicon village on the south bank of Soochow creek.

All American faculty members had been evacuated from the vicinity of St. John's university, whose campus was between the Chinese and Japanese positions.

Ten Americans in a group of 120 foreign priests continued caring for 8,000 refugees at the Saccawei mission. Negotiations among French, Chinese, and Japanese officials were under way to establish a neutral zone around its properties, which include a cathedral, convent, and observatory.

A Japanese spokesman announced negotiations also were in progress for the demilitarization of Nantao, Shanghai's old Chinese quarter adjacent to the French concession.

Under unusually heavy artillery fire, the Chinese tore up sections of the Shanghai-Hangchow railroad, apparently to prevent Japanese use of the Jessfield bridge for armored trains.

U. S. Flagship Periled.

The United States cruiser Augusta, lying close to the Japanese flagship, the cruiser Idzumo, in the Whangpoo river, cleared her decks and closed her portholes during a Japanese naval bombardment of Pootung, industrial area opposite the international settlement.

Japanese shells whistled along the Shanghai waterfront close to the Augusta during an attack on Chinese batteries in Pootung.

Six Japanese planes reconnoitered far inland over railroad lines in Hunan province of North China. Reports to Hongkong also said five Chinese were put to death for guiding Japanese air raiders with rockets during night attacks on South China cities.

Japs Advance in Shansi.

PEIPING, Nov. 2.—(AP)—A Japanese army statement tonight reported a column operating in east Shansi province had thrust forward another five miles along the Cheng-Tai railroad. The advance, the statement said, brought Japan's soldiers to within forty-five miles of Taiyuanfu, provincial capital.

Domei [Japanese] news agency reported that the Japanese spearhead had captured the city of Shouyang, thirty-seven miles from Taiyuanfu, and were on the edge of the flat plain that lies around the capital. The Japanese column driving southward from Sinchow in north Shansi was unreported.

Japanese officials recounted an attack Sunday by several hundred Chinese soldiers on a flotilla of Japanese hospital boats moving down the Taching river to Tientsin in Hopei province. Ten boats carrying 300 wounded Japanese soldiers, the Japanese said, were ambushed by the Chinese who attacked the craft with machine guns and trench mortars. The battle raged for five hours before Japanese reinforcements arrived from Paotingfu to drive off the Chinese forces.

U. S. ASKS $261,709 TAX FROM ESTATE OF MRS. LASKER

A claim for $261,709 in income tax and interest against the estate of Mrs. Flora W Lasker, who died Dec. 19, 1936, was filed in Lake county Probate court at Waukegan yesterday by Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue. Mrs. Lasker was the wife of Albert D. Lasker, president of the Lord & Thomas Advertising agency and former chairman of the United States shipping board. Harrison asserts that income taxes totaling $185,898.61 are owed for 1929, 1930, and 1931, and that the accrued interest is $75,810.43.

PALESTINE ARAB REVOLT SPREADS TO TRANSJORDAN

Palace of Governor Is Attacked by Mob.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Disorders are continuing in Palestine between the Arabs and Jews and the trouble there is assuming daily more and more the aspect of a full fledged Arab uprising against British control of the country. This is revealed by information reaching here through the openly declared censorship of news in Jerusalem and other Holy Land towns.

British authorities, already worried about the situation in the near east, where the decline of their prestige in the Arab world is marked, fear now that Reichsfuehrer Hitler's reported plan to denounce all the mandates of the league of nations will stir up the Arabs anew and further aggravate the difficulties in Palestine, especially if Premier Mussolini of Italy supports the mandate denunciation.

Arab Leaders Dissatisfied.

The Daily Telegraph's correspondents in the near east recently have reported that the British power does not carry the weight it used to and that the Arab leaders along the shores of the Persian gulf are dissatisfied.

Little news of the daily clashes between Jews and Arabs in Palestine gets into the British press. The Italian press has been devoting much space to reports of the Palestine troubles.

Italian reports that British soldiers were blowing up Arab houses as preventive measures against terrorist acts have roused much resentment here.

Report Transjordan Revolt.

Indicating that the Arab revolt against the British is expanding, it was reported today that there had been an uprising in Transjordan. Armed demonstrators attacked a military barracks in North Transjordan, and also the governor's palace.

The uprising was said to have been directed against the Amir Abdullah Ibn Hussein, head of the Arab administration of Transjordan, who is known to be friendly with the British.

Acute as the situation is, the British have not yet declared martial law in Palestine nor sent further military reinforcements to the division dispatched there a year ago under Lieut. Gen. J. G. Dill. They are, however, taking energetic steps to deal with the disorders, which menace the security of communications and of the empire.

First of all the British are trying to repair the gaps in their police efficiency in Palestine. They maintain that much of the terrorist activity has been inspired and carried out by radical Arab secret societies.

There have been so many murders in the intelligence service, however, that it no longer works with its usual efficiency and the British cannot lay hands on the fomenters of the disorders so easily.

To reorganize this service and to handle other matters, apparently, the colonial office is sending Sir Charles Tegart of the Bengal police on a mission to Palestine. Tegart is known as a "tough hombre." He cleaned up terrorist activities in Bengal.

U. S. PROFESSOR SEES REVOLT IN JAPAN IF WAR IS NOT WON SOON

MANILA, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Dr. Francis H. Rose of Central Philippine college today said observers in Tokio had told him Japan "hasn't a leg to stand on" financially after three months of warfare in China.

Dr. Rose, of Norwichtown, Conn., forecast a revolt in Japan if the war is not won soon. He reported unrest among business men because the government is commandeering their property, chiefly trucks.

Taxation, he said, has reached the saturation point. The national chamber of commerce is asking contributions totaling $578,600,000, promising the war will be won by Jan. 1.

50 CHILDREN DIE AS BOMBERS RAID LOYALIST TOWN

Spanish Rebel War Planes Take Toll of 120.

MADRID, Nov. 2.—(AP)—A Spanish government communique tonight reported that 120 persons, including fifty children, were killed during a rebel air raid on Lerida, seventy-five miles west of Barcelona. Several hundred were injured.

Arrow locates Spanish loyalist city bombed by rebel planes.

Nine huge bombing planes roared over the city in the late afternoon just as children were being dismissed from school. Explosion after explosion occurred as the planes dropped a shower of bombs.

One bomb scored a direct hit on a primary school. Rescue workers had pulled the bodies of fifty children from the demolished structure tonight and the search was still not finished.

Struck by Flying Fragments.

The communique said people ran in panic through the streets in a desperate effort to find shelter. Flying bomb fragments mowed them down.

Though 120 bodies have been recovered, the government dispatches asserted there probably would be many more, making the casualty list one of the greatest of the war's bombing exploits.

Lerida is a city of 43,000 population. It is a key in the government's defense of Catalonia. It is only about seventy miles from Saragossa, rebel stronghold on the Aragon front.

Artillery Shells Madrid.

Rebel Gen. Francisco Franco has been reported concentrating troops at Saragossa in preparation for the greatest offensive of the war in an effort to capture Barcelona.

In Madrid two children were killed and a dozen other persons injured by shelling that continued at long intervals tonight.

Valencia, which is being evacuated by government officials, received a visit from Britain's battleship Hood. The Hood is returning to Malta from Barcelona, where it went to investigate the sinking of the British freighter Jean Weems. British officers refused to reveal what their investigation disclosed.

Mail from Missing Plane Found Floating at Sea

CASABLANCA, Morocco, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Native fishermen today found sacks floating off Cape Cantin containing South American mail carried by a Dakar-Casablanca plane missing since last Wednesday. French officials said search for the plane, carrying one passenger and a crew of five, had been fruitless.

Accept This Library of Immortal Masterpieces that have moved millions to laughter and tears
THEY ARE YOURS—PRACTICALLY A GIFT!

ACCEPT them today — these 20 books — Yours practically for the asking—They are a treasure beyond price, because Dickens wrote not merely for his own time but for today, tomorrow, and all time to come. Dickens wrote not for a single nation, but for all humanity—not for one generation but for all future mankind.

What a marvelous library of good reading to have in YOUR home; David Copperfield, Oliver Twist, Pickwick Papers, Dombey and Son, Martin Chuzzlewit, A Tale of Two Cities, Barnaby Rudge, The Old Curiosity Shop, The Mystery of Edwin Drood—these are only a few of the great Dickens novels whose names are familiar to every one.

And what an astounding gallery of characters are brought to life in the pages of these grand books; Mr. Micawber, the Pecksniffs, Old Scrooge, Bill Sykes, Sam Weller, Jerry Cruncher, Captain Cuttle, Uriah Heep, Sarah Gamp, Mrs. Nickelby, Susan Nipper, The Marchioness, Little Nell, and hundreds of others—characters you may hate or love, but can never forget.

Words more true were never written than: "Once a reader of Dickens, always a reader of Dickens"—for his enchanting novels and stories can be read over and over again. Every man, every woman, should read everything Dickens ever wrote, for in his writing is revealed clearly the true heart of humanity. Every father, every mother, should put these great masterpieces in the hands of their children, for few, if any, writers knew and loved children so well.

EVERY WORD DICKENS EVER WROTE

Make no error—although practically a gift, this is no collection of extracts but the original masterpieces in all their grandeur—authentic and unabridged. Not a word has been cut. Not a comma altered. Each sentence is as the author wrote it.

And the print is as clear as you could ever wish. Every word has been set from new, clear-faced type . . . crisp and clean.

The entire edition is richly illustrated with the famous original illustrations personally approved by the author himself.

Printed throughout on specially selected opaque paper, the complete library contains over 13,000 pages, more than 8,000,000 words, and weighs over 35 lbs. Each volume measures 7⅛ inches deep by 5 inches wide.

The twenty volumes are being distributed as they come—straight from the presses—in ten sets of two volumes each.

Each set is listed above. Look at the titles of these great works now. Few possessions that you can ever secure for your home will bring you and your family more permanent happiness.

And now here is further good news for you! This Library is being specially produced in TWO SUPERB EDITIONS!

The Regular Edition is bound in stiff covers of lustrous pebble-grained maroon cloth and panel black stamping. The titles and decorative borders are embossed in gold, and every book is handsomely finished on the front with elegant embossing.

All you are asked to pay if you wish to secure the Regular Edition is the very small sum of only 67 cents for each two volume set together with six differently numbered certificates. Not 67 cents for each volume—but 67 cents for BOTH BOOKS.

A Superbly De Luxe Edition

The special De Luxe edition is one that any connoisseur would delight to call his own! Specially designed for those book-lovers who are satisfied with only the finer materials and workmanship, they will distinguish any room—serve as a reflection of your discriminating taste. This edition is a triumph of modern book-craft — worthy indeed of the masterpieces it contains! Produced and finished in materials of unusual durability and beauty—sturdily and artistically bound in three-quarter antique-blue art calfskin—the sides matching harmoniously in pastel blue—the lettering and the rich decorative design embossed on the backings in rich red and gold — specially woven head and tail bands — heavy end papers — stippled dust-proof top edges which match the covers! Never before have these desirable books been made available to Tribune readers at anywhere near the price at which you may secure them!

And you may obtain these grand books for just a few cents more than you pay for the Regular Edition! If you prefer the De Luxe binding all you are asked to pay is $1.19 for each two volume set together with six differently numbered certificates. Not $1.19 for each volume—but $1.19 for BOTH BOOKS. You may take your choice. But—you must act at once! The number of Libraries is strictly limited! Read in the privilege voucher at the right the simple directions which govern this great good-will presentation. Clip and save the special Privilege Voucher and start saving the certificates from page 6 of the CHICAGO TRIBUNE today! Don't miss this unprecedented opportunity!

BRITAIN TO ADMIT CONSULAR STAF OF GEN. FRANCO

England to Place 'Agents' in Rebel Spain.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Great Britain has granted Gen. Francisco Franco, chief of the Spanish rebel régime, permission to send consuls to England with full consular powers and the right to fly the Spanish rebel flag. The only point not settled is the date when the agreement becomes effective, and official circles asserted this will not imply recognition of Gen. Franco.

Formal announcement of the long expected move has been delayed several times and was held up again by the sinking last week of the British owned merchant ship Jean Weems, which was bombed by a "pirate" plane miles off the Spanish coast while heading for Barcelona with food.

Will Watch British Interests.

Britain has important interests in the section of Spain held by Gen. Franco and has had at least one consular official constantly in touch with the rebels unofficially since the beginning of the Spanish civil war. Others have come and gone over the border when necessary, though they did not get the privileges of regular consuls.

American consuls who have had to deal with the rebels were unable to approach them in an official capacity or put anything in writing. Everything had to be asked for on the basis of a personal favor, which might prove useful if the Franco government later were recognized.

"Chief Agent" to Stay in Burgos.

The present plan is to appoint a British "chief agent" for Burgos [seat of the rebel civil government]. Other "agents" carrying out the duties of consuls will be placed in other key towns.

The nine powers making up the subcommittee of the "hands off Spain" group tonight decided to recommend to the main committee, which meets Thursday, that its chairman, be authorized to approach both sides in Spain and seek their agreement to the British plan for withdrawing foreign troops from the Spanish civil war.

PARAGUAY PUTS DOWN REVOLT OF ARMY GARRISON

Decrees 'State of War' in Capital.

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Nov. 2.—(AP)—A "state of war" was enforced in Asuncion, capital of Paraguay, tonight after an attempted uprising by members of the army who sought to create a dictatorship.

Arrow locates Concepcion, where army garrison revolted

Lieut. Col. Arturo Bray, chief of the Asuncion headquarters, was authorized to establish the rule, although a communique from the secretary of state said the revolt had been suppressed.

The insurrection apparently centered at Concepcion, 135 miles north of Asuncion.

[Newspaper dispatches to Buenos Aires said the government quickly gained control and the rebels surrendered unconditionally. These reports said the revolters, adherents of Col. Rafael Franco, deposed provisional president, were in one regiment of the Asuncion garrison.]

"A fraction of the army headquarters at Concepcion revolted against constitutional authorities in order to reinstall dictatorship," the secretary of state's communique said.

"The government of the republic . . . has control of the situation in the capital and has the loyalty and support of army and navy commanders to crush the revolters and punish them.

"All regiments at Asuncion are loyal and are ready to proceed on orders. The Chaco division is loyal and at its post. Order in the rest of the country has not been affected."

WASHINGTON REJECTS CUBAN INVITATION TO JOIN PARLEY ON SPAIN

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Cuba's effort to enlist United States aid in mediating the Spanish civil war failed today.

Turning down an invitation to join other American republics in a mediation effort, the state department replied that to do so would be contrary to its policy of noninterference in the affairs of foreign countries.

The note to Havana expressed confidence that Cuba would "fully appreciate" the reasons for the American stand. Last year Uruguay made a proposal like Cuba's and received a similar reply.

DELEGATES PLEAD FOR GOOD WILL IN BORDER PARLEY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Nov. 2.—Frank P. Corrigan, United States minister to El Salvador and delegate to the "good offices" commission which will undertake to settle a postage stamp row between Honduras and Nicaragua, arrived here today. He completes the commission, which is made up of representatives of the United States, Venezuela, Honduras, Nicaragua, and Costa Rica, and is to convene Thursday.

Leaders of the delegations from Honduras and Nicaragua expressed their desires for good will and preservation of the harmony of Central American nations. The dispute arose when a map on a Nicaraguan stamp included an area Honduras claims.

CHURCH LEADERS BESEECH HITLER TO END CONFLICT

Protestants Ask Right to Confer with Him.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—Leaders of the Protestant Confessional [Evangelical Lutheran] church and moderate Protestant groups have asked permission to confer with Reichsfuehrer Hitler, it was disclosed today. They hope to discuss the fate of the Protestant church with him as well as attempt to induce him to instruct Nazi ministries to work out a compromise with their churches.

The Protestants fear that continued postponement of the trial of the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, fighting leader of the Confessional movement and submarine commander in the world war, who was arrested on July 1, will further aggravate the church conflict.

Prisoners Ask for Bibles.

Niemoeller, who has been held in Moabit prison since his arrest, has won the respect and friendship of a number of officials who came in contact with him. Persons emerging from the prison reported that since the pastor's confinement prisoners, who never before paid any attention to religious matters, have begun asking for Bibles. The prison visitors said the inmates also discuss religious problems.

When examined as to why he disregarded orders of officials of the ministry for church affairs, Niemoeller replied:

"I disobeyed orders only twice in my life. The first time was in 1918 when my superior officer ordered me to take the submarine on which I had fought to Scapa Flow to be scuttled or be taken by the English. I resigned rather than carry out the order.

"I disobeyed official orders for the second time when former Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller [a Nazi appointee] forbade me to preach. I disobeyed the order because I bow to God's will and not to that of man."

Want Pastor Punished.

Radical Nazis are opposed to a compromise with Niemoeller and his associates because they see in it danger to the authoritarian rule of Hitler. They want him to be given exemplary punishment on the strength of the "high treason laws" which can be evoked "for the sake of the safety of the state." Furthermore they are demanding that the pastor be tried by a special court composed only of judges who have been Nazis for at least 10 years.

Moderate Nazis still hope for establishment of a new church constitution which will leave financial control in the hands of the government, thus enabling it to oust those who fail to obey official injunctions. They argue that Niemoeller must be forbidden to preach because "of his repeated attacks on leading members of the Nazi party."

DELAY INQUEST FOR POISON TEST.

A coroner's inquest into the death of Miss Lorraine Raushek, 23 years old, 1753 Congress street, who died Monday supposedly of poison, was continued yesterday until Nov. 23 to allow time for a chemical analysis.

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—SHAKY BUSINESS

ANNA FACES BIGGEST TEST OF HER TRIAL FOR POISON DEATHS TODAY

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—While the 11 women jurors before whom Anna Marie Hahn is on trial, the twelfth juror, John Granda, and the alternate, Fred Juergens, voted today in their home precincts, Mrs. Hahn had a day's respite in jail.

Mrs. Hahn, on trial for the arsenic murder of Jacob Wagner, elderly admirer whom she called Uncle Jake, ested from Monday's ordeal. On that day she listened to her son, Oscar, testify in her behalf and then spent hours in the witness chair herself.

When Judge Charles S. Bell, having delayed the hearing a day to allow jurors to vote, convenes court at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning Mrs. Hahn will be subjected to more cross-examination.

It is to be her battle supreme, in her desperate effort to save herself from the electric chair. If the death penalty is inflicted on her it will be the first time in the history of Ohio a woman has been sentenced to death.

FORMER CONVICT SLAIN.

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Vinton Freeman, Negro, former convict wanted for parole violation, was shot and killed last night when he attempted to escape from Detective Harry Wolf, who was taking him to a police station house for questioning.

CHICAGO HUNTER AND GUIDE DROWN WHEN BOAT TIPS

A duck hunter and a guide drowned and a second hunter made shore when a boat capsized in the Des Plaines river yesterday three miles south of Joliet. The victims were Gerald Ponsi, 23 years old, of Chicago, and Albert Singer, 17 years old, the guide, who lived on Channahon road. William Iacullo, 26 years old, 827 South Winchester avenue, the survivor, said he and Ponsi engaged Singer to take them out in his small outboard motor boat, which was overturned by waves after the motor stalled. All clung to the boat for a few minutes and then Singer and Ponsi decided to swim for shore but went down in midstream. Iacullo said Ponsi lived across the street from him in Chicago but he could not recall the house number.

BOY'S DROWNING CALLED ACCIDENT.

A verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury over Michael Riffice, 2 years old, who drowned Monday in a fish pool in the yard of his home at 7637 Greenwood avenue. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Riffice.

FOUND DEAD ON TRACKS.

Marion Cholak of Hodgkins was found dead on the right of way of the Santa Fe railroad yesterday in the village. Apparently he had been killed by a train.

ABBOTT GROUP PROMISES AID IN CAR MERGER

Ready to Modify Program, Judge Is Assured.

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

The proposed Abbott plan for reorganizing the Chicago Surface Lines can be modified to conform with Mayor Kelly's plan for rehabilitation and unification of local transportation systems here.

The Abbott committee so informed Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday and was granted an extension of time for hearing on its reorganization plan, to await completion of the city's report on the 157 million dollar modernization and extension program announced two weeks ago by Mayor Kelly. The hearing was continued to Nov. 22, when the city plan also is to be placed before the court.

Warned to Coöperate.

The willingness of the Abbott committee to make modifications in its plan for consolidating the four companies comprising the surface lines, all of which are in receivership, followed a rebuke delivered to the committee by Judge Wilkerson on Oct. 20.

He indicated to the committee then that if the Abbott group cannot get together with the city in drafting a new unification ordinance he may disapprove the reorganization plan and authorize reorganization under 77-B bankruptcy proceedings.

Hearing on a long pending minority petition for reorganization of the surface lines companies under 77-B, scheduled for yesterday, also was continued to Nov. 22.

Permit Wide Flexibility.

Mayor Sees Lorado Taft's Last Piece of Sculpture

Mayor Kelly and associates of the late Lorado Taft yesterday visited the bronze foundry at 1250 North Central Park avenue to view the last piece of work executed by the master sculptor. The statue, a ten foot figure of Dr. H. H. Cherry, president of the Western State Teachers' college at Bowling Green, Ky., is to be shipped to the college. Taft's associates present, who are carrying out various commissions in accordance with his teachings, were Leonard Crunelle, Mary Walker, and Mary Webster.

Granted Support

Mrs. Alice Shifris and her son, Donald, age 21 months.

Although Sidney Shifris, 26 years old, insisted he made only $10 a week from his automobile supplies store, Judge Philip J. Finnegan yesterday ordered him to pay $30 a week temporary alimony to his estranged wife, Alice. Mrs. Shifris' attorney, Norman Becker, said Shifris left a $125 a week job to open the store with $900 of his wife's savings and added that the store now appears to be owned by Shifris' relatives. The payments to Mrs. Shifris are for her support and that of a son, Donald, 21 months old, pending hearing of crossbills for separate maintenance. Mrs. Shifris, who is 22 years old, lives at 3728 Pine Grove avenue.

MERCURY TO GO BELOW FREEZING IN CITY TODAY

This fall's lowest temperatures are expected in Chicago today, with the mercury around 28 degrees, several degrees below freezing, according to Forecaster J. R. Lloyd.

High winds yesterday whipped through the city, swirling skirts, lifting off hats, and filling the air with dust and papers. The wind came from the Dakotas in gusts that reached fifty miles an hour, according to pilots of commercial air lines.

The temperature, which stood in the 70s Monday dropped steadily last night.

KILLS HIS WIFE AT TAVERN, THEN TAKES OWN LIFE

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Claude Scott, 34 years old, of Mishawaka shot and killed his wife, Ettie, 32, tonight, then committed suicide in an oak grove behind a roadside tavern at the city limits. She was barmaid at the tavern and recently filed suit for divorce. She was playing cards in a rear room of the tavern when her husband, an employé of the Studebaker corpoation, called her outside. He killed her with a shotgun, then, calling to the tavern patrons, shot himself. Four small children survive.

CHARGES ARIZONA SALES TAX PERILS LIBERTY OF PRESS

Lawyer Attacks New Law in Federal Hearing.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Power to control the press and "even destroy it" is given the legislature under the Arizona sales tax law, Elisha Hanson, attorney for the American Newspaper Publishers' association, contended today before a federal court tribunal.

His challenge of the statute, which levies a one per cent tax on gross incomes of newspapers, was taken under advisement by the court tonight. Hanson told the three judges that the newspapers were not attempting to escape the burden of taxation, but were defending the right of the people to a free press. He attacked the law only on the freedom of the press issue.

License Revocation Provided.

The law provides that a newspaper cannot operate beyond the twentieth day of each month without paying the tax for the preceding month. A required license can be revoked if the tax is not paid.

Hanson declared these severe conditions would grant to the legislature, if the law is upheld, the power to control the press of the state, even to the point of destroying it.

He asserted the privilege sales tax, such as the one in effect in this state, is "a condition precedent to the publication of a newspaper." If it is valid, he said, the legislature "can lay down any other condition it so desires."

Suit Seeks Injunction.

The attorney explained that the rate might be increased "even to the extent of confiscating the entire gross income of the press." The courts would have authority to review only the question of power, not the justice of the tax, in such an instance, he said.

The hearing today was on an original action brought by the publishers of the Phoenix Gazette and the Arizona Republic of Phoenix. The suit seeks an injunction against the state tax commission.

The action was begun following defeat of a similar suit in the state courts, which the United States Supreme court refused to review.

The jurisdiction of the federal court in hearing the present action was challenged by the attorney general, representing the tax commission. He based his contention on the ground the Supreme court had held no federal issue was involved.

CONVICTED MURDERER OF HUSBAND DEPRIVED OF HIS LIFE INSURANCE

Federal Judge Charles G. Briggle decided yesterday that as a matter of public policy Mrs. Mildred Bolton, who shot and killed her husband, Joseph, on June 15, 1936, is not entitled to $10,000 in insurance on his life of which she was the beneficiary. Mrs. Bolton is now serving a sentence of 199 years at the state penitentiary for women after Gov. Horner commuted her death sentence.

The court's ruling was in accordance with state and federal precedent, which holds that criminals are not entitled to gain from crimes for which they are convicted. A number of Bolton's relatives will share the policy.

300,000 IN CCC ORDERED TO BE FINGER PRINTED

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Robert Fechner, director of the Civilian Conservation corps, ordered today that the 300,000 CCC enrollees be finger printed. Fechner and his aids were the first to put their marks on record.

The prints will be placed in the noncriminal files of the federal bureau of investigation, along with those of screen actors, bankers, government officials, and others who have volunteered.

Officials said the finger printing was ordered as a means of protecting the enrollees and for identification in case of accident or amnesia.

Are your bills extra big this month?

Perhaps you've a well-earned vacation to pay for—or an emergency hospital bill—or unusual business expenses—or necessary repairs to the house.

Whenever extra or unforeseen expenses jolt your budget temporarily out of balance, it is worth remembering that the family's jewelry and other personal valuables are good loan collateral.

You can bring us a precious stone or a watch, an article of silverware or jewelry—and on that security we will make you a loan that's just as dignified and honorable as the loan any banker would make you on the collateral of stocks or bonds.

You get your money immediately; without questions, note, endorsement or any assignment of salary—and there's no need for you to borrow from friends.

Whether you borrow $1 or $5,000, the interest charge will be only 1% a month. There are no other charges of any kind whatsoever.

That rate of 1% per month is established by the Special State Pawners Law under which we are chartered. This is the only institution in Chicago regulated by that law.

Remember this important word . . . FIRST

1% a Month on any Loan from $1 to $5,000

We will lend you from $1 to $5,000 on the security of jewelry, watches, diamonds, silverware at 1% a month interest.

VEILS OF SECRECY AT BRUSSELS.

News from Geneva, Oct. 4, was: "Great Britain tonight pulled out of a hat a proposal to convoke under the league's auspices a conference of Pacific powers based on the nine power treaty. The suggestion was made by Viscount Cranborne in the subcommittee dealing with Japan's undeclared war with China."

It was added that Cranborne made the proposal in a vague form, his idea being that the league assembly should recommend to the league members that they invite other interested powers to consultations on the conflict in China. That is why the Brussels conference beginning today was opened to twenty-one rather than fourteen countries.

The day after the noble lord at Geneva had made this proposal Mr. Roosevelt stood on the new Chicago bridge and said: "The peace loving nations must make a concerted effort in opposition to those violations of treaties and those ignorings of humane instincts which today are creating a state of international anarchy from which there is no escape through mere isolation or neutrality."

He asked no one to imagine that America would escape the general catastrophe. That speech was regarded as junking the American neutrality legislation, and when it reached Geneva it was accepted as "an unmistakable bugle call for nations to rally to the defense of world order which, it was indicated, is menaced by Japan's invasion of China."

Later in the month came Neville Chamberlain, British prime minister, addressing parliament. Mr. Chamberlain turned the nozzle of a cold hose on Mr. Roosevelt's effervescence. "I suggest," said Mr. Chamberlain, "that it is a mistake altogether to go into the conference talking about economic pressure and force. We are not going there to extend the conflict."

By Monday of this week it was time for Mr. Eden, the British foreign minister, to say something on the subject to parliament. He did as follows: "It is not always easy to lift the veil of secrecy, but in this case I feel I ought to make it plain that the initiative for holding the conference never came from us at all, but from the United States government itself."

Then what about Cranborne in Geneva? Was he merely some moon-eyed individual acting on his own responsibility when he maneuvered the Japanese question over into the field of a treaty to which the United States is a signatory, or did he represent the government of Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Eden? Did the British government know in advance that Mr. Roosevelt intended to step off the bridge and did it spread out a net to receive him?

Did Mr. Roosevelt know that the European nations controling the league had decided to transfer the question to the field where the United States would be a party? Mr. Eden in lifting the veil reminded his hearers in parliament of the vital difference between a meeting of league members at Geneva and a meeting of treaty signers at Brussels. At Geneva the United States, at best, would be an observer with no part in discussions and no responsibility for decisions. At Brussels it would have to lead in both if anything at all were to be done.

There is trickery disclosed and it seems not to make much difference whether the British government undertook it before the league action and the Roosevelt speech or afterwards. Already Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Eden and Viscount Cranborne have put the United States out in front as the target. Cranborne on the open record is responsible for the calling of the meeting and the invocation of the nine power treaty.

Chamberlain is responsible for saying in effect that even if Mr. Roosevelt wants decisive action against Japan, using any kind of coercion and force, by boycott, quarantine or any other collective action of the sort, Great Britain will have nothing to do with it. Eden has said that the entire responsibility for the meeting is American and, although he promises that Great Britain will go as far as the United States, it will not be found rushing out in front.

Nearly all the serious trouble with Japan in China has been encountered by the British. Their interests are the paramount foreign interests in the field of war, not only in Shanghai but in Canton and their possessions at Hongkong. Nevertheless they have already succeeded in presenting the United States to Japan as its chief opponent responsible for the measures thus far taken and to be held responsible for anything which may come out of the Brussels conference.

If the United States government inspired Cranborne's maneuver at Geneva and is responsible for the Brussels meeting, Mr. Eden should lift more veils of secrecy. The American people might like to know the truth.

A PATRIARCH DEFENDS HIS OWN.

The southern Wisconsin village of Somers in Kenosha county produces a patriarch who is surely but slowly filling the state penitentiary and has started on a cemetery.

Of the seven robbers who in the last seven years have feloniously entered his village store, James Bullamore, now 78 years old, has captured six with his own hands and sent them to the penitentiary where they still are locked up. He has just shot and killed the latest bandit who was trying to escape with his loot when Mr. Bullamore stopped him. The last two times out he has had to resort to his old double barreled shotgun, doubtless due to a reasonable annoyance at having his sleep interrupted so frequently.

Mr. Bullamore is the type of American who in the frontier days defended their rights without much help from the official agencies of law and order before these agencies had caught up with the settler. Now that organized crime has brought back in many communities the lawlessness of the old frontier, he revives the virtues of the citizenship of those troubled but inspiring days. His is the sturdy individualism of the pioneer which laid the foundations of the nation. His community and the country at large should be proud of him.

WHERE THE CRITICISM IS DUE.

Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance corporation made a speech before the State Street Seniors the other night on the subject of railroads and railroading. It all seemed very reasonable, but in the end it was impossible to escape the impression of bad taste. For a government official to berate the railways for "not doing things" when their every move is stratified, regulated, and standardized by a government burocracy cannot fail to produce a picture of a tyrant administering a scolding with one foot on the victim's neck.

Chairman Jones suggested that there were too many railroads in the United States and that they should be consolidated into a total of nine or ten large systems. THE TRIBUNE was a pioneer in advancing this theory and has published several maps on the subject, but where did they land? President Roosevelt appointed a coördinator of transportation for the very purpose of eliminating service duplications, and that gentleman included in his first report a wholesale condemnation of what he called "grand consolidations."

Returning to the charge, Mr. Jones stated that the railways were endeavoring to support too much mileage, entirely overlooking the fact that an examiner for the interstate commerce commission has, within the last two weeks, condemned his own pet scheme for the dismemberment and abandonment of the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad. Mr. Jones also overlooked that the interstate commerce commission had prevented the very natural consolidation of the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern by the imposition of the impossible condition that the roads should release control of their eastern outlet, the Burlington.

At another point Mr. Jones observed that while holders of railway securities could not expect the government to insure their investments, it should assume a measure of responsibility for their well-being through protection against unfair and irresponsible highway competition and government-subsidized water rates. This sounds fair enough, but where does it leave the dear public in whose interest railway regulation has been undertaken? The handicapping of trucks, buses, and air lines for the purpose of enabling the railways to recover trafic is adding substantially to the expense of shipping.

As a final admonition, Mr. Jones suggested that the railways should not rely on advances in freight rates to secure added revenues. Where otherwise can they possibly increase their gross with an army of interstate commerce commission examiners grinding out daily handfuls of reports finding that this or that rate is technically unlawful, and ordering the railways to pay reparation on past shipments? It is an inexorable law that if all outstanding rates are pushed downward to a common level that common level must be raised. No, Mr. Jones, the railroads are not managed by the railroads; they are managed by the interstate commerce commission, so when you wish to criticize their acts please address your remarks to the proper parties.

Editorial of the Day

SPARE THE CHILD, SPOIL THE PARENT.

[Cedar Rapids Gazette.]

There is a certain amount of plausibility in the theory espoused by Dr. Charlotte Buhler of Vienna, world famous child psychologist. Dr. Buhler says:

"Don't force a child's development; let it come naturally. There is talent in every child. Guide it when it arrives. Nature varies the pattern of every individual."

But we shall await with interest the results of what is heralded as the first ambitious attempt to put this theory into practice in a school. Ten little boys and girls from 3 to 5 years old are about to reveal Dr. Buhler as a genius, or else make a monkey out of her. Having passed examinations which showed them to be "normal in every respect," they have been enrolled in a Utopian preschool at Fordham university.

There, for the rest of the winter, they will do just about as they darn please. No one will speak harshly to them; no one will spank them; no one will hurry any of them to tackle a new problem before he is ready to do so; no one will nag at them for any purpose whatsoever. When one of the youngsters strikes another, the other will be permitted to follow without remonstrance his natural inclination to strike back. Members of a child psychology class will sit behind one-way screens and watch the youngsters react to this situation during the three hours each day that the Utopia school is in session.

No doubt these observers will learn a great many things of much value to the parents of the future. That is for time to disclose. As for us, we should like to sit behind a one-way screen and watch the parents of these privileged youngsters during the nine-odd hours each day that the little tykes are not developing their latent talents at school and are not asleep. If the children are to be permitted to indulge their natural impulses in their own sweet way, it necessarily follows that the parents must restrain a good many of their natural impulses. And if our theory as to what is likely to happen has any merit, we should expect some of these parents to wind up in padded cells before the winter is over.

NOT IN HIS PAPER.

A violinist was very much disappointed with the account of his recital printed in the paper of a small town.

"I told you three times," complained the musician to the owner of the paper, "that the instrument was a genuine Stradivarius, and in this story there was not a word about it, not a word."

"That is as it should be. When the Stradivarius company advertise their fiddles in my paper you can come round and tell me about it."—Arcanum Bulletin.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

TODAY'S CONTRIBUTION to culture and happiness is a simple story of those two mysterious fellows, the street car conductor and motorman. You've doubtless stood on the front platform observing the automatic switch ahead change, as if it knew instinctively whether the car was supposed to turn or go straight on. It really doesn't, and the motorman doesn't use mental telepathy on it. He can't explain it exactly, in language you can understand, nor could the experts called into the office by Mr. H. O. Crews, but it's something like this: There's a gadget they call a pan on the trolley wire near each of the 600 automatic switch corners. When enough power is drawn from the trolley as the car passes the pan, the operation throws the switch. And so the motorman applies that amount of power at the psychological moment, usually putting on the brakes at the same time so the car won't increase its speed. It's difficult to explain to new motormen; they just have to learn by experience, but most of them will tell you that the switch will work if they turn the controller to point 3.

Conductors and motormen have two weeks of schooling before they go out unsupervised. The first three days are spent in the car barns. Then the novices go out on cars in actual service, for an apprenticeship under veterans. The last three days of training are in the loop at rush hours, to accustom the students to noise and excitement, and train them to be calm in emergencies. The men buy their own uniforms. They choose their own routes, on the basis of seniority; those with the longest service records get first choice, and so on down the line. Newcomers take what's left. Every 90 days there's an opportunity to choose. Some of the older men like to work at night, when there is less business. Many of them deliberately choose the busiest routes and daytime hours, because they love things happening.

The company knows that 82 passengers in 100 will take a transfer. A great many of them—how many the company can't say—don't use them. Conductors are always careful to pick up transfers left on the seats or dropped in the cars lest some one take them and give them to some one else who will use them for a free ride. They don't count the transfers they take up, but just take them into the car barn, where they're baled up and sold with profit as old paper.

Three people praying
In cross-steepled chapels—
A nun, a nun, a nun and two knaves.
Pointed hands rocking,
Steeple heads knocking.
One in his stocking
Has thirty grams of silver,
One in his bosom has a bottle of ale,
The nun has a secret
Sweeter than an abbey,
Sweeter than heaven,
Sweeter than crimson
Satin brocade,
So they stay praying
Longer today,
Winking to the candles
Out of slant shut eyes.
So they kneel rocking,
The gray steeples cracking
With dry gold grins—

DO NOT BECOME A SEDATIVE SLAVE.

THE question is often asked, "What about the various preparations of barbituric acid? Are they habit forming and hence dangerous? May one take them freely without restrictions?" These are pertinent and timely inquiries.

When properly employed, morphine is one of our most valuable drugs. It has a very definite place in medicine when given for the relief of pain and the control of distressing symptoms. The same may be said of cocaine and of the barbiturates. But neither morphine nor cocaine can be prescribed legally except by physicians and each must be dispensed under the strict provisions of the Harrison narcotic act. Of course, there are surreptitious, clandestine sources which will be sought out by those whose craving for the drug is insatiable. But both are deadly destroyers of nerve cells and addicts are created with facility.

The barbiturates, on the other hand, have been utilized rather widely for the past 30 years, not as narcotics but as sedatives. They have been particularly helpful in the control of epilepsy and as sleep producers when occasion demands. In some instances they have been made to do duty as anesthetics, with satisfactory results.

Reports of the abuse of these latter compounds, however, are increasing. Any one can go to a drug store in most of our states and procure as much as he is able to pay for. In many households a vial of one of these chemicals is at hand and is drawn upon freely whenever a member of the household becomes nervous or sleepless.

Are they harmless? Will the use of a little bring the demand for more? In other words, are they likely to lead to what is commonly called addiction? In the first place, their excellence must be recognized in allaying the sharp edge of exhaustion when every nerve seems taut, imbued with the desire to murder sleep. But if resorted to frequently, some serious consequences may follow which every one should know about.

The case is reported of a patient who was taking 15 grains of pentobarbital daily as a means of escape from intense headaches. Without consulting his physician, this amount was increased gradually to 30 grains until he had become so disturbed mentally that hospital care was demanded. He was released after a month, apparently free from the influence of the drug and with no obvious tendency to repeat the episode. Nevertheless, he was back in the hospital six weeks later in the same disordered emotional state, admitting that he had returned to the chemical on his own initiative.

Another peculiar outcome may be mentioned, namely, that this group of substances, in some cases, may bring on the condition known as agranulocytosis, in which the white cells of the blood drop from a normal level of 5,000 or 6,000 per cubic millimeter to less than 1,000. Such a phenomenon may be accompanied by ulceration within the mouth, fever, general malaise, weakness, or even death. Efforts to rehabilitate the white cells have been successful in some cases; in others, not.

It is entirely possible that there is a cumulative effect when barbiturates are employed over a long interval of time. In other words, that the drug is not destroyed speedily in the body and excreted. We can account for the evidences of depression which follow its continuance on no other basis. This means that —as a measure of safety—the prescribing of barbiturates should be carefully supervised. Rarely will the careful physician permit his patient to indulge in these efficacious but frequently hazardous drugs persistently. We must revise, therefore, our previous conception that many of these newer remedies are entirely harmless and may be given freely.

PAIN IN NECK.

C. P. B. writes: For about three months I have had a steady, dull aching on the right side of the neck slanting from the ear toward the middle of the neck. When I turn the neck there is a cracking sound. What causes this? What is the remedy?

REPLY.

Probably cervical arthritis. An X-ray study should be made. Look also for infection within the mouth. The cracking sound comes whenever joint fluid is scanty, or in the presence of bony overgrowth about the vertebrae. Keep your health up to par, eat foods with high vitamin content, and keep warm and dry.

UNHEALED BURN.

J. M. writes: Are there any recent developments in the treatment of third degree burns which do not heal permanently? A friend, 60 years old, had such a burn two years ago. It continues to open, with a seepage of watery fluid. Might this person have dropsy?

REPLY.

This is not dropsy. Both the kidneys and the heart should be checked and the urine tested for sugar [diabetes]. Skin grafting offers the best hope of cure in the case of long standing, unhealed burns.

HOARSE VOICE.

Mrs. R. writes: If one's voice gets husky after singing, is it because one has strained the voice?

REPLY.

Possibly. The chances are that the vocal cords are swollen and engorged with blood. Rest [no singing, no talking] is recommended. A skilled throat specialist should advise you.

DUODENAL ULCERS.

Mrs. H. S. writes: What diet should a sufferer with duodenal ulcer follow?

REPLY.

The diet for each specific case should be outlined by the physician in charge. We have some dietary suggestions which we will be glad to send on receipt of a stamped, addressed envelope.

FORCED TO EAT.

R. B. writes: Should a 3 year old child be forced to eat? My youngster won't eat unless I strap him.

REPLY.

Leave him alone and he will eat when he is hungry. Punishment will aggravate the situation.

SCAR TISSUE.

S. R. writes: [1] Can scar tissue remaining after a tonsil operation be removed? [2] Can such tissue cause cancer?

REPLY.

1. Yes, if it is causing trouble.
2. The possibility is extremely remote. I've never known of a case.

LONDON.—Charity balls, the favorite ladder of the social climber, are on the decline. It has been found that, in comparison with the wealth lavished on them, too little money is going to charity.

In one case, at which 500 guests paid $10 each for tickets, only about $500 was left, after all expenses were paid, for the charity for which the ball had been organized.

Where does the money go? The professional organizers get a fat fee, first of all. This may range from $1,250 to $5,000. They say they have to move in the right circles, and that this costs money.

A dance orchestra costs from $150 to $200 a night. Even then, some of the well known band leaders assert, these are special terms and barely cover the expenses of each player and fees for the music.

The hotel providing the ballroom and staf is guaranteed a certain number of guests. Fifty per cent of the ticket money is taken by the hotel management if more than this number attends.

An official of one of the leading hospitals said: "We always have refused to allow our hospital's name to be used in connection with charity balls. I often have been approached by professional organizers who have admitted that they were to receive as much as 40 per cent of the proceeds of the sale of tickets and donations."

Whatever the cause, many Mayfair hostesses are refusing to allow their names to be used as patrons of such charity balls.

Banquets, film premières, and bridge tournaments are now coming into society's charity spotlight. It is said they are cheaper to organize and that they raise more money.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

DIVORCE RECORDS.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is it possible for a woman to obtain a divorce without notifying her husband, whose whereabouts she has always known?

2. Is it necessary for the husband to sign the divorce papers before same can become legal?

3. A woman claims she has been divorced, has not notified her husband, and will not produce her decree. Where can I have this record looked up?

4. Is there a charge for same?

5. How long will it take?

6. How long after divorce proceedings are started does it take for the decree to become final? C. S.

1. If he is a nonresident the notice would be by publication and mailing and conceivably the notice might miscarry.
2. No.
3. Where she claims that the decree was obtained.
4. Depends on the attitude of the clerk with whom you deal.
5. We are not in a position to say.
6. Illinois has no provision for an interlocutory decree followed by final decree as have some other states. The Illinois decree is final.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

INCOMPETENT'S SHARE IN ESTATE.

Berwyn, Ill., Oct. 29.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A parent, still alive, writes a will disposing of an estate in her name. One-third is to go to her husband, a stepfather to her six children. The rest of the estate is to go in equal shares to the children. One child is confined to a state hospital for the insane.

1. Would this cause any difficulty in the disposition of the estate?

2. How could this be avoided without shutting off the child?

3. Could his share be intrusted to one of the other children so that property might be sold?

4. What would be the best procedure to follow? T. B.

1. If the incompetent child is given an undivided share in real estate, then court proceedings would be necessary in order to make the conveyance.
2. Give him separate assets. A conservator would have to be appointed for him.
3. This would be one way to handle it.
4. Employ an attorney.

ABUSES OF STREET PARKING.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—As a property owner I commend the opportune editorial in THE TRIBUNE on "Abuses of Street Parking."

I own a 33 foot lot on Kenmore avenue improved with a frame residence; my taxes were $500 in 1929 and are $289 for 1936.

The space in front of my residence is often occupied day and night to such an extent that visitors cannot get anywhere near my residence but must park blocks away.

The street on both sides is filled with parked cars day and night, so that trafic in the street is hazardous, particularly at night, and one shudders to think what might happen in case of fire.

In some blocks parking is so continuous that street sweeping is next to impossible.

Under the circumstances it is obvious that street parking in this locality has, as the editorial puts it, "become a public nuisance as well as an imposition on private rights." READER.

THE BABY BUGGY MENACE.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Behold the poor pedestrian. He steps into the street and immediately becomes a hazardous insurance risk. He is in fair territory for the speedsters and drunken and reckless drivers.

He walks along the sidewalks minding his own business and telegraph messengers, delivery boys, and other youngsters come racing along on bicycles, scooters, etc. If they don't actually run him down they see how near they can come to it just for sport. It is always a photo finish, as they say at the race tracks.

Then the nursemaids, three or four abreast, pushing perambulators, go-carts, etc., bear down on him. They will not give an inch. They monopolize the entire sidewalk. He must either climb a tree, step into the street, or scuttle into a doorway. I like children, admire young motherhood, and respect young girls earning their living as nursemaids, but it is high time they were told to respect the rights of middle aged and elderly people. When they see a pedestrian approaching the least they should do is break ranks into single file and let a person pass. HARRY P. ROSENBERG.

ACCESS TO RAW MATERIALS.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Mr. Orr's cartoon in today's TRIBUNE is a powerful pictorial presentation of what's wrong with the peace of the world, although France, too, should be shown with John Bull as a "world hog." Thank God one great newspaper sees the situation through clear spectacles. The riches stored in the bowels of the earth were created for all peoples to be shared in fairly equal degree. In the United States, too, equal access to the blessings of nature, now denied, is the fundamental basis of industrial peace. W. M. UPHAUS.

NEO-MALTHUSIAN.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—The men in "Who's Who in America" fall far short of reproducing themselves. At the other end of the scale, news items tell us of wholesale sterilization of the unfit. In between, the population is sterilizing itself in efforts to keep up with the Joneses.

What are we going to do about it? CASPER L. REDFIELD.

PAROLE REFORM.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Your editorial upholding Representative Schnackenberg's parole bill is unfair. Gov. Horner was right in vetoing it. When the penalty was ten years to life for armed robbery juries refused to convict because of such stiff penalties.

To allow a judge to set the term without reducing the maximum to ten years would be unfair and bring about the same condition.

Juries convict now thinking the board considers each case separately and sets a fair sentence.

But judges are officers of the state and only hear prejudiced testimony from people looking for revenge. They don't know the other side and would mete out long sentences in all cases. Some men deserve life; others only a year, and we should find some way to give each defendant justice. Until something better comes along the parole board will have to do.

To take all hope away from a man makes an animal of him. What makes men so bad is to make the going too tough. Help a man twice; if he fails then, he is beyond redemption. The parole system is O. K., but the parole officers play favorites and don't give every man a fair chance. J. A.

HOW MUCH AND WHO'LL PAY IT?

Chicago, Oct. 31.—In view of the fact that there is an acute housing shortage, I propose a government subsidy, or loan, to aid home construction contractors, a subsidy large enough to stimulate the construction of adequate living quarters on a large scale.

This will create more employment, give people better living conditions, make the people more healthful and better American citizens, thereby improving the country as a whole.

If they continue demolishing buildings without replacing them, eventually there won't be any buildings and the nation will go backward instead of forward.

Shipping and transportation companies can get loans or subsidies. Why can't construction companies?

The present governmental housing program is not adequate to remedy the situation. E. K.

FOOTBALL AS POETRY.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—These days you don't have to know football to enjoy the broadcast of the game because the announcers have the most artistic football vocabularies in the world. It goes like this:

"He gallops two yards; he's smeared; he dives through the line; he soars through the air; a peach of a run; a beautiful plunge; he's stopped cold." Then an exciting touchdown told in a high pitched voice that thrills you through and through.

Then a quiet description of the sunset, long evening shadows falling across the gridiron, purple clouds touched with gold and silver. I just eat all of this up. I don't care a thing about football, but as long as we have silver tongued announcers I'm going to listen to the games. ANNE JESTY ROGERS.

SURVEY REVEALS FEW POLICE; WILD DRIVERS APLENTY

Tour of West Side Shows Many Trafic Violations.

BY HAL FOUST.

A recent survey tour through the west side disclosed trafic violations but no trafic patrols. In covering 28 miles of boulevards and other thoroughfares a reporter and a photographer noted three police on duty at intersections and one on a motorcycle, evidently on messenger service, but no patrol car was seen on the lookout for driving offenses.

In Augusta boulevard, eastbound at 2:50 p. m., a Chicago park district truck No. 259 was contributing more to the confusion than to the orderliness of trafic. At 20 miles an hour, for three-fourths of a mile, it was hogging the center of the pavement, forcing cars to swing to the left side of the roadway to pass. No policeman was in sight.

Driver Weaves Three Blocks.

In North avenue a roadster with license 981-643 [issued to the John Hansen Millwork company, 4942 North avenue] was pulled into the curb diagonally, with its rear bumper protruding into trafic lanes. The driver then backed out, made a U turn, and weaved east three blocks, still impeding trafic, and parked again near Lawler avenue, this time in a lawful manner parallel to the curb. No policeman was in sight.

Later at his shop Mr. Hansen said he was not driving at the time, but that any one of several persons might have used his automobile.

In Laramie avenue, which is a thoroughfore, a car with license 723-040 [issued to S. H. Hofflander, 1637 North Laramie street] was trailed from Kinzie street to Division street at 15 to 18 miles an hour. The car was in the middle of the street, making it difficult for other cars to pass. No policeman was in sight.

Fails to Give Signal.

A woman driver was noted at Central Park avenue and Jackson boulebard. She made a left turn to head east without using a hand signal as required by statute to give fellow motorists a preliminary notice of her intentions. The license number of the car was 500-569 [issued to Hogler Pettersen, 2001 North California avenue]. No policeman was in sight. Mr. Pettersen said that his wife was driving.

Berwyn Parolee Weeps as He Starts Prison Trip

Tears filled his eyes yesterday when Edward Koncil, 24 years old, paroled convict, was loaded in the sherif's bus with sixteen other prisoners bound for Joliet penitentiary. Koncil, who caused a police scandal by escaping three times from the Berwyn jail in five months, was convicted two weeks ago of burglary and was sentenced to one year to life.

FATHER AWARDED BABY FROM HOME OF SISTER-IN-LAW

Judge Donald S. McKinlay, yesterday awarded Phyllis Emily Kulan, one month old, to her father, Anthony, 29 years old, 33 West 110th street. Mrs. Kulan died on Oct. 7. Her sister, Mrs. Florence Anderson, 7841 South Peoria street, then took the baby and had refused to give her up.

"A parent always has prior rights to a child over any other relatives," said Judge McKinlay. "A woman's constant care would perhaps be better for the child, but inasmuch as this father promises his daughter the best of care and attention, there is no other course for the court to follow."

BIG DAIRY BARN BURNS.

Caledonia, Ill., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Fire destroyed a large dairy barn on the E. D. Brown farm near here last night. Twelve calves and the harvest of hay and grain were burned. Loss was placed at $15,000.

ALDERMEN TURN DOWN SONSTEBY ON MOTOR CLINIC

Judge's Plea for Funds Loses in Committee.

A request by Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby for the immediate allocation of funds to establish a clinic for the examination of reckless drivers was rejected yesterday by the city council finance committee. Led by Ald. James J. McDermott [14th], several members of the committee expressed disapproval of the project. It was then deferred for possible inclusion in the 1938 budget.

Under questioning by several aldermen, Judge Sonsteby said the clinic would test drivers suspected of having physical or mental defects, reporting its findings to the court to be considered as evidence. He indicated the clinical report might be the basis of removing a driver's right to operate an automobile.

Sets Annual Cost at $7,500.

Judge Sonsteby placed the annual cost of the clinic at $7,500 for salaries of three employés. To purchase the necessary equipment and pay salaries for the balance of the year, he said, $6,117 is needed. He asked that the council transfer this sum from salary savings of the court.

Judge J. M. Braude in Safety court, a sponsor of the drivers' clinic, suspended the driving rights of six motorists and sent two of them to jail yesterday. George Ziebel, 5514 Washington boulevard, was sentenced to 30 days, fined $50, and barred from driving for a year on a charge of reckless driving.

Peter Nichols, 3013 West 111th street, was sentenced to 20 days on a charge of reckless driving and 10 days for leaving the scene of an accident and was barred from driving for a year. The sentences are concurrent.

Drivers Fined $100 each.

On charges of driving while intoxicated, Carl Kullgren, 1032 Dinsmore road, Winnetka, and Carl Wagner, 5749 South Mozart street, were fined $100 each and barred from driving for 6 months.

Mike Scommichsen, 846 Wolfram street, charged with reckless driving, was placed on probation for three months and ordered not to drive during that time. Robert W. Getty, 942 East 76th street, was fined $100 and suspended 30 days for reckless driving.

BOY, 2, IS KILLED BY TRUCK 1 BLOCK FROM HIS HOME

Darts from Curb Into Path of Machine.

John Tauberschmidt, 2½ years old, was fatally injured when he was hit by a truck yesterday in front of 240 West 60th street, a block from his home at 5902 South La Salle street. He died in St. Bernard's hospital. The driver, Harry Krick, 714 West 59th street, said the boy darted in front of the truck.

Mrs. Albina Alchenberger, 65 years old, 4318 Dickens avenue, died in the Danish-American hospital last night of injuries suffered a short time earlier when she was struck by an automobile at Palmer and Karlov avenues. The driver, Stanley Glowinski, 2171 North Mozart street, a punch press operator, was held for the inquest today.

Injured by an automobile in Michigan avenue at 58th street on Sept. 30, George Ataravoich, 47 years old, 5857 Calumet avenue, died yesterday in the County hospital. Vincent O'Malley, 7124 South Wabash avenue, driver of the car, was not held.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 897 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 681 were killed in Chicago, where 19,343 were injured in the same period.

School Board to Consider Operating 3 Lunchrooms

The board of education will be asked at its regular meeting today to consider taking over the operation of lunchrooms for pupils at Schurz, Senn, and Englewood High schools. These restaurants are now operated by neighborhood woman's clubs, F. O. GOV. LA FOLLETTE EXPECTED TO QUIT HOSPITAL IN WEEK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COLON, Panama, Nov. 2.—Gov. Philip F. La Follette of Wisconsin appeared today definitly on the road to recovery from an attack of influenza. He was brought to the United States army hospital here yesterday afternoon from the steamer Quirigua.

A statement issued at the hospital said:

"Gov. La Follette's ailment was diagnosed as influenza. His condition is satisfactory. There are no complications, and he is improving."

It was learned the governor probably will leave the hospital within a week.

Gov. La Follette had been ailing for forty-eight hours before his removal from the ship. His condition caused no alarm until Sunday night as the Quirigua steamed from Costa Rica for Cristobal, where physicians from the Colon hospital boarded the ship for a consultation. It was decided hospital treatment was necessary, rather than risk the New York return voyage on the ship with its necessarily limited hospital accommodations.

$399,000 RAISED DURING WEEK FOR COMMUNITY FUND

Contributions of $399,000 during the last week were reported yesterday at a Community Fund campaign meeting in the Palmer house. The goal is $3,550,000, of which $2,079,000 has been raised in the three weeks of the campaign. Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of the campaign committee, said 750,000 corporation employés have been organized in the drive this year.

Two new "coats with little fur" from our large November collection

In September we gave you our first group of "coats with little fur." You liked them so well that we had a collection of new ones designed for November selling. Coats with little fur have one great advantage: they can be every bit as chic as lavishly furred coats (with the same quality of fabric and the same quality of fur) and still be priced much lower. And if you want to be more dressy, you can go in for the new fur accessories. The two coats illustrated are typical, in their quality, simplicity and chic, of our extensive November collection.

SHANAHAN EX-AID ACCUSES COUSINS OF STEALING BOX

Rodgers Strikes Back at Conspiracy Charges.

Robert E. Rodgers, political associate and friend of David E. Shanahan for 35 years, who had been accused from the witness stand of having a part in a conspiracy to gain Shanahan's $850,000 estate for his secretary, struck back at the accusations with charges of his own yesterday. He accused Shanahan's cousins, the Misses Mary and Margaret Flynn, and a real estate man, William Gordon, of stealing the contents of one of Shanahan's strong boxes.

In their cross-examination of Rodgers, however, attorneys for the ccusins raised a doubt concerning the condition of the veteran legislator just before he married his secretary, Miss Helen Troesch, now Mrs. Shanahan. Other witnesses for Mrs. Shanahan had testified that Shanahan was in comparatively good health just before his marriage, but Rodgers said Shanahan, when asked to sign a church questionnaire Oct. 3, 1936, two days before the ceremony, had been able only to mark it with an X.

Sisters Seek to Void Will.

A jury in Judge Michael Feinberg's court is hearing the suit in which the Flynn sisters are seeking to invalidate the marriage and to void a will in which he left his secretary his entire estate. The Flynns wish to establish a previous will, giving them 80 per cent of the estate with 20 per cent going to Miss Troesch.

Shanahan died Oct. 18, 1936, 13 days after the marriage was solemnized in the Mercy hospital.

Gordon, who handled Shanahan's real estate and mortgage affairs, testified several days ago that Rodgers had threatened to kill him if he permitted the Flynn sisters to take Shanahan's strong box, even when they showed an order signed by Shanahan.

Denies Death Threat.

"I may have said something to him," Rodgers told Attorney Eugene P. Kealy, "but I didn't threaten to kill him. That was when they took the strong box."

Rodgers testified he saw Shanahan every day at the hospital and never found him to be irrational.

Kealy produced hospital records to show that Shanahan was asleep as the result of morphine at times on Oct. 3 that Rodgers said he visited him. Rodgers refused to change his testimony.

Miss Agnes O'Mara, 6401 University avenue, former nurse at Mercy hospital, told of chatting with Shanahan on Oct. 2, at which time, she said, his condition appeared good. Dr. William D. Fitzgerald, an associate of Dr. C. F. Sawyer, chief surgeon at the hospital and Shanahan's personal physician, told of visiting the legislator daily and traced the course of his illness, describing his condition in early October as good.

CHURCH FUNERAL FOR BISHOP WHOM CHURCH OUSTED

Galion, O., Nov. 2.—(AP)—The church that had declared him a heretic gave refuge to William Montgomery Brown in death today in the funeral service—that ritual was read over the body of the 82 year old former bishop of Arkansas.

"But by the grace of God I am what I am," said the tenth verse of the fifteenth chapter of Paul's first epistle to the Corinthians, read at the funeral in pursuance of a request Brown had made before his death Sunday.

The services were held in the small, red brick Grace Episcopal church where Mr. Brown served as rector from 1882 to 1891. They were read by the Rev. Kenneth C. Wilson of Akron, former Grace church rector, and by Mr. Brown's seminary classmate. Several hundred friends and a group of communists attended the services.

The tickets, costing $1 each, will be sold by the officers for Chicago's Own Christmas Benefit fund sponsored by Mayor Kelly.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

Soy Beans Harvested

November 2, 1937.

THE three vegetable varieties of soy beans grown in test plots at the Tribune's Wheaton farm this year have been harvested and the dried beans cleaned and sorted and put away to be used for seed next spring. These varieties—Giant Green, No. 81029, and No. 86129—have been successfully grown for the last two seasons at the farm, making a fair showing in the dry summer of 1936.

Two separate plantings of all three varieties were made this year—the first May 24 and the second June 22. This gave a succession of beans for table use from about the middle of August until the latter part of September. The varieties require different lengths of time for maturing, the Giant Green being the earliest and No. 86129 the latest.

Demand May Be Slow.

Commercial vegetable gardeners think these edible soy beans may become a valuable market crop when enough have been grown to make the seed readily available for planting large areas. Chicago hotels and restaurants that coöperated with the Wheaton farm in making table tests of the beans found that a number of tasty dishes could easily be prepared from them. Further tests will be made at the farm next year, with these and possibly other varieties, provided seed of other kinds can be obtained.

Experienced truck gardeners say it may take some time to create a demand among consumers for vegetable soy beans, even after seeds are made available in large enough quantities for commercial plantings. They recall other vegetables, now common on home and restaurant tables, that met with little public favor when first offered for sale. Yellow corn for roasting ears is an example. Many consumers would not buy yellow corn when it first appeared in Chicago stores. In recent years the Golden Bantam variety of yellow corn has been the most popular roasting ear on the market.

Many Varieties Tested.

The vegetable varieties of soy beans grown at the Wheaton place were developed by the University of Illinois, where many different varieties have been tested. Truck crops experts at the university are trying to increase the quantity of seed of the kinds that have given best results.

They are working out plans for making the seed available to home and commercial gardeners. Other varieties are being developed by commercial seed growers, but the total stocks of seeds for next season's planting likely will be small.

URGE INDUSTRIAL RELIEF ROLL LIST OF EX-EMPLOYES

Plan Offered to Find Jobs for Employables.

A plan to give every employer in the city a list of the names and addresses of all his former employés who are now on the relief rolls or WPA was approved yesterday by the committee of 14 appointed by Gov. Horner to study the relief problem. Walter S. Gregory, committee chairman, said he was confident relief authorities will coöperate in the plan.

The plan was given to Horner's committee by a joint committee from both houses of the state legislature at a combined meeting of the two groups in the Palmer house. Representative Calvin D. Johnson of Belleville said the plan had taken 6,000 employable persons off relief rolls in St. Clair county.

Rolls Would Be Scanned.

If the plan is put into operation, the lists of employables on WPA and the Chicago Relief administration rolls will be scanned to see where these men and women last worked in private industry. The lists will be sent to each employer with the suggestion that he call upon those persons first when he needs help.

"This will give the employer a list of workers familiar with his plant or business," Johnson said. "Instead of the employer having to hunt for old employés, they will be immediately available to him."

The two committees also agreed to recommend to Leo M. Lyons, commissioner of the CRA, and to WPA officials that the method of readmitting people to relief when they lose jobs in private industry be speeded up so reliefers will not hesitate to take jobs.

Work Plan Postponed.

State Senator D. T. Woodward, chairman of the legislative committee, said the committee is asking every relief administrator in the state to report whether they are taking advantage of the law which permits use of reliefers as workers on streets and roads in return for relief. Mayor Kelly said last night that a plan to use Chicago reliefers in street work had been postponed indefinitly because of uncertainty as to the number of reliefers that will be absorbed soon by WPA.

The gathering of a crew of men and women from private industry, trained in personnel work, to go over the CRA rolls will be started today by the committee Gregory heads. Businesses and industries will be asked to lend these experts to investigate the accuracy of a survey now being made of its rolls by CRA.

Adopted Girl, 14, Taunted by Schoolmates, Missing

Stockyards police were asked last night to search for Lucille Keniry, 14 years old, 840 West 53d place, a student at the Visitation school, who disappeared Oct. 25. Her schoolmates often taunted her about being an adopted child, the police were told, but each time she was reassured by her parents. Last night Mrs. Margaret Keniry said Lucille may have learned the truth—that Mrs. Keniry and her husband, Mark, adopted her when she was a baby 5 months old.

Tells of Serving Ex-Mate's Bride; Demands Alimony

Her husband refused to pay her alimony after she divorced him, and then brought his new bride to the hotel where she worked as a waitress and she was forced to serve the wedding party. This was the story told by Mrs. Evelyn Adrion, who lives in the Clayton hotel, Waukegan, to Judge Ralph J. Dady yesterday, when she asked that her husband, Marion, be forced to keep up his payments of $15 a week for her and their three small daughters.

J. A. Mallory, Constable, Dies on Eve of Re-Election

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Death beat John A. Mallory, 90 years old, Petersburg's high constable for 40 years, in his "race" for reëlection. That confederate veteran, unopposed in the voting today, died last night.

PILOT WELL BEFORE CRASH FATAL TO 19, DOCTOR TELLS BOARD

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Pilot Earl D. Woodgerd was in "excellent mental and physical health" at the time the United Air Lines Mainliner struck an eastern Utah mountain peak Oct. 17, killing 19, a federal investigating board was told today.

The witness was Dr. Mazel Skolfield, Salt Lake City medical examiner for the bureau of air commerce, who examined him Oct. 13.

"Woodgerd was in better mental and physical condition then, four days before the crash, than at any time since I started examining him," said Dr. Skolfield.

"He told me, 'For the first time in quite a while I feel like getting out and doing things. I've got lots of pep.'"

The fateful words "snow static" were written on the log of the ship a few minutes before it crashed, the board was told.

NEBRASKA CASH ON HAND SINKS TO $4.27; RECORD

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Debtless Nebraska's general fund balance sank to a record low of $4.27 today, the most acute shortage since a 1921 constitutional provision prohibited bonded indebtedness.

The state has $21,000,000 tied up in trust funds, but only the $4.27 on hand to meet several thousand dollars' worth of warants which banks soon will present for payment.

State Treasurer Walter H. Jensen said he would incur no more expense until he could set up machinery to register warants against trust funds held by the board of educational lands and funds. The board voted to permit the registration in an emergency session.

State Tax Commissioner W. H. Smith said the financial crisis was caused by the "inability of people to pay taxes following four successive years of drought."

PRINCE ACCUSED OF KILLING GIRL SENT TO PRISON

HONOLULU, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The romance of Prince David Kalakaua Kawananakoa with a pretty half caste girl he is accused of murdering led to a prison sentence today for violation of his probation on a 1932 automobile manslaughter charge.

Circuit Judge H. E. Stafford ruled the prince, descendant of Hawaiian royalty, had "not complied with conditions of his probation," by living with his alleged common law wife, slain Arvilla Kinslea, 22 years old.

Judge Stafford sentenced the 33 year old prince to ten years in prison.

Boy Points Rifle in Joke; Another Youth Wounded

"Halt or I'll shoot," said Donald Woolsey, 14 years old, as he stood on the front porch of his home at 4220 Troy street last night, holding his father's .22 caliber rifle. Meaning to joke with a passing acquaintance, Edward Ritthoney, 18 years old, 4153 North Kedzie avenue, he fired a bullet at the sidewalk. It ricocheted, striking Ritthoney in his left thigh. Police ordered young Woolsey to report to juvenile authorities today.

TOWNS INSURE DU PAGE RIVER POLLUTION CURB

Three municipalities and three institutions in Du Page and Cook counties have taken steps to improve their sewage disposal systems in a campaign to reduce the pollution of the Du Page river. Clarence W. Klassen, secretary of the state sanitary water board at Springfield, in making this anneuncement yesterday, said six other municipalities and thirty-eight institutions also have pledged aid in purifying the stream.

The village of Bartlett, only town in Cook county which has been polluting the river, is safeguarding the flow from its treatment works. Lombard, in Du Page county, is rehabilitating its sewage treatment plant, and Wheaton is making a survey to prevent infiltration into sanitary sewers from overflows.

The Sacred Heart academy and St. Joseph's orphanage near Lisle, and the St. Andrew's Golf club, near West Chicago, Ill., all in Du Page county, are adding new units to their sewage treatment works.

ZOUAVES RECALL OLD DRILL TEAM'S YEARS OF GLORY

Recollections of the days during the '80s and '90s, when the Chicago Zouaves were the drill champions of the United States, were exchanged last evening when some 50 Chicago business men—all more than 60 years old and all former members of the team—held a reunion in Ireland's Oyster house.

Tall were the tales spun of the years during which the team traveled throughout the United States defending its drill championship. The organization was established in 1882, modeled on a famous civil war unit, and in 1886 when the Illinois legislature passed a law forbidding the existence of private military organizations it became Company E of the old Fourth infantry, Illinois National Guard.

The team passed out of existence in 1904, but the association was continued. Its president now is J. Howard Ireland. Henry Barrett Chamberlin was the toastmaster last night.

Mrs. Margaret Wagner's Funeral to Be Tomorrow

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Wagner, who was born eighty-five years ago in a house on State street near what is now Pearson street, will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in Our Lady of Mercy church. Mrs. Wagner died of pneumonia Monday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Herrbach, at 4309 North Sawyer avenue. At the time of the Chicago fire Mrs. Wagner's family fled to the west side. Mrs. Wagner's husband, Peter, died in 1906 and their son, Peter S., died last January.

FRANK L. TROSTLE DIES; SAFETY DIRECTOR OF WISCONSIN'S CAPITAL

Madison, Wis., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Frank L. Trostle, 68 years old, who rose in twenty-five years of service from pounding a beat to chief of this city's police, died here today after three weeks' illness.

His retirement on a pension from his post as trafic director became effective yesterday. He had held that job since May 1, 1930, after five years as chief of police. In twenty-five years he never had lost a day because of disability or sickness. Trostle was born at New Franklin, Ill., and was graduated from the high school and a business college at Quincy. He was a 32d degree Mason.

TAX OF $266,385 LEVIED ON TRUSTS OF LADY BEATTY

State inheritance taxes totaling $266,385 were assessed yesterday by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki against three trust funds totaling $2,927,733 which comprised the estate of Lady Ethel Field Beatty, who died July 17, 1932. The funds from which she received the income during her life were left by her father, Marshall Field, pioneer Chicago merchant.

Under his will she had the right to dispose of the trusts at her death, and she bequeathed $1,460,312 to one son, Arthur Ronald Lambert Tree, and $489,140 each to her husband, David Lord Beatty, British admiral who died following the death of his wife, and to two other sons, David Lord Barodale and Peter Beatty.

The inheritance taxes were distributed among the legatees so that Tree must pay $167,643 and the others $32,914 each on their shares.

Loop Attorney Injured in Fall Into Basement

Robert O. Spengler, 46 years old, an attorney with an office at 11 South La Salle street, was injured severely late yesterday when he fell ten feet from the first floor to the basement of a building under construction at 2719 North Clark street. In the darkness he failed to see that the basement stairway had been torn away. Mr. Spengler, who lives at 3601 South Leavitt street, was taken to North Chicago hospital.

EROSION ACT IN GEORGIA INCITES FARMERS' REVOLT

Might Result in Loss of Their Property.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Conyers, Ga., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Large land owners have joined small farm owners in an agrarian revolt in this part of Georgia against a "dictatorship" under a political machine and burocracy under a state soil erosion act. In Decatur today the home defense committee planned a permanent organization to combat formation of an upper Ocmulgee watershed conservation district in seven counties.

A farmer uprising defeated the proposal last month, but after the lapse of six months they expect the effort to establish the district may be renewed. H. S. Rogers, who started the revolt, today spoke of the law, said to have been prepared by the brain trust in Washington, as "an audacious attempt to hoodwink farmers into signing away all control of the lands they own."

Could Confiscate Land.

Similar criticisms were heard during a tour of the countryside and talks with farmers along the roads. Most of them are old colonial stock, and lifelong Democrats. The protests they made against the state erosion law fairly sizzled. This act, they complain, would make possible confiscation of their lands under the guise of soil conservation.

Rockdale county has large farms, while in De Kalb county the land holdings are smaller. Largest landowner in Rockdale county is Roswell Pierce Biggers, who has 3,700 acres, half of it under cultivation. He says he's been a Democrat all his life.

"This state law," said Biggers at his farm, "under the name of soil conservation means confiscation if farmers vote to establish conservation districts. Control of the lands then would pass into the hands of five supervisors, who could tell the owner what to plant, tell him to put in pines, grasses, and even take his land out of cultivation.

Ownership a Burden.

"The farm owner would have no more to say about control of his land than if he didn't own it. If that isn't dictatorship, what is? Our democracy is based on independence. This law would destroy independence. It also would mean more taxes and if taxes keep growing a farmer will soon be better off if he owns nothing."

One strong vein of criticism among farmers was that the soil erosion law has earmarks of being "must" legislation from Washington. Eugene Talmadge, outspoken critic of cotton control and the administration, was defeated as governor last year, and Gov. E. D. Rivers, his successor rode in on the Roosevelt coattails.

Farmers along the road spoke of the political machine made possible under the act. If a conservation district is created by a referendum vote of the landowners, the district supervisors, three to be elected and two appointed, are to receive no salaries, only expenses.

May Demand Pay-Off.

They may, however, appoint such agents as they require and determine their duties and compensation. This has possibilities of tight machining. The supervisors, as a condition to the extending of any benefits under the plan, also may require contributions in money, service, materials, or otherwise to any operations conferring such benefits.

And under one section, the farm uprisers complain, the five district supervisors would have authority to force landowners to do terracing, pine planting, grass sowing on their property. If any owner did not live up to the regulation adopted by the supervisors and a majority of farmers voting then the supervisor might do the work and charge the costs to the owner with 5 per cent interest.

If the owner did not pay up foreclosure might take his farm from under him.

"Misinterpreted" Law.

"The maddest folks in the country were the farmers in the referendum last month," said Will Kelly, who has a 154 acre farm and has terraced his slopes for forty-five years with little erosion. "The county agents and others misrepresented this law, and couldn't answer questions we asked them. If that district was established, a board could tell me to change my terracing and do contour work, or tell me to plant pines, and what not to plant here and there. I'd have no more control over my land than if I didn't own a foot.

"No wonder the farmers have blood in their eyes. I've got plenty of pines where I want pines. I'm keeping my soil on my farm. Wouldn't I be a fool to let a bunch of half baked college boys tell me how to run it?

"Suppose a man in Chicago with a nice home and lot planted with shrubbery, flowers, and garden truck, had a commission come around and tell him he'd have to move his shrubbery, and put in grass instead of garden truck in his kitchen patch, what would he say? The Chicago fellow would say, 'Go to hell,' and that's what the farmers here told them in the election. It would take away all vestiges of independence."

Ruined by AAA.

Down the road a grizzled farmer driving a mule remarked: "First the boll weevil done busted us, then Hoover made us eat corn bread, then AAA and cotton control ruined us, now this soil erosion state law wants to take our farms from us. It's going from worse to worst."

At Wesley chapel in Ollie White's crossroads store, a group of farmers said the soil erosion law was good only for rich landowners who had income sources outside their farms.

"A rich man making money in town and owning a farm," said one, "can afford to plant anything they tell him to, because he can make his living on the outside."

"Yes," said another, "but the small farmer has to live off his land. He can't afford to pay for pines and to take his land out of production and plant what some board tells him to. Under this law they could tell him to stop growing the crops on which he gets his little income. He couldn't make anything, he couldn't pay taxes, couldn't pay the costs of work the government would do on his land, and he'd be sold out of home. Folks around here are very much against it."

Election Method Assailed.

One phase of the law widely criticized is the method of conducting the referendum elections. Only land owners are to vote, one good point in the law, the farmers say. The regulations are made, however, by the state soil conservation committee. Judges of election were instructed, if they did not personally know a vote owned land to let him vote, but mark an "X" before his name.

One paragraph says that "no informalities" in the conduct of the referendum shall invalidate it, if notice has been given and the referendum has been fairly conducted. This the farmers regard as a fine opportunity for thimble rigging an election.

Mrs. Meredith Howard Erskine (left) with her sister and witness, Virginia Wertheimer.

Mrs. Meredith Howard Erskine, fashion editor for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in Hollywood, was granted a divorce yesterday from Albert Russell Erskine Jr., adopted son of the late president of the Studebaker corporation, by Judge Philip J. Finnegan. Mrs. Erskine and her sister, Mrs. Virginia Howard Wertheimer, 27 years old, of Beverly Hills, Cal., testified that Mrs. Erskine had been deserted by her husband.

Erskine, a Chicago resident, did not contest the charge and was not in court. His attorney, Arthur A. Sherrard, said a property settlement had been arranged. The couple married in January, 1934, and separated Sept. 20, 1936. Mrs. Erskine formerly was an actress.

CANADIAN HIGH COURT TO RULE ON THREE SOCIAL CREDIT LAWS

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Prime Minister MacKenzie King announced tonight that three controversial social credit measures passed by the Alberta provincial legislature would be referred to the Canadian Supreme court.

He said the Supreme court would be asked to depart from its usual procedure and "receive such evidence and admit such proof" as it might consider necessary to determine whether the bills were within the competence of the Alberta legislature.

The measures were those regulating news published by newspapers, controling credit, and taxing banks. They have not yet become law because Lieut. Gov. Bowen of Alberta, awaiting advice from the governor general, has declined to sign them.

2 SCHOLARSHIPS AT U. OF C. WON BY CHICAGOANS

Dean H. A. Bigelow of the University of Chicago Law school yesterday announced awarding of seven scholarships totaling approximately $3,000 and one graduate fellowship. Two of the recipients are Chicagoans. Charles B. Baker, 2131 West 110th street, was awarded one of the three James Nelson Raymond scholarships established by Mrs. Anna L. Raymond as a memorial to her late husband, James Nelson Raymond, Chicago industrialist.

Tucker Dean, 7702 Eastlake terrace, received one of three Leo F. Wormser scholarships established in 1935 by friends of the late Leo F. Wormser, an alumnus. The seventh scholarship, the Eighth Circuit scholarship made possible by contributions from alumni of the law school practicing in the 8th federal circuit district, was awarded to Jack G. Beamer of Kansas City, Mo. The Raymond graduate fellowship was awarded to Robert Diller of Diller, Neb.

RECOVERING FROM POISON.

Miss Edith Fahrner, 23 years old, 4523 North Dover street, an unemployed night club singer, was recovering last night in the Lake View hospital after attempting to commit suicide by poison.

FOOD-DRUG LAWS BLAMED BY A. M. A. IN ELIXIR DEATHS

The journal of the American Medical association in its forthcoming issue, directs attention to the weakness of the present federal food and drug laws as shown by 60 recent deaths from elixir of sulfanilamide, a mixture of a new drug with diethylene glycol, a poison.

The journal declares the manufacturer of the elixir urged physicians to use it although both chemical and medical literature contain references to the poisonous quality of dietylene glycol in the amounts recommended.

Under the law the federal food and drug administration has no legal authority to control the sale of a drug because it is injurious to health. The firm of S. E. Massengill, Bristol, Tenn., makers of the elixir will be cited, officials said, for mislabeling.

Praises First Salon of City's Women Artists

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

A new organization of painters is getting off to a flying start. Last spring the women artists of Chicago decided to form an alliance and put on their own show. Enough of them joined to make the resulting organization a very fair blend of the various elements that constitute our art of today.

We can judge better of their talents by a quick visit to the first Chicago Women's salon, which has opened to continue to Nov. 13, in the Findlay galleries, 424 South Michigan avenue.

This is a truly delightful show. Pauline Palmer is present with her picturesque "Provincetown," Harriet Krawiec shows an impressive "Old Tree," instinct with the quality that underlies all her work. The stunning "Peonies and Lilies" of Florence White Williams is in brilliant contrast to the more sober but equally effective "Cactus Garden" by Josephine L. Reichman.

Sixty wood cuts by Mme. Emma Bormann of Austria are on view in the club woman's bureau, Mandel Brothers. This is an amazing show; rarely before have such dramatic effects been obtained in this medium. Mme. Bormann has an international reputation.

A Light Touch Right Way to Use Perfume

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

They do keep on generalizing about us femmes in conversational circles. The latest generalization is that, while American women are the best dressed in the world, they also are known as the worst perfumed.

Maybe there is some truth in it. Maybe there isn't. Our theory is that you'll find as exquisitely perfumed women right here in this country as you can anywhere, and also as badly perfumed ones anywhere else as here. Because it is a finely bred sixth sense the beautifully scented one has, and there's no national ownership of said sense. To continue the observation, however:

Experts have claimed that the American man's distaste of perfume has much to do with the neglected art here. But one of the better perfume research bureaus says "not so," that the contrary is the case. It's the overperfumed woman who is responsible for man's alleged dislike of scents.

Two types of remarks, we are told, prove the key to perfume wearing. The dubious compliment: "What a grand perfume you're wearing" is addressed to the perfume rather than to its wearer, makes her a strolling ad for the perfume. She's like the lady badly dressed in the best of clothes, each item perfect in itself, but still not composed into the perfect ensemble of woman and her dress.

If some one sidles up to you and asks: "How do you manage to keep so exquisitely perfumed?" then you may write in for your degree as master of the perfume art. This compliment means, we are told, that the lady not only has perfect taste in perfume choice, but also a recognized artistry in its application.

We read in the perfume research report: "From the reek left by overperfumed women in elevators, and even in some drawing rooms, one would think that perfume was a recent discovery rather than the precious adjunct to romance plied by clever women since civilization's dawn."

To avoid being one of the "reekers," then, when you choose a perfume be sure that your personality is not subordinated to some striking odeur that does not suit you.

A perfume should complete you, we are told by perfume authorities.

Pencil-Slim and Casual

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

This pencil-slim daytime dress is strikingly chic and comfortably casual. It's the type of thing in which you can feel self-assured and at ease any time during a busy day. It's ideal for the office and for busy hours at the club. There are two versions. Both may be worn by the younger woman, but we think that mature persons will prefer the dressier model illustrated at the right.

The frock shown at the left may be made of silks or woolen, and in plain shades or prints or plaids. It is a princess dress, unbelted, snugly fitted, much be-buttoned and smartly collared. Its youthful shoulders are squared.

The dressier version dispenses with buttons and relies on paneling for its smartness. It uses a narrow, tailored belt, if the wearer so chooses. Into the round neckline is tucked a pretty, contrasting Ascot scarf, and the addition of a monogrammed pin is seasonally smart. Satin, silk crêpes with luxury weaves, sheer woolen and velvet all are excellent fabrics for this model.

Style No. 2576 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 4⅜ yards of 39 inch material, with ¼ yard of 39 inch contrasting for the button-down-the-front version of the dress.

Relatives May Make an Older Child Jealous

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS
[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

With a feeling of impatience—and even something stronger—at the carelessness or lack of feeling that so many grown people can show toward children, I find my eye pouncing upon this sentence in the letter quoted yesterday:

"I have another little boy who is 4 years of age, who is very sweet and lovable and has every one fussing over him."

So often a mother who may not have done anything very pronounced to disturb her first born, will have the damage done for her by ill advised relatives and friends; and when, as frequently happens, this second baby is carefree, bonny, and sunshiny, a bad matter is made worse.

The older child cannot know that all the world loves a baby. All he senses is that where before he was securely ensconsed in his home and in the love of his parents, he now finds a great change taking place in his life.

It may be that he is not as expansive as his little brother or sister. Some of this may be natural and some may be due to the fact that his parents "took him" so hard that it reacted upon him in this way. But he nevertheless is not, we'll say, as winning as the baby brother or sister. Being older he doesn't get the attention that a little one gets. And so he is miserable. And his personality cannot develop as it would if he basked in the affection and approval of his parents and relatives and intimate family friends as before.

First, the mother must keep these ill advised relatives and friends in line. She will have to find her own way of doing it, either superlative tact, simple explanations, or "strong ar mmethods." A little boy the age of this older child should, in a case like this, be played up to as a much older child. He should be given privileges and consideration of a quite different kind from the 4 year old.

A wise father would take this little 8 year old son off with him on Saturdays or Sundays on very special little trips or treats.

Any kind of special skills or interests that this little boy has should be developed and an opportunity should be created for his achievements to be noticed by older people in the right sort of way. These are only a few of the suggestions which I think will come to mind as a result of today's ideas.

We have lists of special interest and hobbies. This leaflet will be sent out on receipt of a large, 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Mrs. Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Sigma Chi to Honor John T. McCutcheon; in Fraternity 50 Years

A testimonial banquet for John T. McCutcheon, famous TRIBUNE cartoonist, and Mrs. McCutcheon will be given by the Sigma Chi club of Chicago next Wednesday evening at the Lake Shore Athletic club. Chester W. Cleveland is general chairman.

The occasion is the 50th anniversary of Mr. McCutcheon's initiation in the Sigma Chi chapter at Purdue university in 1887. He was pledged for the chapter by George Ade, Hoosier humorist, who will take part in the banquet program.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kirke Becker are co-chairmen of the banquet. Among those on the reception committee will be Mr. and Mrs. John Dern II., Judge and Mrs. William V. Brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Downs, Col. and Mrs. George T. Langhorne, and Prof. and Mrs. Horatio Hackett Newman.

Business Girl Should Avoid 'Pick Up' Meal

Meals ready to serve in ten minutes, and quickly baked one-dish meals, are a few of the helpful suggestions in the booklet, "Cooking After Office Hours," on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents; by mail, 5 cents in stamps. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, The Tribune, Chicago.

BY MARY MEADE.
[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

It may be early for New Year's resolutions, but here's a promise which many business girls would do well to make to themselves: Never to eat a "pick up" dinner unless it's absolutely necessary in order to meet some emergency.

More digestions and dispositions are ruined by careless eating habits than could be counted. Business girls who prepare their own meals often do so with much haste and little thought, and wonder afterward why their dinners aren't satisfying.

The extra work involved in preparing a full balanced meal is nothing in comparison with the benefits gained. There isn't a great deal of work involved in preparing a meal such as this one:

BUSINESS WOMAN'S DINNER
Beef Stuffed Potatoes
with Creole Sauce
Buttered Canned Asparagus
Salad of Canned Pear and Chopped Nuts with Fruit Juice Mayonnaise
Whole Wheat Rolls [bakery]
Cottage Cup Cakes with Chocolate Sauce
Coffee

Beef Stuffed Potatoes.

For four servings scrub four large potatoes, oil the skins, and place them in a 400 degree oven to bake. When they may be pierced with a fork remove from oven, cut off tops, lengthwise, and scoop out potato. Mash the potato with salt, pepper, butter, and enough hot milk to make the mixture fluffy, and combine with one-half pound ground beef which has been cooked in the meantime in a little hot fat in a frying pan. The meat should be seasoned with salt and pepper and thoroughly cooked before it is combined with the potatoes. Pile the meat and potato mixture high in the potato shells, place the stuffed potatoes on a pan, and pour over them half of the following tomato sauce. Replace in the oven to heat through and then serve on a platter, pouring the remaining sauce around them.

Creole Sauce.

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons minced onion
¼ cup minced green pepper
¼ cup chopped mushrooms
2 cups tomato juice or purée
Salt, pepper

Cook onion and green pepper in butter for five minutes and add other ingredients. Add mushrooms and cook two minutes longer. Add tomato juice or purée and seasonings, and bring to a boil. If a thicker sauce is wanted a little flour may be added to the sauce before the tomato juice is added.

Cottage Cup Cakes.

[Four large cakelets.]

1 cup cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter
½ cup sugar
1 egg
⅓ cup milk
½ teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour before measuring and resift with baking powder and salt. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and beat in the egg vigorously. Add dry ingredients and milk in alternate portions, beating the mixture until smooth after each addition. Add vanilla and turn into buttered pans. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve warm with chocolate sauce. Canned chocolate sauce is very good, or one may be made from this recipe:

Chocolate Sauce.

Melt one square chocolate in the top of a double boiler and add three-quarters cup milk. Beat together to blend. Mix two teaspoons cornstarch, one-third cup sugar, and one-quarter teaspoon salt with one-quarter cup cream or top milk. Stir the mixture slowly into chocolate and milk and cook in the double boiler until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Add one-half teaspoon vanilla. Serve hot or cold over pudding.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

What's the first thing you demand of a compact? We rate practical usefulness first and style second. The compact of poor workmanship that means broken nails and an aggravating mess of screws that come loose drives us mad. We wouldn't care if it were studded with emeralds—if it didn't have a nice deep powder well and the capacity for "taking it" in its hinges and screws we'd regard it as a gyp and an irritation.

Which probably explains why we've decided that we've found our pet compact. It's an inexpensive one, but to our way of thinking it has everything! It's a round, loose powder vanity, flat and thin. It's neither too big nor too small. The powder well is of perfect size, but the vanity is light weight. And it's good looking, in burnished gold tones with a tiny round enamel inlay in the very center, where you can have a touch of red, green, ivory, or black. Or you can have no color in this center spot. Your monogram would be smart as anything there.

The catches are tight but you won't send a manicure flying when you flip up the top either of the compact proper or of the powder well. What's more, the maker of this compact has hit on the immense idea of giving you TWO puffs. No more maddening dashes around to find a refill puff for your pet. We never could find one. There are such, of course, but they must be hidden somewhere when we go on the hunt. We salute this two puffs to a compact idea!

The case is lined with a neutral substance so that your powder fragrance isn't tainted by contact with metal. Anyway you look at it this compact is history making, especially at its low price. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Sports Lovers Turn to Guns and Badminton

BY JUDITH CASS.

WITH ducks flying south to get away from the shotguns of the local hunters who have been out in force ever since the season opened on Monday, and the skeet and badminton seasons opening, conversation in social circles is turning more and more to birds.

Whether the speaker means live birds, or skeet and trap targets, or the birds used in the game of badminton, depends upon his or her own sporting enthusiasm, of course.

The cone shaped feathered targets batted about on badminton courts are the birds that will be talked about at a dinner tonight at the Indian Hill club, where the Winnetka Badminton club will celebrate the opening of its season. Ninety members will gather at 7 o'clock to fête John Butler, the retiring president, and to elect new officers.

John K. Coolidge is the chairman of the nominating committee. When the new officers have been installed the dinner guests will go on to the North Shore Country Day school for an evening of rousing sport. Since playing badminton is on the program, the members naturally will attend the dinner in very informal clothes.

The junior N. Landon Hoyts, the Gilbert Bogerts, the Frederick Masons, the Richard Matthiessens, Mr. and Mrs. Whipple Jacobs, the Francis Hardys, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Starr, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Charles Goodrich are some of the Winnetka players.

Increased Interest in Evanston.

There has been an increased interest in badminton in Evanston since courts were put in at the Evanston High school. The Lawndale Badminton club, headed by William Rufus Abbott Jr., and two other groups, still unnamed, will play there. Warren Wheary represents the Country Club of Evanston's badminton group on the board of the North Shore Badminton association, which will have between ten and fifteen affiliated clubs this winter.

R. Ward Starrett is president of the association, of which Mr. Jacobs is vice president and William C. Lenhart the secretary-treasurer. Mr. Lenhart and Mr. Wheary are serving with George Fargo, chairman, on an interclub committee to help promote interest and enjoyment in the game. In addition to these duties, Mr. Lenhart will issue a news sheet for association members giving tournament dates and other facts of interest. The national tournament, which was held in Chicago last spring, will be held in Philadelphia next March.

Onwentsia Gun Club to Have Busy Season.

Birds of a different feather—in fact, no feathers at all—will start flying from trap and skeet houses at the Onwentsia by the middle of the month when the Onwentsia Gun club, headed by John C. Evans, opens its season. Shooting facilities will be improved there this season by a new shelter which will protect marksmen and scorekeepers from wintry winds. The club has its own lodge midway between the polo field and the main clubhouse.

Skeet shooting was organized only recently at the Onwentsia, but the traps have been there for about a quarter of a century. Among the women who shoot there are Mrs. George M. Silverthorne Jr. [Illinois state champion], Mrs. Macauley Carter [the runner-up], Mrs. Paul McBride, Mrs. G. Corson Ellis, Mrs. Austin H. Niblack, Mrs. John P. Kellogg, and Mrs. Phelps Kelley.

Although there is an especial revival of trap and skeet shooting interest at the first hint of cold weather, the sports are popular all the year around, and real enthusiasts shoot steadily at some of Chicago's clubs, such as the Lincoln Park Gun club and the Northwest Gun club, which are never closed. Until the Onwentsia opens, Mrs. Silverthorne and Mrs. Carter will continue shooting at the Northwest club, which is on Milwaukee road, north and west of the city, as its name suggests.

They compete also in tournaments at the Lincoln Park club, where Mrs. William D. Cox and Mrs. Daniel

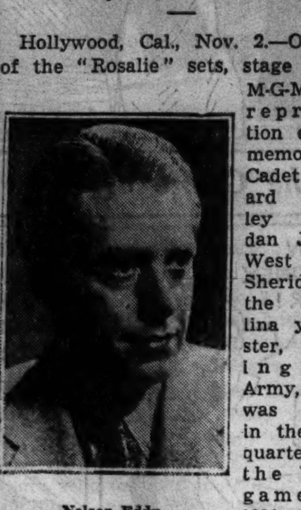
Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Hollywood Mirror.

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 2.—On one of the "Rosalie" sets, stage 15, at M-G-M, is a reproduction of the memorial to Cadet Richard Brinsley Sheridan Jr. at West Point. Sheridan is the Carolina youngster, playing for Army, who was killed in the last quarter of the Yale game of 1931 at New Haven. The stone memorial bench erected in his memory by the cadet corps is reproduced exactly on stage 15, and Nelson Eddy, in cadet dress uniform, is singing one of his songs as he stands near it.



Nelson Eddy sings in "Rosalie."

New Englanders should get a terrific kick out of "Rosalie." Nelson Eddy, Eleanor Powell, Ray Bolger, and Edna May Oliver, four of the principals in the picture, all come from down east.

At Twentieth Century Fox, stage 16, I find Director Allan Dwan working with Shirley Temple, Jack Haley, Phyllis Brooks, Gloria Stuart, and Randolph Scott in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." They've brought the famous book up to date, and so Shirley is seated at the piano in the farmhouse, doing a radio broadcast.

This amazing little girl not only sings a medley of songs in this sequence, but plays about six gadgets atop the piano as her own sound effects. Audiences will yell with laughter, unless I miss my guess, when the 8½ year old starts reminiscing; "Then I sang this song," the tot says, "and I'll never forget it. You know, folks, it's a lot of fun to reminisce."

At 8½ years of age—reminisce!! She does a radio commercial about Krispy, Krunkly, Krackly Krackers that will make radio sponsors wish they had her on their programs. In fact, her mother is considering an offer of $15,000 for a single Christmas week broadcast. She used to turn all radio offers down, for an unusual reason. Of all the stars, Shirley alone couldn't read a script. Now she knows how to read, and is available to radio.

Letters have been pouring in about Raymond Scott and his quintet, so I went to the Sonja Henie set to get the lowdown on this No. 1 "swing" composer, and find him with Oscar Romero . . . "In the first place," says Raymond Scott, "My name is Warnow. My brother, Mark Warnow, gave me the non de rhythm to avoid confusion, and not until later did we learn that there is a Raymond Scott, a trumpeter in Edwin Goldman's band. I'm 28 years old, married for two years and come from east New York, in Brooklyn. All of this success has come in the last eight months.

"You see, I figured that it was possible to compose music that people would like the first time they heard it; you know, you rarely like a modern popular song until you've heard it about twenty times. That means there's something wrong with the music. 'Twilight in Turkey,' 'Powerhouse,' 'War Dance of the Wooden Indians' are things I wrote to tell a story musically immediately. Thank the Lord, they clicked and here we are."

Dave Selznick must be burned up at losing Raymond Scott's quintet. He had 'em first and wanted to use them in "Nothing Sacred" with Carole Lombard and Fredric March, Selznick wanted to dress them up in colonial costumes and play hot, swing stuff. So Scott and his band walked out on him. "We are musicians not comedians," they said, with great dignity.

Sayao Proves a Delightful Musical Find

BY CECIL SMITH.

Gathered before a sizable and fashionable audience in the Auditorium theater, the Woman's Symphony orchestra last evening opened its 1937-'38 season with quite a splash. For this first of a series of three concerts, Frank St. Leger, a former assistant conductor of the Chicago Opera company and now conductor of the weekly radio Fireside Recital, came on from New York to serve as guest conductor. Bidu Sayao, Brazilian soprano of the Metropolitan Opera association, made her Chicago debut as soloist.

Miss Sayaõ is a delightful find. Both soothing to the eye and vocally enchanting, she won the enraptured affection of her audience. Her voice belongs in the in-between classification called lyric-coloratura. It is not as high or as flexible as a true coloratura, nor is it as large and meaty as a true operatic lyric soprano voice. Rest assured, however, that it has virtues all its own—a radiant sweetness, a fresh youthfulness, and an extremely sympathetic timbre.

She sang three arias—the invective of the Queen of the Night from Mozart's "Magic Flute," "Addio del passato," from the last act of Verdi's "La Traviata," and the gavotte from Massenet's "Manon." At the close of her last aria the audience would not let her go until she had added a group of songs with piano accompaniment, including, to the amazement of all, Bartlett's time worn "A Dream."

The "Manon" gavotte was beautifully sung, with an infectious lilt that seemed to be undisturbed by an unusually slow tempo. Violetta's pathetic farewell was an example of the purest taste, marred only slightly by a bit of rhythmic waywardness. The aria from "The Magic Flute" does not quite belong to her, for she transposes it down a full tone to avoid the high F's, and still does not quite give an impression of complete abandon.

Let us hope that Miss Sayao will return next season to sing at the opera house.

Evidently the Woman's Symphony orchestra has been waiting for the day when a man would stand before them and take matters into his own hands. They have never before played so well as they played for Mr. St. Leger. They seemed to lose most of the humorless heavy-handedness which has for so long been a hallmark of their style.

Beethoven's Seventh symphony went extremely well. Mr. St. Leger knows the score well, chooses admirable tempi, and presents the music in a manner that is architecturally sound. Despite many decorative twirls, circles, and flourishes of the baton and much foot tapping he succeeds in communicating his exact intention to the orchestra at all times. The ladies need just this clarity of leadership, and they were able to achieve a new delicacy and precision.

Mr. St. Leger presented two novelties, neither of them good. Miaskovsky's "Lyric Fragment" is a dismal early piece by a now widely recognized composer, and it has not a decent theme in sight at any time. Eugene Goossens' scherzo, "Tam O' Shanter," is hardly necessary in a world already overcrowded with orchestral scherzos.

At their next concert Dec. 12 the orchestra will be assisted by the famous Vienna Choir Boys. Gladys Welge will conduct.

At the Civic Opera house tonight a brilliantly cast performance of "Il Trovatore" will be offered, with Elisabeth Rethberg, Giovanni Martinelli, Eleanor La Mance, Carlo Morelli, and Virgilio Lazzari in the leading rôles, and Roberto Moranzoni at the conductor's stand.

Smart Styling Marks Crop of Winter Coats

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Furs and fur trimmed coats, important winter street models featuring new fabrics, lavish trim of fur, new streamlines and details are the shopping bait for the entire month.

With national fur week starting in a week, with every shop and store showing prize assortments of winter, fur trimmed coats and both fur coats and fabric coats tagged with special November price marks, the perspicacious shopper buys now.

Black coats lead the parade; all black affairs are the most practical and smartest coats any one can buy no matter what the size of the clothes allowance.

Running a good second are the popular and stunning black coats trimmed with brown fur, and the deep dark brown wool coats trimmed with flat black fur. With such coats a wardrobe achieves high distinction. Old gold dresses, green, even red and all the high fashion copper browns are combined with the coat with perfect pictorial results.

Black Persian lamb is used lavishly in panels and for entire sleeves or blouse tops and skirts. It also is used in narrow bands and cuffs and collar for the more youthful buyers.

Steel gray and a sage green are two alternate colors for the coat shoppers weary of black.

This is the November to spend your money for black coats trimmed with plenty of fur. Slim black wools have the entire wide front panel of spicy brown mink. Dull black coats have yards of smoky blue fox festooned in intricate but ingenious manner. And blacks with the glory of blazing copper red fox are spectacular. Black fox, a relief from the quantities of silver fox, is still another good buy and the newest fur surprise to be featured this season.

Fashion photograph . . . black nubby wool is combined with silky black galyak fur in this extremely youthful and practical winter coat. Notice the smart square cut shoulderlines, the bolero effect of the top, comfortable fur sleeves and the shiny buttons that keep the coat snug and smooth. Coats of this combine and many others will be found in the winter coat collections featured during November.

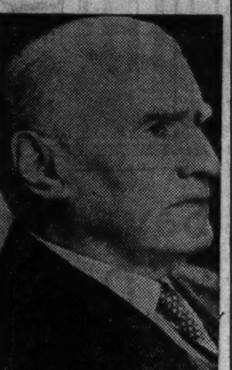
Damrosch Spry as a Boy as He Reherses Cast

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Spry as a boy despite a gruelling afternoon's rehersal, a silver haired man of 75 danced nimbly last evening around a small ante-room of the Civic Opera building. The man's name is Walter Damrosch, and the purpose of this impromptu performance was to demonstrate the sailors' hornpipe which occurs in the second act of his opera, "The Man Without a Country." This work is to be mounted for the first time locally next Saturday evening, with the composer himself on the conductor's stand.



Walter Damrosch. Opera needs a woman.

Twenty minutes after the dance episode the venerable musician was sitting at a corner table in a hotel dining room, talking about his opera as a father would talk about his child—eyes glowing, voice tense and cadenced. Every little while the composer would sing a few bars of the music in a voice which knew surprisingly few limits of range.

None of this interfered seriously with Mr. Damrosch's attention to his German sausage nor with frequent hearty gulps from a stein of Pilsner. And he found time to chat gutturally in his mother tongue with a waiter who had quitted the reich far more recently than the composer.

"You cannot write an opera without a woman."

This was said with the same air of finality which would mark a geometrician's statement that parallel lines can never meet. [And, come to think of it, the propositions are equally sound.] Mr. Damrosch was explaining the reasons for his recasting of the story.

Edward Everett Hale's "The Man Without a Country" is concerned, as every schoolboy knows, with an officer named Philip Nolan who was tried for conspiracy and who at the climax of the proceedings cursed the United States and hoped that he would never see it again. His punishment consisted in the granting of his wish. He was kept eternally at sea, and as soon as any frigate he happened to be aboard turned toward home shores he would be transferred to another. Years later he died, still without a sight of his country.

Mr. Damrosch introduced the love interest, in the person of a girl called Mary, the better to motivate the plot for which Nolan was brought to trial. She is quite a belle, and he wanted the wherewithal to be able to lay luxury and wealth at her feet.

Similarly the composer decided that the officer's death at sea in his old age was too long delayed a climax, so he allowed him to volunteer to fight in the Tripolitan wars of the early nineteenth century and expiate his crime by dying for his country.

The libretto is the work of Arthur Guiterman, and is based on the composer's scenario.

Musically Mr. Damrosch has set up as his ideal a broadly melodic treatment, with very little use of the leitmotif [roughly, "signature theme," as in Wagner]. When the words are definitly nonlyrical he occasionally uses spoken dialog.

Although born in Germany, Mr. Damrosch classifies himself as an American musician and is proud to have produced an opera whose very warp and woof is American. It stems from the early years of the nineteenth century, uses an actual hornpipe of the period ["Captain Hull's Victory"—Captain Hull commanded the frigate Constitution in its historic tangle with the Guerriere] and displays its characters in authentic uniforms. The navy department in Washington cooperated with New York's Metropolitan Opera association in staging the new opera last season. Next Saturday's production, by the way, is practically identical in cast with the Metropolitan's.

Mr. Damrosch's interest in America began when, as a boy of nine, he first visited this country. He returned to Germany for study, but was back here not many years later, ready, at the age of twenty-three, to step into the shoes of his father, Leopold Damrosch. From that day to this he has occupied himself with the conducting of operas, oratorios, and symphonies; with the ardors of composition, and with his famous music appreciation courses on the radio.

He believes in the possibility of successful opera in English, but cautions singers that they must sing English as it is spoken [with short vowels and definitly sounded consonants] if it is to be intelligible. This ability is quite rare, he said, because of the dominance of foreign methods of vocal training in the United States.

And he makes the point that composers must watch the quantities of English vowels if they are to write effectively for voice. He is impressed with the success of Handel, a man who could hardly speak the language correctly, in setting English words with such marvelous fitness.

SYNOPSIS.

When rich old Caleb Winter dies his wife, Isabella, once his housekeeper, wires her daughter, Sally Lee Keyne, at school in Maryland, to come home at last. Because Caleb had demanded a housekeeper without family ties, Isabella had never told him about Sally. Sally bids good-by to wise Mary Culpepper, school headmistress, and sets out. En route Sally meets Robin Ashe, whose family live near the old Crewe mansion, Sally's new home—he falls in love with her. The Winter chauffeur meets Sally in Baltimore and, driving her home, gives a lift to an arrogant tramp called Vincent. Sally orders the chauffeur to put him out. The morning after Sally's homecoming Joseph Marr, his lawyer, reads Caleb's will, and her mother has a stroke. Informed of his wife's deception, Caleb left everything to his first wife's nephew, Obadiah Crewe. Mrs. Winter, if she stays on as housekeeper, to have shelter and an income. The new heir turns out to be the tramp, Vincent Obadiah Crewe. Though she hates and fears him, Sally serves him as housekeeper in her mother's place. Vincent inherits Caleb's tricky West Indian valet, Manchi. Sally is touched when Vincent asks her to teach him to be a gentleman. Robin's mother and sister go to Crewe House on visitors' day. Manchi intimates to them that Sally is the new heir's mistress. Robin, whose parents are dependent on his wealthy aunt, leaves college bent on marrying Sally. Vincent is thrown from his horse during a thunderstorm while Sally is giving him a riding lesson. Sally gets him to a local inn.

INSTALMENT XXVII.
A LONGED FOR APPARITION.

"O, please try to lie quiet," pleaded Sally. "Keep your head still, Vincent."

"Did Fred shoot me?"

"No. You were thrown from your horse. Plucky was frightened by the thunderstorm and ran."

"Sure. I remember. Fred came out from behind one of those button wood trees and let me have it . . . got me back of the ear like he said he would. Why didn't you give me a chance to tell him?" He stopped, looked searchingly up at her with changed young eyes, widely opened. "Sally . . . Sally . . . Sally."

She wished he would not repeat her name. She would gladly have put her hand across his mouth. Such a curious variety of tones: reproach, tenderness, longing, anger, and suspicion. But his voice was astonishingly beautiful and resonant. He should have been an actor. He could do anything with that voice. Now, in delirium, his face and mouth and eyes were all alive, like his voice, and changeful. This was not the man she had known. The difference lay in two circumstances: the lack of rigid control and the enormous opening of his eyes. They were young, brilliant eyes, sparkling blue gray, polished like crystals. Nothing of the poker player's changelessness about them.

"Hush, Vincent, hush." She put her hand upon his and instantly he lay still and was silent and looked at her. He smiled very slowly and simply and closed his lids. So she kept her gentle and warm grasp on his fingers.

After about another hour, "I'm thirsty," he said.

She drew away her hand and went to the bell button beside the door.

She went out into the hall. There was no sign of any answering bell boy. The inn was entirely silent and only the night lights burned. The long, empty passage with its narrow crimson carpet made her think of the St. Charles hotel and room 825. Her longing for Robin made her stand still and close her eyes. She was about to go on, holding her borrowed wrapper close about her, toward a water filter she remembered seeing at the turn close to the head of the stairs, when she heard Vincent's voice calling in a muffled and frightened tone, "Sally . . . Sally . . . Sally."

She returned to his door and opened it . . . he was looking anxiously for her, but had not lifted his head.

"Don't call me, Vincent. I'll be right back . . . hush!"

She faced the hall again, softly shutting herself out, and found that another visitor to the inn had come out of his room a few feet further up the hall and was standing still to look at her. He was a tall man in a gray traveling suit and his head was dark, curly, and narrow. She saw this and then she recognized him. It was Robin Ashe. He had, of course, seen her and was staring at her fixedly. But when she gave a low exclamation and made a quick step toward him, her lips open for speech, he jerked his body back and away and strode as rapidly as a man can without actually running from her down the interminable passage and out of Sally's sight. She called "Robin!" faintly and then a trifle louder. A bell boy came up quickly behind her just as she was about to run after the longed for apparition.

"Did you ring, ma'am?"

"Y—yes. We . . . want some ice water, please."

"I guess you'll be glad to know that the doctor's just come in, Mrs Crewe. He's on his way up now."

Sally went in. Vincent seemed to have fallen asleep again or perhaps into a coma. She stood staring at a ghostly image of herself in the long mirror of the bathroom door. Of course Robin hadn't recognized her. She looked like "nothing human" . . . her hair was still dark with rain and plastered down, her eyes were shrunk within swollen lids . . . there was no color in her face or mouth. And the shapeless wrapper made her look like a long cylindrical mummy, straight from neck to heel. He had simply wished to relieve a strange woman in an unbecoming negligee of his embarrassing presence. Why he was there at Grassways inn was certainly something to wonder about . . . but not his lack of recognition nor his swift, wordless escape. When she got to Crewe House . . . there would be news. Her blood began to move to the drums of reassurance and delight. This was the answer to her letter . . . Robin himself!

She did not guess that Robin had left the inn, thrown himself into his roadster, and was flying through the night with such pain of jealousy and shame, of tortured love and pride fastened upon his sensitive spirit, as he had never before imagined that a man might be called upon to endure.

Vincent Crewe was suffering from a concussion, not too serious, but had better, the doctor said, not be moved from his bedroom at Grassways inn. A nurse was sent for and Sally, before noon of the bright, warm day that followed upon the storm, mounted Star and rode home, where, at the stables, she found that Jock had retrieved Plucky, none the worse for his fright. As soon as she had visited her mother and given an account of yesterday's misadventure, Sally hurried to her own room and eagerly took up the little pile of mail. It contained the expected telegram from Robin Ashe.

"Letter received. Rescue all lined up. On my return to put plan over with your help. Will see family first. You on Thursday. Love."

Today, the calendar told Sally, widening her eyes upon it, was Friday. She rushed down stairs, summoned Charles, Henry Early, every one . . . there was no evidence of any ardent visitor to see Miss Sally—no young gentleman at all.

Sally, at last, after three terrible days, was driven by the misery of her suspense past pride to the magic maker for divided criminals and lovers . . . the telephone.

She shut fast the office door and with shaking fingers turned the leaves of the telephone book to the name of Ronald Ashe at Fallows. She moved the dial jerkily, sat pale and empty of expression until her color flashed up at the sound of an answering voice.

"Hullo."

"Hullo. Is this the home of Mr. Ronald Ashe?"

"Yes, madam."

"May I . . . I wonder if I . . . can speak to Mr. Robin Ashe?"

"Mr. Robin is not at home now, madam."

"Not at home? But he's staying somewhere in the neighborhood, isn't he?"

"I'm not sure, madam. You might try at his sister's, Mrs. Ernest Vintry's."

"O, thank you. Yes."

She hung up and began again, this time with tears on her eyelashes, to look down the listed names. Vintry. Ernest Vintry. Hanbury 208.

Another voice, a particularly clear and high pitched one, no servant's certainly.

"Hullo."

"Hullo. I wonder if I might speak to Mr. Robin Ashe?"

"Who is this, please?"

"Sally Keyne, at Crewe House. I want to speak to Mr. Robin Ashe."

"Just a moment, please."

the Chicago City Opera company, was introduced to Chicago as soloist with the Woman's Symphony; this year it is the beautiful young Brazilian, Bidu Sayao, whom Chicago has heard for the first time with the orchestra. And without venturing too far into the realm of a music reviewer, may I say that last night's audience "fell" just as hard for Miss Sayao as last year's did for Mme. Wettergren?

Mrs. Royden J. Keith, president of the orchestral association, was beaming last night, as she had a perfect right to do, for every one who spoke to her was sincerely enthusiastic about the concert, praising not only the soloist but the orchestra and the guest conductor, Frank St. Leger.

Mr. St. Leger, by the way, did not receive a tribute of beautiful red roses as Miss Sayao did, but he was visited by so many admiring feminine members of the audience during the intermission that he hardly had time to change his shirt, something a conductor always finds it necessary to do when a concert is half over.

Almost every box was occupied so the golden horseshoe presented very much the same appearance it used to years ago when opera was given in the Auditorium. An attractive party was one at which Mme. Edith Mason of the opera company was hostess. Her guests were Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mr. and Mrs. Leeds Mitchell, and Arthur Meeker Jr.

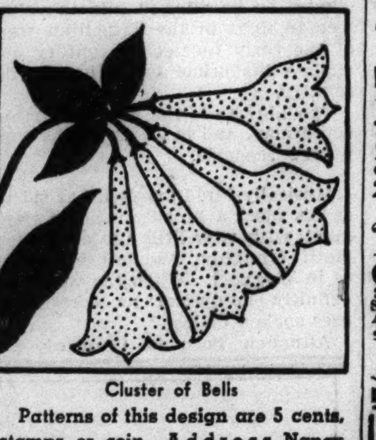
Friends of Drama.

The Friends of Drama will have members of theater companies now playing in Chicago as guests at a matinée breakfast at noon today at the Palmer house. Afterward the organization will attend the matinée of "Yes, My Darling Daughter," at the Grand Opera house.

Applique Quilt Requires Ability and Experience

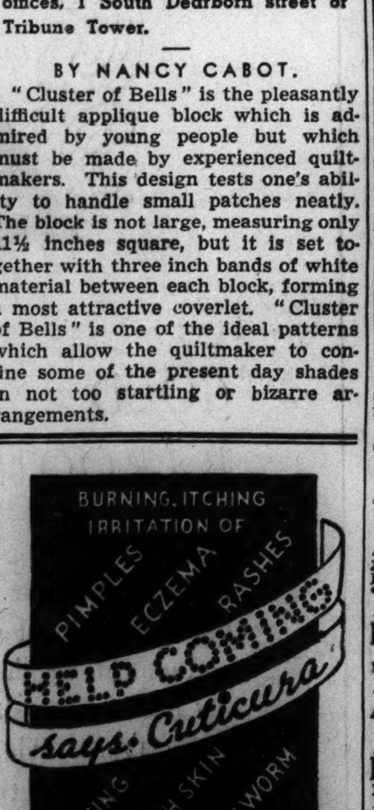


Cluster of Bells

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Cluster of Bells" is the pleasantly difficult applique block which is admired by young people but which must be made by experienced quiltmakers. This design tests one's ability to handle small patches neatly. The block is not large, measuring only 11½ inches square, but it is set together with three inch bands of white material between each block, forming a most attractive coverlet. "Cluster of Bells" is one of the ideal patterns which allow the quiltmaker to confine some of the present day shades in not too startling or bizarre arrangements.



Girls Latin School Seeks $100,000 for New Building Fund

A campaign to raise a building fund of $100,000 for the Girls Latin school was started yesterday afternoon at a reception for parents at the school, 59 East Scott street. Joseph T. Ryerson, president of the board of trustees, announced plans for the campaign, of which he is chairman. He announced that gifts in hand amount to $15,000.

Mr. Ryerson explained that the immediate purpose is to take up an option on land adjacent to the school, and to repay a loan with which the school purchased additional grounds last summer. The school is owned by the parents and is self sustaining.

Sports Lovers Turn to Guns and Badminton

Rice shoot. Charles M. Spainhour is president of the Lincoln Park club, which has one of the most complete and attractive clubhouses in the country.

Junior Mrs. Knode Taking Instruction.

Mrs. George J. Jaeger Jr. also shoots at the Northwest, where Mrs. Oliver M. Knode Jr. is taking instruction in the sport from her husband. Ralph Hobart and William S. Miller seldom miss a Sunday afternoon's shooting at the Northwest where Sewell L. Avery and David A. Crawford also practie occasionally.

Not so many women shoot at the Exmoor Country club, where the trap shoot was among the earliest ones organized in this part of the country. There is no special lodge for the gun enthusiasts, who use the main clubhouse, which remains open throughout the winter. The skeet and traps are set up at the southwest corner of the building.

There will be special matches over Thanksgiving and Washington's birthday, and the Country Club league, including the Exmoor, South Shore, Glen View, Onwentsia, and other clubs, will meet there occasionally. Edward E. Mellinger is chairman of the shooting.

The shooting lodge at the Knollwood club has been enlarged. W. Victor Young is chairman of the shoot committee. There will be no skeet shooting, only traps, this season at the Glen View club, where the season will not open until Nov. 28. There will be a regular shoot every Sunday until March 27, with S. M. Roberts as chairman.

Plan Holiday Dinner for Sara Elizabeth Peace.

Adding to the round of Christmastime gayety for the subdebutante set is a dinner Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Peace will give at home Dec. 20 preceding the Christmas fortnightly dance, for their daughter, Sara Elizabeth. Miss Peace entered Wellesley college this fall, after graduating from the Latin School for Girls last June.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walter Miller of Winnetka are planning a dinner party for debutante Sally Crowder on the evening of Dec. 29 preceding the Masque and Wig's first Chicago appearance in the Civic Opera house. Mr. Miller was a member of the Masque and Wig when he was at the University of Pennsylvania.

Miss Crowder, daughter of the Gilbert Crowders of Winnetka, is at college at Pine Manor. She made her debut early in the fall at a tea at the Indian Hill club.

Prenuptial Parties For Miss Gould.

In the final week before her wedding to Benjamin Taylor Porter, Miss Margaret Gould and her bridal attendants are attending a whirl of parties. Miss Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Gould of Winnetka, and Mr. Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Porter, are to be married at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night at the Winnetka Congregational church, with a reception following at the Winnetka Woman's club.

Miss Gould has asked her cousin, Miss Martha Roberts of La Grange to be maid of honor. The bridesmaids include another bride-to-be, Miss Virginia Rich, whose wedding to Sidney S. Date will take place Nov. 20. Miss Hope Freeman, Miss Doris Benson, and Mrs. John W. Holloway are the other bridesmaids.

Mr. Porter's brother, Knight C. Porter, will be best man, and another brother, Robert Porter, and Mr. Date, Mr. Holloway, Francis Holbrook, Robert Ferris of Harvard, Ill., and James Hardy of Sterling, Ill., will usher.

An especial guest at the wedding will be the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Charles F. Thompson of Cincinnati, O., who is lending Miss Gould a handkerchief to carry which Mrs. Thompson carried at her own wedding. Mr. Porter and his bride will go to the Smoky mountains on their wedding trip, and will live in Evanston.

Delay Entertaining for Miss Rich.

Miss Rich, daughter of Stanley Rich of Winnetka, and Mr. Date, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lamson H. Date, also of Winnetka, have been so busy attending parties for Miss Gould that they are postponing most of their parties until they return from a brief wedding trip.

Miss Eleanor Wetten is giving a tea and shower at home in town today for Miss Gould. Miss Mary McCarty is entertaining tomorrow for Miss Gould and Mr. Porter, and Mr. and Mrs. Gould will give the bridal dinner Friday night at the Sunset Ridge Country club.

The marriage of Miss Rich to Mr. Date will take place at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at Christ church, Winnetka, where the Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard will read the service in the presence of the immediate families. A small reception will follow at home. Mrs. Holloway will be the bride's only attendant, and Samuel Rockwell will be Mr. Date's best man.

Mrs. George Parker and her daughters, Mrs. Leonard Bridges and Miss Jane Parker, are giving a tea for Miss Rich next Wednesday. Mrs. Frederick Burnham and Mrs. James Fleming will give a tea on Nov. 18.

The first of five lectures on masterpieces of far eastern paintings, by Charles Fabens Kelley, curator of oriental art at the Art institute, will be given this morning at 11 o'clock.

Clifton Utley will lecture on current events before the Evanston-North Shore Wells club at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the home of Mrs. George B. Dryden in Evanston.

Mrs. Thomas H. Knorr, Mrs. Paul B. Magnuson Jr., and Mrs. Maurice Leigh are driving east today to attend the 100th anniversary celebration of the birth of Mrs. Elizabeth J. Somers, who founded the Mount Vernon school near Washington more than 60 years ago.

The festivities will be held tomorrow, Friday, and Saturday at the school, which now is a junior college. Mrs. George A. Seaverns Jr. has been in charge of the anniversary events for the middle west district. She and Mrs. Everett Cook also will spend the week-end at the school.

The Arts club has cards out for a tea next Tuesday from 4 to 6 o'clock to open two exhibitions—contemporary Mexican plaintings and paintings by Jack Gage Stark. Mr. Stark and his wife, formerly Mrs. Edith Leonard Glass of Chicago, will not be here from their home in California for the tea, but Mrs. Ines Amor, who assembled the Mexican show, will be here for the opening.

Infant Welfare Rummage Sale.

The Kenwood and North Shore branches of the Infant Welfare society are holding their joint fall rummage sale at 153 North Michigan avenue on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week. The sale annually is one of the most successful ones conducted and there always is a large stock of attractive merchandise.

Mrs. Eugene Talbot is chairman of the sale, assisted by Mrs. Frederick L. McNally, president of the north side group, and Mrs. Herbert Mayer, president of the Kenwood branch, as vice chairmen.

One of the Evanston Infant Welfare juniors, Mrs. Chauncey Hobart, said farewell to the juniors at tea yesterday at the home of Mrs. Hugh McCulloch. She is leaving shortly with her two children to join her husband in Pittsburgh, which is to be their home.

The Glencoe Senior center of the Infant Welfare society is having an all day meeting for sewing and luncheon today at the home of Mrs. Robert Fletcher, 730 Bluff street, Glencoe. The center assists the Glencoe Community Chest campaign which will begin on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Senior, former Chicagoans, have arrived here for a visit of 10 days with relatives and old friends.

HAROLD TEEN—CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS

News of Radio

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The duke of Windsor's promise to address the American people by radio is credited in part, in broadcasting circles, to the radio-mindedness of the Arthur Kudner, Inc., advertising agency, which the duke has retained to handle details of his American tour. The Kudner firm is not a tour agency at all, but a big advertising agency which handles automotive and other accounts that use radio periodically.

For several years now this agency has handled the big fight broadcasts for an auto company which have been aired over extensive networks. It has never been satisfactorily explained why the Kudner agency was picked to arrange the Windsors' tour. There is a clew in the fact, however, that the car Edward presented to Mrs. Simpson, when the duke was king, was American made and of the make the Kudner agency promotes.

Edward was last on the air when he bade farewell to his empire on Dec. 11, 1936. It seems likely that his audience on Friday, Nov. 12 [at 6 p. m. central standard time], will rival that of President Roosevelt two evenings thereafter when he makes his next fireside address.

There's a lot of talk on the air already about the Windsors' forthcoming visit. Emily Post gave out some instructions via CBS the other day on how to address the famous pair: "If you happen to meet the duke and duchess of Windsor while they are in America," she explained, "call the duke 'Your Royal Highness,' but his wife just plain 'you.'"

The Rev. Gerald K. Smith, former Huey Long disciple, has arranged to take over the time and stations which the Rev. Charles Coughlin had planned to use this fall until headed off by his bishop. . . . Rube Appleberry is moving from Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 6:45 to Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday at the same hour on W-G-N. . . . WBBM will use its new trailer studio for a series of broadcasts to be called "The Missus Goes to Market." Tommy Bartlett will interview housewives as they buy their groceries at neighborhood stores. . . . Betty Lou Gerson was engaged yesterday as feminine headliner of new Grand Hotel series.

E. F. McDonald Jr. has just installed a powerful new transmitter on his yacht Mizpah, which is available for both signal and code transmission. Commander McDonald, who lives aboard the yacht, lying off Monroe street, uses it to contact friends and business associates in Chicago—in this roundabout fashion. Since there is no commercial station in Chicago handling telephonic trafic, he contacts a Lorraine, O., station by short wave. This station then puts through a long distance call to Chicago. Then ensues a conversation by air lanes and telephone from Chicago to the yacht in Lake Michigan by way of Ohio.

Poetic Melodies, that relaxing 10 p. m. program of melody, philosophy, and verse, featuring Jack Fulton, tenor, and Franklyn MacCormack, reader, and orchestra under Carl Garden, has been renewed for a solid year by Phil Wrigley on CBS.

Myrna Dee Sergent, who broadcasts features of interest to women over WAAF, is to give a tea and fashion show for women leaders at the Palmer house today. Radio personalities will be presented. . . . Mary Livingstone reported at the studio the other day that when her daughter, Naomi, declines to eat her spinach she simply threatens to make her listen to Papa Jack Benny's fiddling. It always works. . . . Amos and Andy are broadcasting from New York this week. Between airshots they are visiting the soup factory whose praises they soon are to sing.

YESTERDAY'S QUESTIONS.

Question 30: Both sides vulnerable. You are south. North deals and bids one spade. Next hand [East] doubles. Your holding is:

♠Q10875 ♥4 ♦KJ632 ♣42

What call do you make?

Answer: You should jump to four spades. This, of coure, is a preëmptive [shutout] raise. It would be naive to redouble one spade, merely because you "like" your partner's bid. Obviously, the opponents never would permit you to play the one spade redoubled and, thus, you would only be giving them opportunity "to get together," and select a suit of their own. [Two points demerit for redoubling, or bidding two spades or two diamonds. One point demerit for jumping to only three spades].

Question 31: Both sides vulnerable. You are South. North deals and bids one spade. Next hand [East] doubles. Your holding is:

♠8 ♥AJ94 ♦KJ83 ♣K1076

What call do you make?

Answer: You should redouble. You have such strength outside of the spade suit that you need have no fear of playing one spade redoubled. Partner will be able to make sufficient side suit tricks to compensate for trump losers. Your redouble asks partner to let you "take charge" and, obviously, you are prepared to massacre any takeout opponents may make. Any action other than a redouble on your part will let the opponents "off the hook," which at the moment they most decidedly are on. [Two points demerit for any call other than redouble.]

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question 32: Both sides vulnerable. You are South. North deals and bids two spades. Next hand passes. Your holding is:

♠J843 ♥2 ♦Q75432 ♣52

You respond two no trump. After West's pass, North bids three hearts. East passes.

What call do you make now?

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 spades	Pass
3 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened his fourth best club. East took the ace and returned the queen. Declarer drew two rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, and then led a heart to his own jack. West won with the queen and made a foolish and fatal return. On the superficial reasoning that he never could make more than two heart tricks, since dummy had only two, West cashed the heart ace. Then, since he could not lead a club without establishing dummy's ten, he reluctantly led a low diamond from the queen. East's ace won, but the defenders had taken their last trick. On a diamond return, declarer put up the king and discarded dummy's third diamond on the established king of hearts.

West's reasoning regarding the number of hearts he could win was, of course, correct, but he had totally overlooked another contingency, namely, that the release of the ace would establish a high heart in declarer's hand that otherwise could have been trapped. Declarer already had shown the ace-queen of spades, the king of clubs, and probably the king-jack of hearts. If he had held the ace-king of diamonds as well he certainly would have jumped to four spades over two, instead of making the tentative game try of three spades. Thus, West could count on his partner's holding at least one high diamond honor. Instead of releasing the heart ace, West should have shifted to a low diamond. East would win and return a diamond, thus insuring two diamond tricks for his side. These, with two hearts and the club ace, would have defeated the contract and given East-West a good, instead of a bad, match point score on the board.

The Housewife

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

The right kind of brush for every household task lightens labor. Looking over a large array, the other day, we were amazed at the varieties and the reasonable prices. And we became acquainted with several types that were brand new to us.

There is a brush, for instance, that is made especially to keep the inside of the coffee percolator or pot shining clean. It's shaped like a huge question mark, the curve fitting the rounded sides of the container to be cleaned. Instead of swishing around with a soapy cloth now all you have to do is to use this clever brush.

Then there's a neat little black brush, like a paint brush, made to clean waffle irons. A capable looking, looped brush with thick bristles is designed especially for upholstery and it is slightly curved for greater efficiency. It sells for less than half a dollar and it will last a long time.

There are other brushes slender enough to clean the inside of tea pot and coffee pot spouts. And all are quite inexpensive.

Eight Carson Specials

Jumbo Handbags

star in a big handbag show at $3

The show is on! Truly these bags amaze even us—hard as we have slaved to get them. And bags like these are to be a specialty with Carson's from now on. Handbags are the big accessory—simple in line, color and materials; but big. Suave suedes, smooth calfskins, rough leathers in black or brown. Initials extra, 50c to $1.50.

Handbags, First Floor.

Dressy Coat Specials

there's coat value extraordinary!

Now $67

An opportunity to choose from a group of coats that are all proven successes—every element of chance removed—at a sale price, before winter has even begun. The season's most-in-demand fabrics, foremost furs, Persian lamb or fox, and leading color, black, are featured—and the price is well below regular. Each, $67.

The coat with the notched shawl of Persian lamb, 31½ to 45½, 36 to 44; the boxy style with the pouch collar of blue-dyed or black fox, 12 to 20; the plastron-front style, trimmed in Persian, 12 to 20.

Moderate Price Coats, Fourth Floor.

Special!

Crepe Hosiery

two and three thread chiffon

95c pair

With the Paris stamp on skirts shorter by day and slit or lifted for evening, lovely sheer hosiery becomes less a luxury, and more and more a necessity. This sale offers you a rare opportunity to lay in a many months' supply without undermining your budget. Both styles look sheerer than they actually are. Fashionable colors—Inca Tan, Avenue, Andes, Smoketone, Cafe Clair.

Hosiery, First Floor.

Sport Coat Specials

value winners on every count!

$44

Originally very much higher priced, the coats in this sale! And you have only to see them to realize why. They are fashioned of sturdy, wind-resistant fabrics of a very fine type; they have great, fluffy, long-haired fur collars that fight the wind from your ears; their snug interlinings put them in the all-winter-long class. They are casual in character, but adapt themselves readily to all 'round wear. Many shades are included in the group, and you have your choice of raccoon or polar wolf in collars. 12 to 20.

Sports Shop, Fourth Floor.

Special!

Gay Scarfs

put color into your costume

$1.95

Portraits of a lady with treasured bits of silk tucked at her throat, in a season when the careful gesture of arranging a beautiful scarf is definitely one of elegance. Incredibly soft chiffon squares in exotic Persian patterns or tubular satin ascots in gay bright plaids that knot into the trimmest and smartest neck business we've seen. Both styles have hand-rolled edges. Special, $1.95 each.

GOLDBERG WILL START AGAINST IRISH SATURDAY

But Pitt May Lose Daddio.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Coach Jock Sutherland of the University of Pittsburgh football team, already worrying overtime as a result of Notre Dame's victory over Minnesota last Saturday, found a new source of anguish today. He was informed by team physicians that Bill Daddio, giant end, whose defensive play has been an important factor in Pitt's unbeaten record to date, is more seriously injured than thought, and probably will be unable to face the Irish at Notre Dame Saturday.

Daddio has a damaged knee which has failed to respond to heat treatments and other ministrations. His loss would have a depressing effect on Pitt's stock, to say nothing of its damage to its chances of a second consecutive invitation to the Pasadena Rose Bowl.

The Last Chance.

The Panthers, always figuring victory over Notre Dame as the supreme achievement of any season, have additional incentive this year in the fact that Saturday's game will conclude relations between the two schools under the present contract. In view of the recent announcement that Pittsburgh has decided to reduce its annual quota of "big games," the contest may well set a permanent period to the relationship.

The Pitt staf found one ray of sunshine in the general atmosphere of gloom permeating today's long practice in the announcement that Marshall Goldberg, spectacular left half back, will be in condition to take his place in the starting back field Saturday. Both Goldberg and Daddio were held out of last week's battle with Carnegie, a maneuver which many fans thought was designed only to save them for the more trying ordeal with Notre Dame.

Shaw Missing, Too.

Now it develops that neither was able to start against the Tartans and spent the afternoon under treatment in the dispensary. Goldberg's ailment, a lame leg, is not so serious as that of Daddio and he probably again will be the menace his opponents have learned to fear.

The end situation is made still more acute by the absence from practice of Bomber Shaw, understudy to Frank Souchak at the right flank. Shaw also is having trouble with his knees. Souchak and Fabian, both capable veterans, however, are in top condition for end duty against the Irish.

IRISH EASE UP

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Notre Dame's first team will not scrimmage this week, Coach Elmer Layden announced today, as he ordered a light drill on offense and defense against Pitt plays.

He said the tired condition of this first team, which has played nearly the full 60 minutes in each of the last two games with Navy and Minnesota, and the danger of injury to key men has made it inadvisable to scrimmage.

Brush Up Offense.

Today's drill was given over as much to offensive maneuvers as to defensive. The Irish realize that Pitt has had only 14 points scored against it this year, all of them coming last Saturday while the Panthers were scoring 25 against Carnegie Tech. Meanwhile, Pitt has been stopped only by Fordham and has rolled up 130 points against five other opponents.

Notre Dame's record of three victories, one defeat, and a tie has been carved out while the Irish were scoring 44 points—21 of them against Drake—and were allowing 22 points.

Marshall Is Back.

Walter [Babe] Marshall, right guard who started against Navy, rejoined the squad today after a week's absence because of an injury. Joe Kuharich, however, will start at this position, having distinguished himself against Minnesota last week.

GOODMAN KEEPS MEXICAN GOLF TITLE; WINS, 6-5

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 2. — Johnny Goodman of Omaha, Neb., American amateur golf champion, today defeated Don Schumacher of Dallas, Tex., 6 and 5, in the 36 hole final round for the Mexican national amateur championship. Goodman was the defending champion.

The women's Mexican title went to Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, who routed Mrs. Mary Carruthers, Mexico City, 10 and 9, in the 36 hole final.

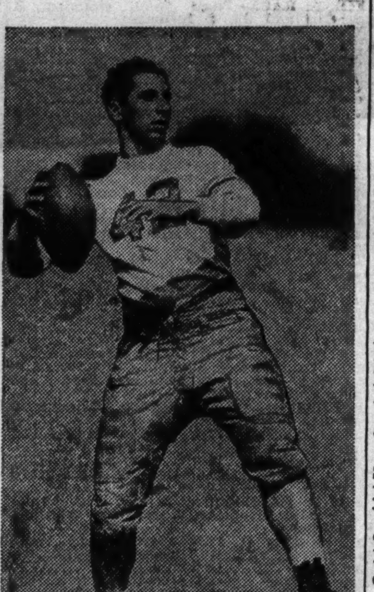
Hold Funeral Services for Ed Walsh Jr., Ex-Sox Hurler

Meriden, Conn., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Funeral services were held today for Ed Walsh Jr., who died last Sunday. Walsh, like his father, pitched for the Chicago White Sox. Walsh, 32 years old, attended the University of Notre Dame.

Beware, Irish, When Panthers Prowl

One of seven reasons why the line the Pitt Panthers will send against the Irish at Notre Dame Saturday is considered among the nation's best. Frank Souchak, senior end (above), is a talented pass catcher and a mountain on defense.

Frank Patrick, Pitt full back, will not be far from home when he faces Notre Dame. He is an East Chicago High school product.



Marshall Goldberg, the most highly publicized sophomore back in the country last season, will be at left half for the Panthers.

After reading "Sonnets of a Substitute," all I can say is that I look for Jane to be sporting the substitute's fraternity pin any day now. The co-ed doesn't live who could resist such poetic appeals, even if her swain's wistful dreams of prowess on the football field never come true.

Because the field was slippery and wet,
And all our team were feeling mighty sad
Knowing that nearly all the fans had bet,

And when the safety thought he had me penned
I'd slide across the goal on my caboose.
Can you imagine what that crowd would do
Knowing I'd filled their pocketbook with kale,

Indiana Takes Pride in Three Major Elevens

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 2.—The state of Indiana has an unrivaled opportunity Saturday to capture the attention of the football world. Indiana university, a far better eleven than its defeats by Minnesota and Nebraska indicate, can throw the Western conference championship into a maelstrom of uncertainty. Purdue and Notre Dame face intersectional opponents, Fordham and Pittsburgh, both of whom are undefeated and have themselves played a scoreless tie.

Indiana's game with Ohio State is top billing in the Western conference, not only because of the importance of the Buckeyes' position as leader in the title race, but because there is a widely supported belief that Indiana now should reach the turn in its road of bad luck.

Victory Would Cheer Purdue.

Purdue, already defeated by Ohio State and Northwestern, has a splendid chance to recoup prestige by a victory over Fordham. In the final game of the series between Notre Dame and Pittsburgh, the Irish, hailed for a gallant, victorious fight against Minnesota, are seeking to re-

PURPLE CHANCES BOOM; RESERVES ACQUIRE SKILL

Varsity Players Will Get Help Henceforth.

Handicapped during the early season by lack of adequate reserves, Northwestern's football team faces Illinois at Dyche stadium in Saturday's homecoming game with the problem nearly solved.

This is true particularly in the line where Coach Burt Ingwersen has developed a group of sophomores to where they are able to step into the lineup and give a good account of themselves.

Against Wisconsin Saturday, Northwestern used 28 players, 10 more than against Ohio State the previous week. With experienced players two deep at most positions, the old bugaboo of lack of trained reserves should not stalk the Wildcats in their remaining three games.

Supporting John Kovatch and Cleo Diehl, regular ends, are Bob Daly, Ted Grefe, and Tom Eby. All three have seen considerable service this fall and help make the end positions one of the best fortified on the squad.

With Frank Young, Tom Irving, and Jack O'Leary showing steady progress at tackle, it will not be necessary for Bob Voigts and Nick Cutlich to play 60 minute ball as was the case in the early season games.

Conteas Relieves Vanzo.

Mike Calvano and Don Guritz, regular guards, have capable replacements in Dick Wells, John Goldak, Fred Heitman, and Hal Method. John Haman, sophomore center, now can relieve Erwin Wegner, who has played throughout most of the games.

The problem of back field reserves also has been improved in recent weeks. The situation was particularly acute at quarter back and full back where Fred Vanzo and Jack Ryan had been holding forth with little assistance.

An injury to Vanzo in the Ohio State game necessitated calling upon Nick Conteas, husky sophomore from Waukegan. Conteas has come through excellently. Jay Laskay and George McGurn, sophomore full backs, have developed rapidly the last two weeks and will relieve Ryan.

MAZEIKA MAY START.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Tony Mazeika, junior from Calumet High school, Chicago, became a possibility for the right half back position against Northwestern when he appeared at the post in Illinois' workout today.

Bob Zuppke, nephew of the coach, advanced to second string right end in place of Frank Bell, who will be unable to play. Zuppke worked Ralph Bennett, sophomore from Alton, at full back, and it is possible he will replace Howie Carson in the starting lineup.

JOHNNY NEUN IS NAMED MANAGER OF NEWARK CLUB

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Johnny Neun has been named to manage the Newark Bears in 1938, George Weiss, head of the New York Yankee farm system, announced today. Neun succeeds Oscar Vitt, who resigned recently to accept a major league post as manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Neun has been a member of the Yankee farm organization for several years, and last year managed the Norfolk team in the Piedmont league. Prior to that he had managed Akron of the Mid-Atlantic league.

The new pilot of the Bears is 36 years old and played in the major leagues as first baseman for the Detroit Tigers and with the Boston Red Sox for a short time. He played three years at first base for Newark.

George Cockill, Former Coach at Bucknell, Dies

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 2.—(AP)—George Cockill Sr., 56, former Bucknell football coach, died today at the home of a son in nearby Steelton. He had played baseball for Reading, Williamsport, Albany, N. Y., and Montreal. At one time he was an umpire in the National league. His widow, Mrs. Mary Cockill, a son and a daughter survive.

Turf World Mourns Starter Morrissey; Burial Tomorrow

Years as Jocky and Owner Fit Him for Duties.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Racing men today mourned the passing at his Redwood City home of Harry Morrissey, dean of America's starters and one of the turf's outstanding figures.

Harry Morrissey.

As befitted the man who was known from Tia Juana to New York as the greatest in the nation at sending fields away in perfect alignment, Morrissey died virtually in harness. On Saturday he sent off field after field in his usual capable fashion at the Bay Meadows track. Bay Meadows does not operate on Mondays, and it was on Monday afternoon that he suffered a fatal heart attack. He will be buried Thursday morning at Redwood City.

Loyal to First Mount.

The last of the old school starters—before the days of gates and gadgets—Morrissey was born in Manchester, England, 62 years ago. His parents came to America two years later. He rose from exercise boy to jocky, booting them home successfully until in-

BY FRENCH LANE.

Harry Morrissey was one of the squarest and most dynamic men in horse racing.

To describe him to those who never had the pleasure of knowing him one would have to borrow the descriptive powers of a Dickens. He was as rough and refreshing as an old tweed coat.

Self-educated, he had a vocabulary that would have put to shame old Noah Webster himself.

Both Morrissey's ire and his interest were hard to rouse, but when that point was reached his listeners could relax in their chairs for an hour or more of interesting chatter.

A Language of His Own.

Any guy—and he found lots of them in horse racing—who wasn't right was wrong. He didn't care a whit for the niceties of the English language when it came to a description of somebody who was wrong.

Race horses will miss him for he was one of their greatest friends.

Some of those who were in the crowd at Aurora one spring day some ten years ago may dispute this. Morrissey climbed down from the starter's stand, picked up a fence rail and struck an unruly horse on the head with it with such power that the horse was knocked unconscious.

"Crazy horses should be in an asylum and not on a race track," was

Roller Derby Returns--It's the Thriving Babe of Sport

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The transcontinental roller Derby, that sterling test of stamina and speed on skates, swept through the metropolis of Big Springs, Neb., last night. The good citizens of Big Springs [population, 595] were not disturbed, however, for the careening passage of the troupe was negotiated by remote control. In fact, they transacted their journey within the confines of our own Coliseum. Therein for the next two weeks the business of covering mileage between Salt Lake City and Chicago, a distance of 1,466 miles, will be conducted.

An hour's visit with Leo A. Seltzer, the recognized messiah of the roller skating movement, will cure the novice of any skepticism he may have entertained before his first gander at the young men and ladies who are striving to be first across the finish line come Nov. 14. After Mr. Seltzer has preached his sermon anent the tenets of his creed, the novice needs spend only an hour or two to be imbued with the enthusiasm reflected by the regulars, of whom there were night onto 4,000 present last evening.

It Was Born Here.

Wheeled skates were in vogue along the roads of old Holland in the eighteenth century, and the first four wheeled skate was designed in 1863 by one J. L. Plimpton of New York, but all Chicagoans may well be proud of the fact that our town was the birthplace of the transcontinental roller Derby. That would be in 1935, when Mr. Seltzer, disdaining the scoffing to which all pioneers are subjected, registered his brain child with the United States Patent office.

Prophet Seltzer predicts that the transcontinental Derby will eventually raise this form of locomotion to Olympic games status within a few years. He is a very fount of statistics on roller skating, pointing out that 90 per cent of all Americans skitter over their native sidewalks at some time before they are 18, whereas only little more than 50 per cent play baseball.

Wes Is Quite a Blocker.

The thirty artists who comprise the field of fifteen teams competing in the current Derby at the Coliseum are well fitted out with that distinctive quality known as "color," as befits a company which has wheeled its way around rinks in New York, Philadelphia, Minneapolis, St. Louis, and Miami.

There is Wes Aronson, the 190 pound athlete, who for a time last night was holding the lead in the race with his partner, Hazel Roop of Columbus, O. Wes is considered the Lou Meyer of the fiber oval, so to speak, his forte being blocking out frantic pursuers, a practice which not only is permitted but is encouraged. A few years ago Aronson played left half back on the Roosevelt High eleven here.

Evans Walkathon Alumnus.

Joe Evans of Tulsa, Okla., who is running sixth with Honey Thomas of Memphis as his partner, is a walkathon alumnus, having strolled around the Coliseum annex for five months and twenty-seven days in 1935 before marrying his partner, the former Teddy Moore. Mrs. Evans is now one of the roller Derby's matrons.

Most interesting team in the Derby is the mater-filius duo of Ma and Willie Bogash. Ma, a Louisville matron of 42 years, yields naught to her younger rivals while she is helping son Willie. Kitty Nehls, the Kenosha girl who is representing the C. Y. O., proved on Monday night that she is as fast as she is comely by dashing off a quarter mile record of 44.3 seconds, which compares well with the men's mark of 41.3. Last night she lowered the half mile mark by a full second, skating the distance in one minute twenty-seven and six-tenths seconds.

Here's How It's Done.

The Derby is decided on points. Passing the last skater in the field merits one point, overhauling half the field nets two, and going around the whole pack brings five points. Contestants who come to grief in spills must remain prone on the track until they are lifted by assistants. Gene Vizena of Gary, whose dad used to be quite a boxer, was last night's first victim, lighting on her bloomers at the top of the northwest turn. But she was hustled up in time to assist her partner, Joe Nygre, in taking the lead as the 739th mile pole was reached. Their point total stood at 32.

Once a nine hour daily chore, the Derby has been narrowed to four hours nightly, between 8 o'clock and midnight. Partners alternate, the girls skating 15 minutes and then being relieved by their male colleagues.

BEAT COMBINED MONTREAL SIX ON EARLY LEAD

Siebert, Barry, and Smith Honored.

MONTREAL, Ont., Nov. 2.—(AP)—An all-star group drawn from six teams of the National Hocky league defeated the combined Montreal Canadiens and Maroons, 6 to 5, tonight in the Howie Morenz benefit game at the Forum.

The proceeds of the game, played before a packed house, went to the widow and children of Morenz, the Canadiens' great center, who died last spring. The lineups were filled with veteran players who had been Morenz's teammates in past years, when he was the fastest skater and leading scorer of the league, and those who had played against him.

Morenz's son, Howie Jr., skated around with the teams as they warmed up.

Award Three Trophies.

Presentations of trophies to the league's leading players of the 1936-'37 were made before the game. Babe Siebert of the Canadiens received the Hart trophy as the most valuable player to his team, Normie Smith of the Detroit Red Wings got the Vezina trophy as leading goalie, and Marty Barry of Detroit received the Lady Byng trophy for sportsmanship.

The game itself was a free scoring contest, marked by the brilliant efforts of the goalies, in which the Montreal teams rallied after being three goals behind. Lineup:

HAWK ROOKIES SHINE

The Blackhawks worked out on a regulation sized rink for the first time this season at the Chicago Stadium yesterday. The Muskegon ice, on which the club trained, was a trifle shorter than called for by the National league rules and the rink at the Chicago Arena was much larger.

Manager Bill Stewart sent his squad through an intensive two hour scrimmage in which line formation play, rear guard defensive alignments, and power plays, calculated to produce tallies when the opposition is short handed, were stressed. Stewart will send the club through the same maneuvers tomorrow morning in a final drill for Thursday's opener against the New York Americans.

Rookies Fill In.

Because of the absence of Johnny Gottselig and Mush March, who represented the Blackhawks last night at the Howie Morenz testimonial in Montreal, Manager Stewart used rookie forwards on three lines. Cully Dahlstrom, who played center and left wing for three seasons with the St. Paul and Minneapolis teams of the American association, operated in March's place alongside of Paul Thompson and Doc Romnes.

Vic Heyliger, captain of the University of Michigan's hocky team, took Gottselig's place. He had Louis Trudell at center and Glenn Brydson as line mates. Heyliger, the only amateur on the Blackhawks' squad, turns pro with tomorrow's game.

Oscar Hansen, center of last season's champion St. Louis Flyers of the American association, played well between Pete Palangio and Billy Kendall. Palangio and Hansen worked together on the Flyers league leading scoring line for two seasons until the Hawks acquired Palangio last season.

GREENLEAF WINS FROM SEABACK IN CUE PLAY, 125-37

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Ralph Greenleaf of New York tonight retained first place in the world's pocket billiard championship tourney by beating Charles Seaback of Boston, 125 to 37, in 22 innings. Greenleaf, the defending champion, ended the match with an unfinished run of 37.

In other matches Andrew Ponzi of Philadelphia defeated George Kelly, also of Philadelphia, 125 to 60, in seven innings; Marcel Camp of Detroit scored a 125 to 87 victory in 19 innings over Joe Diehl of Rockford, Ill., and Jimmy Caras of Wilmington, Del., won from Onofrio Lauri of Brooklyn, 125 to 49, in 19 innings.

ILLINOIS HUNTING STAMPS MAY TOP TOTAL LAST YEAR

But Minnesota Figure of 1936 Seems Safe.

BY BOB BECKER.

Every duck and wild goose hunter who now is enjoying the first hunting trips of the 1937 season has a federal duck stamp either on his hunting license or somewhere around his person. Under the government ruling all of us who hunt migratory waterfowl must possess one of these stamps or else be prepared for trouble with a warden.

While waterfowl hunters everywhere now are spending their dollars for this beautifully engraved stamp, announcement reveals that last year Illinois sportsmen bought 53,251 of the federal duck stamps. In buying that number Illinois placed second among the states in total purchases. Minnesota was first with 72,460 and Wisconsin third with 48,999.

Expect Total to Mount.

Those who are close to the duck hunting situation believe that this year Illinois will buy more duck stamps than it did last year. The duck flight is more encouraging. There are more birds on hand this season. Sportsmen seem to be more interested in duck hunting than they have been in the past two or three years. But it is doubtful if Illinois will exceed the mark set by Minnesota.

When it is considered that Illinois is generally regarded as the "greatest" duck hunting state in the country the fact that Minnesota ran so far ahead of Illinois in stamp sales is rather significant. Total sales of duck stamps last year amounted to 603,623. Thus Minnesota bought almost one-eighth of all the duck stamps sold.

Must Have More Hunters.

This large number hardly can be accounted for by sales to people who did not hunt and who bought a stamp just to help the cause. Apparently Minnesota must have more duck hunters than is usually credited to the state. What the annual bag is up there would be an interesting figure in appraising annual kill made by hunters.

Every person more than 16 years old who hunts migratory waterfowl is required to carry one of the duck stamps. It must be countersigned with his or her name. Proceeds amounting to not less than 90 per cent of the sales are turned over to the biological survey for migratory bird refuges. To date $1,686,828 worth of duck stamps have been sold in three years.

Morrissey a True Friend of Racegoer

the only explanation Morrissey ever gave.

He Opposed Doping Horses.

His ravings from the starter's stand about owners and trainers who stimulated their horses before they sent them out to run did more than any other one thing to start the crusade that virtually has wiped out that foul practice.

Numerous millionaire owners and their trainers became red in the face when their stimulated horses were brought to the barrier at which Morrissey was presiding.

"So the old thief you're working for has hopped his horse again," Morrissey would shout at the jocky.

"But that's not your fault, boy," Morrissey would continue. "Bring your horse up here and we'll get him away." And he did, too. Few ever made better starts than did Morrissey.

He was a student of thoroughbred blood lines and the opinions he would offer often brought him a lot of ridicule. One horse he couldn't see at all because he didn't fancy his blood lines was Col. Edward R. Bradley's Bubbling Over, winner of the 1926 Kentucky Derby.

Bubbling Over? A Tramp.

An hour before the Derby that year Morrissey was telling his friends that the only way the horse could go a mile and a quarter was as a passenger in an express car.

After Bubbling Over won easily Morrissey said he would never again try to tell anybody how a horse race would be run. And he didn't. His refusal to give anybody the best of it kept Morrissey from becoming the outstanding racing official in America.

At one time he was the starter at all tracks in Kentucky. A prominent breeder who was powerful politically came to him on the morning of the running of a rich and important stake race. He asked Morrissey to give his horse the best of it in the start. Morrissey didn't. A short time later Harry was out of a job on Kentucky tracks.

He next came into prominence as a starter on the tracks in Chicago.

Later he became top starter in New England and still later switched his activities to California.

Racegoers—the fellows who pay the freight—will remember him because he was on the dead level. Those who knew him believe that is the sort of reputation he wanted to leave behind him.

†R. S. Clark-H. P. Metcalf entry. Time, 1:45 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Mr. Canron, $3.90 straight, $3.00 place, $2.30 show; Abbots Hour, $4.00 place, $2.50 show; Bold Pirate, $2.50 show. Winner, b. c., 3, by Catalan-Rona. Owner, W. W. Vaughan. Trainer, R. A. Johnson. Went to post at 1:45. Off at 1:49.

MR. CANRON ran a remarkable race. He broke but boy took him up to avoid crowding. He was sent after the field and taken to the outside where he would be clear, closed ground gamely and won going away. ABBOTS HOUR was hustled along all the way and was next best. BOLD PIRATE, well up for entire trip, saved ground and had no excuse. CLEAN HEELS ran good race.

SKIPPED, away fast, quickly assumed command, showed speed, saved ground and drew away when BERTILLON ran out at finish. BERTILLON moved up very fast around turn, took command in stretch, but swerved out suddenly in last seventy yards which cost him the race. DORIS RENE, well up and made a game effort.

Winner, br. c., 2, by Neddie-Sunayar. Owner, W. S. Kilmer. Trainer, W. A. Crawford. Went to post at 3:53½. Off at 4:00½. Start good.

NEDAYR well ridden. He was kept in a contending position for the first six furlongs, was kept on the outside clear of interference, closed with a rush in stretch and got up to win in final nod. SIR RALEIGH worked his way up, came a bit wide entering stretch, finished with a good burst of speed. BOURBON KING jumped away to a fast start, showed good speed for seven furlongs, then curled up.

Fans Mourn Morrissey of Racing Fame

creasing weight forced him from the saddle.

Morrissey's first mount, as an 18 year old apprentice, was Kincsen. He won and, out of appreciation for the horse's part in his successful debut, Harry named a breeding farm he purchased near Lexington, Ky., many years later, Kincsen farm. In the same spirit he christened one of his most promising colts Kincsen. This later Kincsen was a marked success, both around Chicago and in the east, winning several stakes a few years ago.

Morrissey broke in as an assistant starter at the old Alexandria, Va., track under the late Mars Cassidy, for many years a starter on New York tracks. He worked with Cassidy for 15 years, then began his tour of the country that was to bring him to starters' platforms from Mexico to Canada.

He sent 'em away in Kentucky, Chicago, New Orleans, Montana, and at Tia Juana. He was the starter at one of the most famous match races in history, the Man o' War-Sir Barton race at Kenilworth Park, Ontario, in 1920.

Chicago Crowds Know Him Well.

From 1926, when horse racing was legalized in Illinois, until 1933, when failing health forced him to lessen his duties, Morrissey was a familiar figure at the Aurora, Hawthorne, Lincoln Fields and Washington Park tracks.

His last appearance in the east was at Narragansett, near Providence, R. I., in 1935. Recently he had confined his turf duties to Agua Caliente and Bay Meadows. He came to California in his declining years, establishing a breeding farm at Woodside, near San Francisco. One of the old timers he sent away from the barrier on frequent occasions, Marty Flynn, veteran of many Chicago starts, now grazes peacefully on the Morrissey ranch.

Morrissey was a strict disciplinarian at the gate, and many a rider felt the rasp of his pungent tongue, but he always was willing to help the young jockies learn, and off the starter's platform, his openhandedness was proverbial.

They All "Saw Harry."

He was known as a man who always had his hand in his pocket. Hundreds of down-and-outers of the turf have cause to remember his generosity. On getaway day, it was always "Go see Harry" and Harry never learned to say no. He gave away thousands to unfortunates.

The man who will succeed Morrissey as starter at Bay Meadows for the balance of the meeting, is Eddie Thomas, who learned the game under Morrissey. He has been a Santa Anita official and will return there this winter.

Morrissey is survived by his widow, Madeline, and two sons, John and Daniel. John, who lives in Lexington, Ky., is a starter at Aurora and on New Orleans tracks. Daniel is a student at a local military academy.

TWO SPECIALS TO CARRY FANS TO IRISH-PITT GAME

As an indication of the new interest in the Notre Dame football team following its triumph over Minnesota last week, announcement was made yesterday of plans to operate two special trains from Chicago to South Bend for Saturday's battle with Pittsburgh.

The John S. Clark special, sponsored by the county assessor, will leave the Illinois Central station at 10 a. m. Saturday. Five hundred fans have made reservations. The other special will be operated by the Pennsylvania, leaving the Union station at 10 a. m. and arriving in South Bend at noon. The return trip will start at 6 p. m., reaching Chicago at 8:25.

move the disgrace of last year's humiliating 26 to 0 licking at Pittsburgh.

Hoosiers' Case Not Hopeless.

Indiana still has a chance to better last year's conference record of three victories, one defeat, and one tie. But to achieve a final standing of four victories and one defeat the Hoosiers must start Saturday by conquering Ohio State, the only Big Ten eleven to whip them last season. That score was 7 to 0, reminiscent of the margin of this year's defeats by Minnesota, 6 to 0, and by Nebraska, 7 to 0.

Indiana outplayed Minnesota after the Gophers had put over a first period touchdown. But the credit for this was lost in the repercussions of Minnesota's unexpected defeat by Nebraska, 14 to 9, the preceding week. Now Indiana has lost to Nebraska, yielding a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage, but thereafter piling up fourteen first downs to the Huskers' two.

Indiana's defensive record against Minnesota will stand comparison with that of Nebraska or Notre Dame, the teams which have beaten the Gophers. Consequently, unless the Hoosiers have become completely discouraged, there is no reason to believe that the Buckeyes will run over them. For Ohio State, except for its hard fought 7 to 0 conquest of Northwestern, has compiled no great record. Southern California defeated the Buckeyes, 13 to 12, and the Trojans now are thoroughly discredited in their own conference. It is true, of course, that if Ohio State wins Saturday from Indiana it practically can count on a share of the Big Ten championship, for only Illinois and Michigan then will bar the path.

These Boys Are Good.

Corby Davis' line smashes and Frank Filchock's passing have been the important items in Indiana's offense. That these didn't carry to the goal line against Minnesota and Nebraska is charged to lack of a speedy runner to increase the passing and plunging threat. Indiana still may whip Ohio State if it receives a share of gridiron luck now long overdue.

Should the Hoosiers win Saturday, Northwestern also will be back in the fight for the championship and the game with Minnesota then will determine the Wildcats' fortunes. This eventually might produce a tie for the title between the Buckeyes and Northwestern as each plays six conference games. Other elevens which may finish the race with only one defeat have the disadvantage of a five game conference schedule.

Irish May Let Up.

Purdue's case against Fordham is not entirely hopeless. The Boilermakers now have smoothed out their offense, which may test the Rams' defense. Fordham won last year, 15 to 0. Reversal of this count is not impossible as Purdue will flash an air attack more dangerous than Fordham may have faced. While holding Pitt to a scoreless tie Fordham feared only the Panthers' running attack and eventually stopped that with the aid of Pitt's six fumbles. Purdue, by a successful thrust through the air or a long run by Cecil Isbell, who has yet to sparkle with the brilliance he displayed last fall, easily can put the burden on the New Yorkers.

The most important game in this trio, of course, is Pittsburgh's invasion of Notre Dame. It is a question if the Irish can rally their forces after the grueling fight at Minnesota.

PASSES WORRY PURDUE.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Building of a defense against the left handed passing of Granski and Ahearn, Fordham stars, and work on its own aerial attack occupied the Purdue squad today.

With a freshman squad using the types of defense that Fordham is expected to employ, Purdue concentrated on the timing of its overhead attack. Coach Mal Elward also added several refinements to the lateral pass plays that scored twice against Iowa.

MILLER, INDIANA CENTER, SUFFERS BROKEN THUMB

Hoosiers Will Miss Him in Ohio State Game.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Indiana's hopes of stopping Ohio State's powerful attack in Saturday's Big Ten football game at Columbus received another setback today when X-ray pictures disclosed that George Miller, star center and place kicker, is suffering from a fractured thumb. Miller's hand was hurt in the Nebraska game last week-end, but the hard tackling, charging lineman did not suspect he had suffered a fracture.

Bill Anderson's injured leg took a turn for the worse in today's drill and team physicians expressed doubt that the pass throwing half back would be able to play Saturday.

After an offensive workout failed to uncover much scoring punch, Coach Bo McMillin put the Hoosiers on the defensive, with a freshman team again executing Buckeye plays in scrimmage.

BUCKEYES EXPECT 45,000.

Columbus, O., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Indications today were that approximately 45,000 will see the Ohio State-Indiana game here Saturday. If the crowd reaches that figure the Buckeyes' total attendance for the year will pass 300,000.

The Buckeyes' respect for Indiana was indicated by the way Coach Francis Schmidt drove the team through its paces today.

Forrest Fordham, understudy of Johnny Rabb, returned to service and saw considerable action. Fordham was hurt in the Southern California game. Alex Schoenbaum, giant tackle, showed up with an ankle injury and spent his second day on the sidelines. He will be ready for the Indiana game, however, Trainer Tucker Smith said.

Provisions were made to take advantage of the Hoosier defense, which employs, in the main, a five man line.

NELSON REJOINS BADGERS.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—After two days of complete rest Wisconsin's football squad this afternoon began preparations for the game with Purdue here on Nov. 13. A long drill on tackling and blocking preceded a comparatively light scrimmage session with the freshmen. Roland Nelson, sophomore full back, rejoined the varsity this afternoon, but it is doubtful if he will be recovered sufficiently from a leg injury received in the Marquette game to play against the Boilermakers.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher announced today Erv Windward, senior quarter back, will be lost to the squad for the remainder of the year. Windward injured a knee in an early season scrimmage.

EDITOR'S MOTHER DIES.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Mrs. Lillian E. Otis, 80, mother of Samuel D. Otis, sports editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, died here today.

PACKERS, OUT OF SLUMP, TO MEET BEARS ON SUNDAY

Expect 40,000 to See Clash of Old Rivals.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

So many factors enter into football that it often becomes impossible to single out the exact reason for success or failure. A case in point is that of the Green Bay Packers, defending champions of the National league, who meet the Bears at Wrigley field Sunday in the most important game of the professional season.

Three months ago the Packers entered training for the All-Star game with a team that was expected to humble the collegians and continue on to its second consecutive title. Not only did its legion of followers confidently anticipate a triumph but the team itself viewed the situation with evident self-assurance and optimism. Then came the awakening. Green Bay lost. It also was beaten in the first two league games.

The All-Star experience was a rude shock to the Packers' prestige. The other defeats, 14 to 7 by the Cardinals and 14 to 2 by the Bears, were serious setbacks in the pennant race, handicaps that appeared insurmountable. Few teams have been able to win the championship with two whippings recorded against them in the standings.

The Packers Bounce Back.

A defeat in the National league is the equivalent of a fourteen game losing streak in baseball. The Packers found themselves in the same position as a major league baseball team that had opened the season with twenty-eight consecutive defeats.

Today, however, Green Bay is back in the fight with an excellent opportunity of qualifying for the league championship playoff if it can even its series with the Bears Sunday. What brought about this unexpected early season decline and the subsequent reversal of form? Why was Green Bay one of the most ineffectual units in the league in September and the terror of the circuit in October?

Football authorities place in two classifications, the tangible and the intangible, all factors affecting a team's play. On the tangible side, Green Bay's slump can be attributed to the loss of Arnie Herber and Bob Monnett in the All-Star game. Herber and Monnett are the Packers' two passers. Most of the champions offense, essentially an aerial attack, is built around these two men. With them out, opponents were able to move in to concentrate on running plays. The aerial attack ceased to be a threat.

Smothered? Not Quite.

Herber and Monnett recovered in time for the Detroit game. Clark Hinkle, who had been hurt in the All-Star game and took sick immediately after, but who had played against both the Cardinals and Bears, was in shape for the first time when the Lions went to Green Bay. Eddie Jankowski, the former Wisconsin star, who was groomed to take the place of the retired George Sauer as the Packers' power back, began to acclimate himself to pro ball about this time.

With Herber and Monnett in the lineup, the Packers again had their passing attack, a form of offensive without which no team can succeed in professional football. Thus reinforced by returning veterans and promising rookies, the Packers were ready to go. They trampled the Lions, 26 to 6, and have been going ever since.

The Packers now were the ambitious, determined experts on inside football who went through 16 games without a defeat and marched to the championship with a record of eleven victories, one defeat and tie.

They come to Wrigley field Sunday at the peak of their game. In the Bears they meet the only team at present capable of matching their suberb offense. And they come prepared for revenge. All of which is ample reason for the expected turnout of nearly 40,000, a new record for professional football in Chicago.

Maroons Vote to Continue Present Policy

Editors of the Daily Maroon, student newspaper at the University of Chicago, who have been campaigning for the abolition of intercollegiate athletics at the Midway, received a rebuke from the student body yesterday. Results of a poll on the subject, conducted by the Maroon, disclosed that only 6.8 per cent of the students agree with the Maroon.

Out of 758 ballots returned 485, or 63.9 per cent, were in favor of the present athletic policy; 181, or 23.8, favored subsidizing athletes, and 40, or 5.2 per cent, favored withdrawal from the Big Ten. Although several of the ballot boxes were stolen during the voting, the Maroon expressed the opinion that the poll was "fairly accurate."

The Chicago varsity squad, which has shown vast lack of interest in the Daily Maroon's controversy, went ahead yesterday with preparations for the Michigan game at Ann Arbor Saturday. Morris Grinbarg, 200 pound sophomore, moved into the spot at center vacated by George Antonic, who is out for the season with a knee injury.

MICHIGAN DRILLS OFFENSE.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Michigan's football team stressed offense this afternoon in preparation for the Chicago game here Saturday. New plays were distributed and run through in dummy scrimmage against reserves.

Varsity reserves who did not play regularly against Illinois, together with three starters against the Illini, also engaged freshmen in an offensive scrimmage session.

WomenSquash Stars Defeat Chicago Men

With the aid of an eight point handicap per game, a team of women squash players from the east, headed by Miss Anne Page, national champion, defeated a group of ranking Chicago men players, four matches to one, last night at the Woman's Athletic club of Chicago.

The eight points per game proved too great a handicap for the Chicago team to overcome, although it carried four of the five matches to the limit. Henry L. Parker accounted for his team's lone point, defeating Miss Barbara Strohbar of Philadelphia, 16-14, 14-17, 12-15, 18-17, 16-13.

In the feature match, Miss Page scored a hard fought 15-13, 12-15, 15-12, 11-15, 15-13 triumph over Joe Jannotta, the Chicago singles champion. Hope Knowles, Philadelphia girl who went to the finals of the national junior girls tennis meet last summer, opened the series with a 15-17, 11-15, 15-8, 13-16, 17-14 victory over Hal Hixon Jr. The eastern team then took the next three matches, Parker winning the final event.

The eastern team is scheduled to play a Chicago women's team at the club this afternoon. Last night's results:

Miss Hope Knowles, Philadelphia, Pa., defeated Hal Hixon Jr., 15-7, 11-15, 15-8, 13-16, 17-14.

Miss Anne Page, Wayne, Pa., defeated Joe Jannotta, 15-13, 12-15, 15-12, 11-15, 15-13.

Miss Cecile Bowes, Philadelphia, Pa., defeated James Anderson, 17-15, 15-12, 12-15, 15-13.

Miss Frieda Scharman, Brooklyn, N. Y., defeated Lou Hardin, 15-7, 14-17, 13-16, 15-9, 15-8.

Henry L. Parker defeated Miss Barbara Strohbar, Philadelphia, Pa., 16-14, 14-17, 12-15, 18-17, 16-13.

NATIONAL HORSE SHOW OPENS IN GARDEN TODAY

New York, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The national horse show, annual signal for the opening of the metropolitan winter social season, inaugurates an eight day stand in Madison Square Garden tomorrow with 500 horses from five countries competing for blue ribbons in 118 competitive events.

The show, known almost as much for the color among its richly garbed spectators as for the arena contests, again will feature international military jumping competition. Army officers and picked mounts from The Netherlands, Belgium, Irish Free State, and America will compete nightly over the difficult jumps.

Opening the show for the army riders will be the first event of the three day competition for the trophy presented by President Arturo Allesandri of Chile. Then in succession will come the Bowman Challenge cup, the $1,000 military jumping stake, the international military special, the individual championship competition, and the team event. England won the team championship last year.

Medinah Club Honors New Coach Tonight

Twenty swimming stars will participate in a water carnival at the Medinah club of Chicago tonight. The celebration is a welcome to Stanley Brauninger, new swimming coach, who joined the Medinah staf the first of the month after ten years at Lake Shore Athletic club.

Hackenburg, Gubbins Win C. Y. O. Battles

Joe Gubbins, bantamweight from Resurrection parish, and Jack Hackenburg, St. Jarlarth's flyweight, stole the show last night in the opening round of the west side trials of the Catholic Youth organization's annual amateur boxing tournament at Madison Athletic club.

Gubbins stopped Julie Schiavone of Lady of Angel in two rounds. Hackenburg defeated Joe Malinski of St. Hyacinth in three rounds.

Thus both boys advanced to the second round of fighting out west tonight. Gubbins will draw Johnny Wynn, colored boy from Holy Family parish, and Hackenburg will meet Jimmy Herbick of St. Ludmilla.

Nine hundred watched last night's bouts. Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, head of the C. Y. O., attended.

Results:

Jim McMillen, who quit playing football with the Chicago Bears in 1934, tonight will resume activity as a wrestler in a heavyweight bout against Pat Kelly at Rainbo Fronton, Clark street and Lawrence avenue. Bill Weidner, who held undefeated Frankie Talaber to a one hour draw Monday, is paired with Jack Claybourn in the semi-final. . . . Tony Sopko, welterweight of the Madison Athletic club, will oppose Stanley White, St. Charles, in a featured fight at three rounds on the amateur card this evening at the 124th Field Artillery armory, 52d street and Cottage Grove avenue. An additional program sanctioned by the Central A. A. U. will be presented tonight at Cicero stadium, 18th street and 52d avenue. . . .

Davey Day, who won his right to a title engagement with Champion Lou Ambers by trouncing Enrico Venturi at New York recently, left yesterday for a ten day training session at Karl Ogren's lodge, near Stone Lake, Wis. Promoter Mickey Farr is in New York striving to obtain Ambers or Henry Armstrong to meet Day at Chicago Stadium Dec. 10. . . . Eddie Long has signed Elza Thompson, 1937 Indianapolis sectional heavyweight Golden Gloves victor, to a five year management contract. Thompson, who has won his three professional battles, makes his next appearance in a four rounder against Scotty Withers at the Stadium Nov. 16.

William Joyce, Gary featherweight, who whipped Alexander Polus of Poland in the annual international tournament at the Stadium last May 28, will make his pro debut in a four rounder against John Fairchild of Elgin at Gary one week from tonight. . . . Milt Aron will be out of action for seven or eight weeks with a hand injury in the wake of his draw battle Square Garden last Friday. F. M.

KROLL TAKES UP STUDIES AGAIN AT LAKE FOREST

Albert Kroll, Lake Forest college football player whose right leg was amputated just below the knee on Oct. 27 as the result of an injury in a game with Millikin university, resumed his studies yesterday when books and papers were brought to his bed in the Alice Home hospital, Lake Forest.

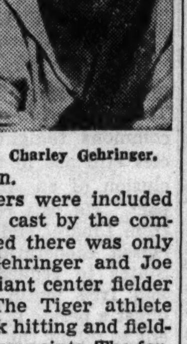
NAME GEHRINGER MOST VALUABLE PLAYER IN A. L.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Charles Gehringer, talented second baseman of the Detroit Tigers, was the American league's most valuable player during the 1937 season. The honor was conferred on the veteran by the Baseball Writers association, the committee appointed for the purpose giving Gehringer 78 out of a possible total of 80 points. The result of the poll was announced yesterday by Henry P. Edwards, secretary of the writers' organization.



Charley Gehringer.

Twenty-four players were included in the eight ballots cast by the committee which decided there was only a shade between Gehringer and Joe Di Maggio, the brilliant center fielder of the Yankees. The Tiger athlete topped the New York hitting and fielding wizard by only four points. The former captured six out of the possible eight first places and two seconds. Di Maggio was No. 1 on two ballots and No. 2 on the six others. Points run from ten for a first down to one for a tenth place.

Third Tiger to Be Honored.

Gehringer is the third Detroit player to be similarly recognized in the last four seasons. Gordon [Mickey] Cochrane, manager and then regular catcher, was crowned the most valuable in 1934. The next season the award went to Hank Greenberg, Detroit first baseman, whose play that year was so outstanding that he was accorded a unanimous vote of 80 points. As the results of his 1937 work Greenberg was accorded third place with a total of 48 points, six ahead of Lou Gehrig, the Yankee mauler, winner in 1927 and last year.

Tonight at Detroit Gehringer will have a chance to hear what he is thought of as a player. The town board of commerce is putting on a fans' banquet which originally was arranged to pay homage to the popular athlete because of his victory in the 1937 American league batting race. At the same time he'll be given tangible evidence of his selection as the most valuable. He'll be presented with the Sporting News trophy,

Four White Sox on List.

Four White Sox players found their way into the voting column. Luke Sewell, first string catcher, tied for fifth with Bill Dickey, the Yankee backstop, each receiving 22 points. Outfielder Mike Kreevich was tenth with 13 points, Outfielder Rip Radcliff fifteenth with 10 points, and Shortstop Luke Appling seventeenth with five points.

RISKO TO MEET OLIN.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Johnny Risko of Cleveland, who is starting a comeback, tonight announced he will meet Bob Olin, former world light heavyweight champion, in a 10 round bout on Nov. 17.

Nine Teams Enter Stretch of City Prep Football Race

A field of nine high school football teams has turned into the stretch of the race leading to Mayor Kelly's city championship game at Soldiers' field, Nov. 27, which brings together the champions of the Catholic and Public School leagues. Five squads out of 29 which started out on Sept. 25 are still battling for the public school title, while four are still in the running for the Catholic league crown.

The select group in the Public School league includes Austin, Tilden Tech, Senn, Parker, and Fenger. The Catholic league survivors are Fenwick of Oak Park, last year's winner; St. George of Evanston, Leo, and De La Salle. The races in the leagues, the best in several seasons, have stimulated ticket sales for the city title game. Last year, a crowd of 75,000 paid $87,000 to watch Austin and Fenwick battle to a tie, 19 to 19.

$30,000 Already In.

Barnet Hodes, secretary of Chicago's Own Christmas Benefit fund, said the $30,000 mark was passed yesterday and the game this year may bring more than $100,000.

"The receipts already total more than $30,000," said Hodes. "We hope the game will bring $100,000. Additional receipts from the Night of Stars performance at Chicago Stadium will enable us to provide shoes and clothing for more than 65,000 underprivileged children this Christmas."

Austin, Tilden Tech, and Senn already have qualified for the semifinals in the City league on Nov. 13, although each has one more sectional game to play. Austin won the west division championship last week. Tilden will represent the central section and Senn the north even if they lose Saturday afternoon. They can be tied for first place in the two sections by losing their last games, but their closest rivals have been beaten by Tilden and Senn and under league rules they will be the sectional representatives although the teams tied with them share in the receipts of semi-final and final games.

Parker Meets Fenger.

Parker and Fenger are tied for first place in the south section, each with five straight victories. They will meet for the sectional championship Saturday at Pullman Tech field. Austin ends its sectional schedule against Crane Tech at Mills stadium Friday night. Tilden plays Englewood at the 124th Field Artillery armory Saturday night, and Senn winds up its north division schedule against Amundsen at Loyola stadium Saturday afternoon.

North Title at Stake.

St. George and Fenwick, both undefeated, are battling for the north section title in the Catholic league. De La Salle or Leo will be the south division's representative. St. George draws a bye this week, but Fenwick will oppose Weber at Mills stadium Sunday afternoon. Leo and De La Salle will meet for the south section title Sunday at Shewbridge field.

W-G-N TO AIR HAWKS' SUNDAY GAME AT HOME

Home games of the Chicago Blackhawks hocky team played on Sunday evenings at the Chicago Stadium will be broadcast by W-G-N. Arrangements have been completed to broadcast the final period of all Sunday games from 9:45 to 10:30 p. m.

The hocky broadcasts will be an exclusive feature on W-G-N for the fifth consecutive season.

There will be fifteen Sunday night broadcasts during the regular season and if the Hawks win a place in the play-off series, these matches also will be aired exclusively by W-G-N. The schedule of matches to be broadcast follows:

Nov. 14, Toronto; Nov. 21, Boston; Dec. 5, Montreal Canadiens; Dec. 12, Montreal Maroons; Dec. 19, New York Americans; Jan. 2, Montreal Canadiens; Jan. 9, Montreal Maroons; Jan. 16, Toronto; Jan. 23, Boston; Jan. 30, New York Rangers; Feb. 6, Boston; Feb. 13, Toronto; Feb. 20, Detroit; Feb. 27, New York Rangers; March 6, Montreal Maroons.

HAWKEYES GET SET FOR THAT OLD GOPHER BOUNCE

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Coach Irl Tubbs today drove the University of Iowa eleven at top speed for the homecoming game with Minnesota Saturday.

The Iowa coach fears the Gophers will be on the bounce again this year after their defeat at the hands of Notre Dame last week, and is not forgetting the 52 to 0 drubbing Iowa suffered last season the week after the Gophers were handed their only defeat by Northwestern.

Capt. Homer Harris and Erwin Prasse were unable to don uniforms. Glenn Olson, regular full back, who was injured in the Wisconsin game three weeks ago, returned to action.

DE PAUL SEEKS SCORING PUNCH; JUGGLES BACKS

Coach Ben Connor shifted Bill Corrigan back to the first string yesterday as the De Paul football squad opened preparations for Saturday's game at Wrigley field with Wichita university.

De Paul made fifteen first downs to St. Louis' two last Friday night, piling up 228 yards to 58, but at the end the best the Demons had was a 7 to 7 tie.

De Paul Lacks Punch.

A number of times De Paul was within scoring distance but bogged down. The shift of Corrigan back to his quarter back position may be the answer. He had lost his starting berth to Bill O'Brien in the Loyola game because of an injury, and the play of O'Brien in that game justified his starting against St. Louis.

Capt. Paul Mattei, who had been complaining of dizziness, and Frank Jenkevicius went to St. Elizabeth's hospital yesterday afternoon. Mattei will submit to a head X-ray. Jenkevicius has a cold.

Kein Replaces Mattei.

In Mattei's place in yesterday's drill was Les [Jeeter] Kein, who kicked De Paul's first point after touchdown of the season in the St. Louis contest. Kein has been one of the most consistent ground gainers on the team for the last three seasons.

Silver Arrows Win from C.Y.O. Football Champions

The Silver Arrows, scoring twice in the first quarter, held their lead throughout last night to defeat the Our Lady of Grace eleven, C. Y. O. champion, 13 to 7, in a Windy City Football league game at St. Philip's stadium.

U. S. WILL MAKE CORN LOANS OF 50c PER BUSHEL

Moisture Limit of 14.5% Is Set.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Officials of the agriculture department today gave corn growers assurance that the government will loan 50 cents a bushel on the large 1937 crop.

It was disclosed that the loans would be made, according to current plans, on field corn testing 14.5 per cent moisture content or less. The 50 cent rate would be reduced on corn containing more moisture.

To qualify for the government loans, farmers must pledge their compliance with next year's federal farm program. Officials also were reported considering limiting loans to farmers who coöperated with the 1937 soil conservation program.

Asked 60 Cents a Bushel.

Farm organizations had asked for loans on a basis of 60 cents a bushel and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace had indicated that the figure would be about 46 cents a bushel. This figure, he said, would correspond to the government loans of 9 cents a pound on this year's cotton crop.

Official announcement of the corn loan program is expected from Secretary Wallace within a few days.

Agriculture department officials said a relatively small part of the estimated crop of 2,561,936,000 bushels is expected to be pledged under the loans, but indicated that additional funds would be provided for loans if needed. The $85,000,000 made available by President Roosevelt's order yesterday would permit loans on about 170,000,000 bushels.

Expect to Hold Price Up.

Officials reiterated Secretary Wallace's recent statement that a loan probably would keep market prices above the loan rate because corn is consumed principally in this country. This is not true of cotton loans, he said, because cotton moves in world trade at world price levels.

General terms are to be similar to those of other years, when corn offered for loans was tested, measured, and sealed in cribs or warehouses on the farm. Farmers were given the right to turn the corn over to the Commodity Credit corporation to pay off their debts if their corn was worth less than its loan value. If worth more than the loan, the corn could be sold and the farmer keep any balance above the amount due and costs involved.

The first government loan was at 45 cents a bushel on the 1933 crop—well above the then market prices. About $120,000,000 was lent. The loan was at 55 cents in 1934, when there was a drouth and a short crop. Only $11,000,000 was advanced. Loans amounted to $13,000,000 on a 45 cent basis in 1935. The 1936 program was designed to conserve corn supplies.

CHARGES RAILS VIOLATE LAW BY CARGO COAL RATE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Nine railroads which move lake cargo coal faced charges today by an interstate commerce commission examiner that they had violated federal laws by discrimination in their charges.

The roads, which handle 36,000,000 tons of coal annually, are the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, Lehigh Valley, Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, Erie, Bessemer and Lake Erie, New York Central, Wheeling and Lake Erie, and the Chesapeake and Ohio.

The examiner, E. A. Burslem, alleged all except the Pennsylvania and C. & O. received noncompensatory charges for the transfer of coal from cars to vessels at lake ports, in violation of the interstate commerce act.

The Kentucky railroad commission asked the interstate commerce commission to investigate railroad rates on bituminous coal shipped west and north from western Kentucky mines. The Kentucky commission contended current rates favored coal producers in Illinois and Indiana.

GLASS MAKERS ORDERED TO END PRICE VARIATION

A cease and desist order to prevent the use of alleged unfair trade practices was issued today by the federal trade commission against the Window Glass Manufacturers' association and the National Glass Distributors' association, and the members, officers, and directors of each, it was announced yesterday.

The order charges price discriminations which violate the Robinson-Patman act and a conspiracy to violate the Clayton antitrust act. Glass manufacturers and distributors who are members in these two associations constitute practically the entire window glass industry of the United States.

NEW YORK MARKETS TO REOPEN TODAY

The New York stock exchange, curb exchange and the big New York commodity exchanges will resume trading today after being closed yesterday because of the municipal election. Stock exchanges in Cleveland, Boston, and Pittsburgh, also closed on the election holiday, will reopen. The St. Louis stock exchange, which held only a half-day session yesterday, will resume regular trading hours.

AAA Agent Urges 25c Tax on Excess Corn

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—For the first time since the Supreme court invalidated the Bankhead act, with its penalty taxes on cotton marketed in excess of prescribed quotas, a representative of the Agricultural Adjustment administration recommended before the house agriculture committee today that similar legislation be applied to the corn crop. It brought immediate opposition from members of the committee.

The witness was Claude R. Wickard, chief of the north central division. His recommendation was that a penalty tax of 25 cents a bushel be levied against corn producers selling grain in excess of their allotment of a national quota to be fixed in general farm legislation. The penalty would apply only in the commercial corn-hog region of the so-called corn belt. The quota would be stipulated in legislation, instead of being left to the discretion of the secretary of agriculture as under the Bankhead act.

Asserts Tax Necessary.

Although the meeting was executive, it was understood to be the weight of Wickard's testimony that only through a penalty tax could the corn crop be kept from exceeding reasonable limits. Under the program outlined by the AAA representative, the penalty tax would be applied only in years when an emergency surplus developed. Pending such a crisis the AAA would rely on the present soil conservation program bulwarked by commodity loans to bring about shifts from corn to other crops. No attempt would be made to compel compliance by corn-hog producers with the soil conservation program, according to present AAA plans.

Although the penalty tax features with compulsory marketing quotas were included in various farm bills introduced in the last session of congress and indorsed "in principle" by Secretary Wallace, today was the first time that an AAA official directly urged their application to a major commodity.

Meets Strong Opposition.

Presentation of the latest AAA proposal today found the house committee more than ever opposed to compulsory marketing control. Several members spoke disparagingly of the proposal and predicted that nothing of such a nature would be approved by the group.

Representative Coffee [D., Neb.], agriculture committee member, challenged legal and practical aspects of the plan and countered with suggestions for voluntary marketing agreements. Coffee reported virtually all committeemen present were opposed or lukewarm to mandatory control.

"It would take a policeman on every section of land," he said, to enforce Wickard's program. "And even then, I don't know how many courts would uphold it."

Senators Pope [D., Idaho] and McGill [D., Kas.] issued a joint statement saying a majority of farmers who had testified before a senate agriculture sub-committee were opposed to compulsory control of production but added "fully 90 per cent of the farmers in corn and wheat areas feel that a voluntary control program is necessary."

STOP & SHOP MAY LEASE MOST OF BROWNING BLDG.

Chicago's narrowest skyscraper, the eleven story Browning building at 12 to 14 West Washington street, purchased by Frank and John F. Cuneo last August for $220,000, may be entirely occupied, with the exception of the first floor shop space and the second floor, by the Stop & Shop Grocery store and the Hillman Pure Food store. Negotiations are under way for a fifteen year lease.

If consummated, Hillman's will use the basement to enlarge its own basement selling floor, and occupy the third to eleventh floor, inclusive, for manufacturing and storage. The Stop & Shop company, if the lease is closed, will enlarge its first floor space by using the rear of the first floor of the Browning building, which adjoins it on the east.

The Hillman and Stop & Shop stores now occupy about 120,000 square feet of floor space. The space under negotiation contains 55,000 square feet.

When the Cuneos bought the Browning building from the estate of Joseph N. Field they contemplated tearing off the upper eight floors as soon as leases expire in 1939. If the Stop & Shop lease is negotiated this plan would be abandoned.

Chicago Chemical Co. Registers Stock Issue

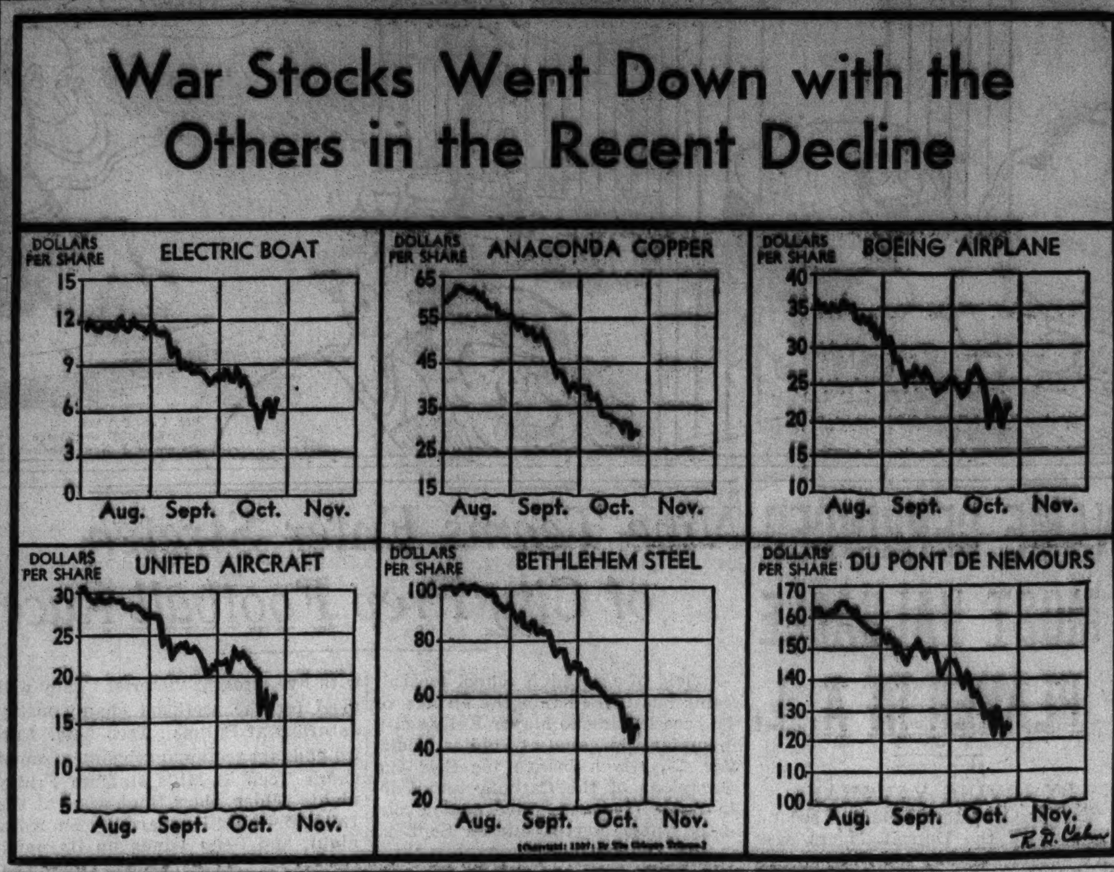
The Consolidated Royal Chemical corporation, Chicago, manufacturer of drugs, medicines, and cosmetics, has filed with the Securities and Exchange commission a registration statement covering 300,000 shares of $1 par common stock. J. A. Sisto & Co. will be the principal underwriter. Proceeds will be used to repay loans and for working capital.

Melting Steel Scrap Price Declines in Pittsburgh

Number one heavy melting steel scrap declined another 25 cents a ton to a new low of $14.75 to $15.25 a ton in Pittsburgh yesterday. In Chicago the last reported sale was at $15 a ton, but brokers were quoting a nominal price yesterday of $13 to $13.25 a ton.

Prices of Chief Chicago Bank Stocks Irregular

Chicago bank stocks were irregular yesterday. Northern Trust company stocks were $5 a share lower, Chicago Title and Trust was off $1, and Lake Shore Trust and Savings shares dipped $3. National Boulevard was quoted unchanged to $5 higher.



Corn Climbs on Prospect of U. S. Loans

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

Closing prices on the December delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday:

	Yesterday.	Monday.	Year. ago.
Wheat	$ .94	$ .96¼	*......
Corn	.58¾	.57½	*......
Oats	.30¾	.30½	*......
Rye	.71⅛	.73¾	*......
Soy beans	.95½	.93¾	*......

*Holiday.

Corn prices advanced sharply yesterday as the result of reports indicating that the government would loan farmers 50 cents a bushel on that grain. Trade estimates indicated this figure was about 10 cents more per bushel than was being paid yesterday at many country loading points in Illinois and Iowa.

Although the best prices were not maintained, due to the limited export business, December corn closed 1¼ cents a bushel higher. The May delivery was ⅝ cent higher and the July contract was unchanged. Selling on the advance in corn futures was said to have been based on the belief that the government loan plan would put a stop to export business in domestic corn, which made its appearance in the last week for the first time in some years.

Report Deferred Corn Sales.

Despite the loan reports, farmers yesterday sold 120,000 bushels of cash corn for deferred shipment to Chicago. This, it was generally said, largely represented grain for which there was insufficient crib room. Reports were that the loans on corn would be based on a moisture content of 14.5 per cent, or equal to the federal No. 2 grade. This grade was quoted around the December delivery price to 1½ cents a bushel premium over the future on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday, and suggested on this basis that the proposed loan was not much different from current market quotations.

Wheat was weak from the start, failing to respond to the strength in corn and closing with net losses of 2 to 2¼ cents a bushel.

Wheat Weak in Liverpool.

Selling of wheat was attributed largely to weakness in the Liverpool market, which declined 1½ to 1⅝ cents on futures, a slow foreign demand, and higher temperatures in Argentina. Recent frosts in that country, according to private cables, have done little damage. Declines in other North American wheat markets ranged upward to 3¼ cents a bushel, the latter on the December future in Minneapolis.

Strength in corn had some effect on oats futures, which closed small fractions of a cent a bushel higher. Soy beans gained as much as 1¾ cents, due more to lack of hedging pressure than to aggressive buying. Rye declined 1½ to 1⅞ cents in sympathy with wheat

AIR PASSENGERS OUT OF CHICAGO LESS NUMEROUS

Departures of airplane passengers from the Chicago municipal airport totaled 13,906 persons in October, compared with the all-time high record of 15,973 in September and 12,385 in October, 1936, Edward J. Edison, manager of the Chicago air lines ticket office, reported yesterday.

A sharp drop in eastern trafic was noted here immediately after the stock market crash on Oct. 18, Eidson said, but western departures held up well during the month even after wreckage of the United Air Lines plane was found on Oct. 18.

BUSINESS BITS

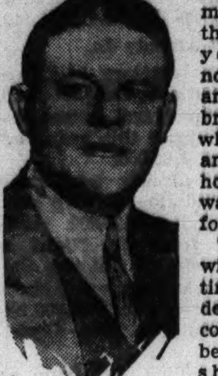
Maj. R. W. Schroeder, who recently resigned as first assistant director of the United States bureau of air commerce, has been elected vice president in charge of operations of United Air Lines.

Six appointments at the Gary works of Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation were announced yesterday. Stephen M. Jenks was appointed assistant general superintendent; C. P. Kimmel, assistant to the general superintendent; George H. Bauer, chief engineer; Siguard Landen, assistant chief engineer; T. R. Miller, assistant division superintendent of the west mills, and Walter J. Kirton, plant industrial engineer.

GOLDBLATT BROTHERS WILL WAIVE SALARY DUE TO HIGH U. S. TAX

Maurice Goldblatt, president of Goldblatt Brothers, Inc., which operates ten department stores in the Chicago area, yesterday announced that he and his three brothers, all of whom are officers and large stockholders, have waived all salary for next year.

The brothers will depend entirely on dividends for income, he said, because their share holdings are large enough to provide for personal needs and too large a percentage of their salaries would have to be paid to the government in income taxes.



Maurice Goldblatt.

In addition to Maurice Goldblatt, the brothers are Nathan Goldblatt, secretary and treasurer; Joseph Goldblatt, vice president, and Louis Goldblatt, vice president. They will cease to draw salaries on Jan. 1.

"Our salaries never were particularly high," Maurice Goldblatt said. "I was receiving $22,000 a year and my brother, Nathan, the same amount, but on looking over the income tax situation it seemed best to omit our direct compensation entirely. There is no object in taking money from the company and the other stockholders, even if earned, when such a large percentage of it must go to taxation."

WISCONSIN BANK TO END INTEREST ON ALL DEPOSITS

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The Home State Bank of South Milwaukee announced today that it would pay no more interest on deposits, savings, or other accounts after Dec. 1.

Artificial banking conditions, which have brought lowest interest rates for the longest period in history, with short term government securities yielding from nothing to less than 1 per cent, were ascribed by H. Z. Logan, vice president, as the reason for the move.

The bank is one of four in the Milwaukee area which did not borrow federal funds nor issue preferred stock or income debentures to the Reconstruction Finance corporation in 1933.

Logan explained that in three years ending with 1937 the bank held an average of $753,000 in cash, or $214,000 more than its average savings deposits.

"We will have paid savings depositors by the end of this year more than $22,000 interest on univested money, which earned us nothing," he added.

October Trafic Shows Gain Over Year Ago on 'L' Lines

The Chicago elevated lines carried 1.12 per cent more passengers in October than in the same month a year ago, officials of the Chicago Rapid Transit company reported yesterday. Failure of trafic to show a larger increase was attributed in part to the fact that October, this year, had five Sundays, a light day for "L" travel, compared with four Sundays in the 1936 month.

Gen. Motors, Westinghouse Raise Refrigerator Prices

Prices on 1938 model refrigerators have been advanced from $5 to $10 per unit by the Frigidaire division of General Motors corporation and by Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, the two companies announced yesterday. General Motors also announced for the first time its line of electric ranges at prices ranging from $129.50 to $199.50.

A.C.Allyn Offers $2,150,000 Mississippi Road Issue

A banking syndicate headed by A. C. Allyn & Co., Inc., yesterday was awarded a new issue of $2,150,000 of 3, 3¼, 3½, and 3¾ per cent highway notes of the state of Mississippi. The bonds, which will mature from 1938 to 1955, will be reoffered publicly today at prices to yield 1.62 to 3.20 per cent.

British Leader Tells Obstacles to U. S. Treaty

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Oliver Stanley, president of the British Board of Trade, announced to the house of commons tonight that many obstacles still are in the way of the conclusion of an Anglo-American trade pact. He was replying to demands from Liberal and Labor speakers for closed coöperation with the United States to reduce economic barriers and free world trade in order to offset a period of slump which threatens to follow the rearmament splurge in Great Britain.

Stanley admitted that this country stood to benefit greatly from a trade agreement with America, but indicated the British government wanted a pact on its own terms.

Will Keep Tarif Barriers.

He said Great Britain would not abandon its system of tarif barriers adopted five years ago and assured the dominions that the principle of the Ottawa agreements would be maintained.

Talks about an Anglo-American trade treaty have been in progress since the visit with Daniel C. Roper, United States secretary of commerce, paid to England in the summer of 1936. So far, however, they have not been extended beyond the exploratory stage. Stanley countered opposition critics of British tarif policy tonight by stating flatly that if the British government had not introduced a tarif system the trade talks with the United States, from which Great Britain seeks further advantage for her manufactured exports, would not have been started even.

Explaining that "peculiar difficulties" were confronting negotiations for a new trade pact, Stanley left no doubt among his hearers that complications over the Ottawa agreements between Great Britain and the dominions were the main cause of the delay.

Interests Are Parallel.

The geographical position, economic range, and structure of the United States, he stated, meant that many of its interests were parallel with those of the British dominions and clashed with the Ottawa provisions. The dominions therefore are vitally interested in the Anglo-American talks, Stanley said. He went out of his way to reassure them that Great Britain did not intend to abandon the imperial preferences.

Another obstacle to an Anglo-American pact as outlined by the British board of trade president was the determination of the United States not to enter formal negotiations until there is a real chance of a successful outcome.

Commodity Exchange Act.

The commodity exchange act became a law in June, 1936. It amended the grain futures act of 1922 and gave the government wide powers over dealings on accredited commodity futures exchanges of the country. It is administered by commodity exchange administration.

Purpose of the law, according to Dr. J. W. T. Duval, chief of the CEA, is to provide an "effective means whereby the economic ills resulting from market manipulation and excessive speculation in commodities may be drastically curbed or eliminated." The act applies to trading in grains, cotton, mill feeds, butter, eggs, potatoes, and rice. A circular issued by the department of agriculture describes the act in part:

"The commission created by the act comprising the secretaries of agriculture and commerce and the attorney general of the United States shall be known as the commodity exchange administration. To diminish or eliminate the burden of excessive speculation this commission shall fix trading limitations governing the amount of speculative trading in commodity futures that shall be done by any person in any commodity covered by the act.

"The act expressly provides that no limitations shall apply to hedging transactions. The law requires the registration with the secretary of agriculture of futures commission merchants and floor brokers accepting and executing orders for commodity futures."

Tomorrow: Commodity Exchange Act—2.

ASK TO REDEEM PUBLIC SERVICE SENIOR SHARES

Step in Merger of Chicago Utilities.

Taking another step to bring the Chicago district utility companies more completely under the control of the Commonwealth Edison company, Commonwealth Edison and the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois yesterday filed a joint petition with the Illinois commerce commission asking authority to redeem at $120 a share the preferred stock of the Public Service company.

Of the Public Service preferred stock now outstanding, $12,591,500 is held by the public and the remainder, $3,766,100, is held by Commonwealth Edison. No date has been fixed for the redemption.

The petitions set forth a plan under which Public Service will supply from its own cash resources the necessary funds to pay the 20 points premium, and authority is asked for amortizing this amount out of income over a period not to exceed twenty-five years.

Edison to Lend Funds.

Commonwealth Edison is asking the commission for authority to lend to Public Service the remaining funds necessary. The loan would be evidenced by a five year promissory note to mature not more than two years after the issuance date. The plan contemplates the retirement of this note by the issuance of Public Service stock to Commonwealth Edison early in 1938.

Commonwealth Edison may supplement the funds it now has available by the sale of $3,000,000 principal amount of serial debentures of the Chicago District Electric Generating corporation and $2,140,000 principal amount of promissory notes of Public Service which it has held for some time. Commonwealth Edison asks authority for the sale of these securities in a separate petition.

Step in Consolidation.

The present step is being taken in connection with Commonwealth Edison's plan to consolidate, with itself, Public Service, the Western United Gas and Electric company, and the Illinois Northern Utilities company. This was to be accomplished through Commonwealth Edison's acquirement of the outstanding securities of the various companies, which, however, would continue to be operated under their own managements.

Commonwealth Edison now holds more than 83 per cent of Public Service's common stock and it is acquiring additional shares daily under the exchange offer, which expires Nov. 15 unless extended.

Originally Commonwealth Edison offered holders of Public Service preferred stock the right to convert one share of Public Service for four shares of Commonwealth Edison.

When the offer was made Commonwealth Edison stock was selling around $30 a share and yesterday it closed at $27 a share, thereby making the offer disadvantageous to the holder of the Public Service preferred under present market conditions. The present offer covers such of the preferred as has not been converted.

INT. HARVESTER TO BUILD PLANT IN AUSTRALIA

Construction of a $2,000,000 farm implement plant at Geelong, Australia, 45 miles south of Melbourne, was announced yesterday by the International Harvester company. The plant will be operated by the International Harvester [Proprietary] Co., Ltd., the Australian affiliate of the Chicago company.

Australian agriculture requires many special types of farm machinery which are difficult to manufacture economically in America in small volumes. Such machinery can be made more satisfactorily in Australia. Another factor is the growing system of Australian import duties and quotas in effect on American made farm implements.

Standard Oil of Indiana Reduces Gasoline Prices

Effective today, wholesale gasoline prices of the Standard Oil company of Indiana are reduced three-tenths of a cent a gallon on all grades, company officials announced yesterday. The reduction, according to officials, has been made to meet competitive conditions. New Chicago prices to dealers, tax included, are 12 cents a gallon for third grade, 13.2 cents for regular, and 14.7 cents for ethyl gasoline.

Customs Collections Show Gain at Chicago This Year

Customs collections at the port of Chicago in October totaled $1,845,344 against $1,707,702 in October, 1936, and $1,931,962 in September, 1937, Joseph A. Ziemba, collector of customs, reported yesterday. The drop from September is seasonal, Ziemba explained. For the first ten months of this year collections totaled $19,162,886, against $13,301,247 in the corresponding 1936 period.

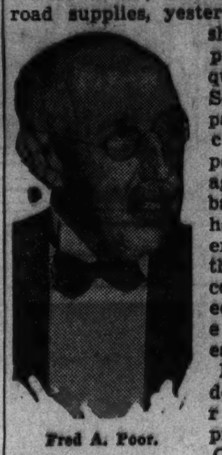
Rail Supplies Makers' Profit Falls Sharply

Poor & Co., manufacturer of railroad supplies, yesterday reported a sharp recession in profit for the quarter ended Sept. 30 as compared with the corresponding period a year ago. The Studebaker corporation had a larger operating loss, but the Ludlum Steel company reported a moderate expansion in earnings.



Fred A. Poor.

Dwindling orders from railroads caused profits of Poor & Co. for three months ended Sept. 30 to fall to $8,000, or 5 cents a class A share, compared with profit of $380,000, or $2.37 a class A share in the preceding quarter, and $129,000, or 80 cents a class A share in the September quarter a year ago.

Roads' Buying Declines.

Fred A. Poor, president, pointed out in a letter to stockholders that there has been very little buying by the railroads since the first quarter of this year. Shipments in the third quarter reduced unfilled orders to a level only about 58 per cent of what they were a year earlier, he said.

The $8,000 profit for the September quarter does not give effect to two non-recurring income and expense items, the report said. If these items had been included, the results of ordinary operations would have been reduced by $39,000 and loss for the quarter would have been $31,000.

For nine months ended Sept. 30, profit from ordinary operations was $958,000, equal to $5.98 a class A share and $1.98 a class B share after class A dividends. This compared with profit of $463,000, equal to $2.88 a class A share and 78 cents a class B share in the corresponding 1936 period.

The company had profit of $913,000, not including $58,000 surtax on undistributed profits, in the 12 months ended Sept. 30, compared with profit of $438,000 in the preceding 12 months.

Ludlum Earns $301,994.

The Ludlum Steel company and subsidiaries reported profit for the quarter ended Sept. 30 of $301,994, equal to 60 cents a share on 497,600 shares, compared with profit of $270,968, or 54 cents a share on 496,076 shares, in the same period a year ago. In the second quarter of this year the company earned $506,087, or $1.02 a share on 497,600 shares.

Profit for nine months ended Sept. 30 amounted to $1,201,197, or $2.41 a share, compared with profit of $705,350, or $1.30 a share, in the corresponding period last year.

Paul G. Hoffman, president of Studebaker corporation, announced that the concern lost $665,941 in the quarter ended Sept. 30, compared with loss of $206,283 in the same period of 1936. Net profit for nine months ended Sept. 30 was $508,577, compared with $708,547 in the same period of last year.

"Studebaker was out of production during several weeks in the third quarter," he said, "but is now building and selling the 1938 models in satisfactory volume. Our export sales in October were the largest for any month in the history of Studebaker."

WESTERN DAIRY CONCERN VOTES BACK DIVIDEND

Western Dairies, Inc., of Los Angeles, Cal., yesterday declared a dividend of 75 cents to apply on arrearages on its $3 cumulative preferred stock. Similar payments were made on Dec. 30, 1936, and on June 30 this year. Payment of the current dividend will leave accumulations of $4.50 a share on the issue.

Dividends declared yesterday, with rate, period, and payment and record dates, follow:

Brown Shoe 75c q	Dec 1	Nov 20
Canadian Car, pfd, 44c q	Jan 10	Dec 27

PRINCIPAL U. S. STOCKS LOWER IN LONDON MART

Prices Are Narrow in Chicago Trade.

American shares with a few exceptions declined in quiet trading on the London Stock exchange yesterday. Losses were held to minor fractions of a point in most cases, although Union Pacific fell $3.75 a share and Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad receded $1.25 a share.

Among the issues to register advances ranging up to a point were Eastman Kodak, International Nickel, and International Telephone and Telegraph. Canadian Pacific was unchanged. Other sections of the London list were mixed.

Trading Is Restricted.

Trading was restricted by closing of the New York markets for election day and the Paris bourse for All Saints' day. In Amsterdam and Berlin stock prices turned lower in dull trading.

The following table shows closing prices of leading American issues in London as compared with the preceding close:

Action slowed to a snail's pace on the San Francisco Stock exchange yesterday, most stocks moving only slightly from Monday's finishing prices.

CHICAGO STOCKS NARROW

Trading was slow on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Only 15,000 shares changed hands, compared with 31,000 shares on Monday, and price changes were small. The holiday in New York for the city election induced hesitancy on the part of traders on the Chicago exchange.

Of a total of 67 issues traded in, 18 showed gains for the day, 15 declined, and the others were unchanged from Monday's close. The Tribune average of 20 stocks closed .02 lower at 12.47, with the high for the day 12.49 and the low 12.44.

Trading on the Chicago Curb exchange was light, with a turnover of only 150 shares compared with 1,200 on Monday. Sales on the Board of Trade Stock exchange totaled 214 shares.

U. S. HAS DEFICIT OF 562 MILLIONS IN FOUR MONTHS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The treasury ended the first four months of the current fiscal year on Oct. 31 with a deficit of $562,403,216 and a public debt of $36,956,368,228, compared with a deficit of $937,496,214 for the corresponding period in the last fiscal year, and a public debt on Oct. 31, 1936, of $33,832,528,147.

Revenues received during the current four months rose to $1,983,450,590, compared with $1,408,088,114 for the same months a year ago, an increase of $575,362,476. Income taxes aggregated $633,898,538, an increase of $247,359,215. Miscellaneous internal revenues of $895,549,038 were $84,572,418 larger.

Receipts under the social security laws totaled $215,873,638 for the four months. Customs receipts at $152,126,059 were up about $9,000,000.

Total expenditures went above last year's four months' total, aggregating $2,545,853,806, or $200,269,477 larger.

UTILITY URGES COURT PREVENT U. S. TAKING LAND

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—(AP)—The West Virginia Power company appealed to the Supreme court today in an effort to prevent the federal government from condemning its land in Sumners county, West Virginia, for construction of the Bluestone reservoir project on New river.

The petition, signed by Newton D. Baker and other attorneys, challenged constitutionality of title two of the national industrial recovery act and the 1935 emergency appropriation act, which the government held authorized the proposed $13,000,000 expenditure.

The power company asked the tribunal to review a decision by the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals sustaining the government's condemnation proceedings.

EGGS FOR FUTURE DELIVERY RISE IN BRISK TRADING

Report Large Withdrawals from Storage.

Stimulated by reports of heavy withdrawals of eggs from storage, futures gained ⅛ to ⅝ cent a dozen in brisk trading at the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. Potatoes and butter also advanced.

Eggs opened unchanged to ¼ cent a dozen higher and soon were bid up as much as ⅞ cent a dozen above the previous close. Top prices were trimmed by profit taking late in the session, but November eggs closed ½ cent higher at 18⅞ cents, December eggs ⅝ cent higher at 19¼ cents, and January eggs ⅝ cent higher at 19⅜ cents.

Withdrawals Increase.

Withdrawals from four principal markets Monday aggregated 53,559 cases, compared with 33,334 cases a week ago. During the last week, warehouse stocks at 35 points have been reduced by 375,048 cases, against 350,022 cases in the same period last year and a five year average reduction for the week of 256,980 cases, reports showed.

The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation reported the purchase Monday of ten carlots storage eggs, 120,000 dozens, including five carlots, 60,000 dozens, offered from Chicago. Total federal purchases during the last three weeks total 308 carlots, of 3,696,000 dozens.

Cash eggs were ½ cent a dozen higher to ¼ cent a dozen lower. Extra firsts showed the maximum advance by moving up to 26½ cents, best level since early January.

Butter Futures Rise.

Butter futures advanced ⅛ cent a pound on all months. November contracts closed at 33 cents a pound, December contracts at 33¼ cents, and January contracts at 33½ cents. Traders said a net reduction of 304,718 pounds in local stocks and satisfactory movements at other points brought in buying. Cash butter prices were unchanged. Unofficial estimates placed warehouse stocks of creamery butter at 98,000,000 pounds on Nov. 1, compared with 105,368,000 pounds a year ago.

November potatoes advanced six cents to $1.35 a pound and January potatoes moved up 3 cents to $1.60.

Trading in other staples except grains and cotton, was extremely dull in North America due to closing of the big New York commodity markets for the municipal election.

Modern Woodmen.

Investors' Guide: Please send information on the Modern Woodmen of America.—R. F. K.

Answer: This is the largest fraternal society in the country. It is licensed in all states except Massachusetts and Missouri.

The society began business in 1883 and had a remarkable growth. It has made strenuous efforts in the last 20 years to place itself on an "actuarially solvent basis," as judged in ordinary insurance companies. A thoroughgoing change in rates was made in 1929. Policies now are issued on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and 3½ per cent interest, having been changed from a 4 per cent basis Jan. 1, 1936.

About 90 per cent of inadequate rate members have transferred to the new and adequate basis. Others are being carried on a step rate or current cost plan by which cost of insurance increases with time.

The Missouri Insurance department found the society insolvent and revoked its license July 29, 1936. Considerable controversy followed. Illinois Director of Insurance Ernest Palmer called a convention examination. Nine states joined in the examination, and last March found the society "100 per cent solvent, with approximately 75 per cent of its admitted assets in government, state, and high grade municipal bonds."

The two examinations differed mainly in method of computing reserves. Missouri used tabular reserves which are the usual insurance valuation basis. The convention used prospective reserve or the value of the nonforfeiture options, whichever is greater.

The latter brings out true reserve liability on the assumption of future mortality at 100 per cent of the expected, but somewhat understates true reserve liability if future mortality exceeds the expected rate, according to insurance statisticians.

Mortality since 1929 has exceeded the expected rate by 27 per cent on certificates issued on the 4 per cent interest basis, the convention report said, but the excess is provided for in part by rates slightly higher than the tabular net premiums. There is a further offset in gains from surrender charges and lapse of certificates not having nonforfeiture options.

The society wrote $40,587,000 of insurance in 1936, compared with $32,356,000 in 1935. Insurance in force during 1936 declined from $650,393,000 to $612,966,000.

Admitted assets increased from $50,002,000 to $68,501,000 during 1936.

Income was $25,670,000 and total disbursements amounted to $19,207,000 during 1936.

CHAMBER TAKES REFERENDUM ON 7 TVA DISTRICTS

Makes Suggestions for U. S. Action.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today launched a referendum among its 1,500 member organizations on the issues raised by the pending Norris-Mansfield bills for creation of seven regional planning agencies or "TVA's."

Accompanying the questionnaire mailed out was a digest of recommendations of a special chamber committee advocating the use of established federal agencies for planning, coordinating and executing projects for developing the country's natural resources. The chamber favors such a utilization instead of adding to governmental burocracy.

Three Recommendations.

Three specific committee recommendations which the chamber's membership has been asked to approve or disapprove are as follows:

1. The flood control act of 1936 should be continued and the projects thereunder prosecuted with vigor through the army engineers.

2. The federal government should continue to utilize directly its regularly established agencies operating on a national basis to plan, coördinate, and execute activities belonging to the federal government in relation to natural resources, including water resources, their utilization and their control.

3. The federal government should in activities belonging to it in relation to natural resources proceed in coöperation with the states and preserve to the states all rights belonging to them in their resources.

Oppose Regional Authorities.

On point Number 1, the committee held that a shift of flood control to seven regional authorities would be "unwise because of the lost time in familiarizing new agencies not only with flood control problems, but with all the many undertakings they would be required to consider and coördinate with flood control." The war department, it was contended, had flood control well in hand.

HOG PRICES RISE TO BEST LEVELS IN EIGHT DAYS

Hog prices rose 10 to 15 cents more yesterday, reaching the best levels in eight days, as good feeding weather cut receipts at all leading packing centers and consumer demand boosted wholesale markets for fresh pork. Only 51,000 hogs arrived at the eleven leading centers, a decline of 22,000 from the preceding Tuesday.

Numerous top loads of 160 to 220 pound new crop hogs reached $9.65, the highest sale since Monday, last week. The average of $9.25 was 10 cents higher.

Monday's sharp gains in lambs were retained yesterday. Prices were steady to strong, with all interests aggressive. City butchers paid the $10.40 top for natives, and packers bought downward from $10.35.

Buyers in the cattle alleys preferred good to choice steers 1,100 pounds and heavier at steady to strong rates, other classes ruling weak to slightly lower. No highly finished steers were available, the best load offered bringing $18.75.

COTTON

Trading in cotton futures yesterday was slowed due in part to the election day holiday in New York. The market, however, showed an easy undertone as the result of hedging pressure which disclosed a lack of aggressive buying and at the close all deliveries of futures were below the 8 cent a pound level with the exception of October, 1938 contracts which represent next year's crop.

Closing prices on the Chicago Board of Trade were at net losses of .05 to .20 cent while New Orleans declined .05 to .10 cent a pound. Support on the decline came mainly from trade interests. Spot cotton closed .10 cent lower with New Orleans 7.85 cents and Galveston and Houston at 7.65 cents a pound. Prices follow:

CHICAGO'S
Most Outstanding
BEAUTY EXPERTS
Indorse and Welcome
Wilfred System of Beauty Culture
to Chicago

Ever since the merger of Wilfred Academy and the Chicago Hairdressing Academy—under the Wilfred banner and under John Mueller's guidance, Chicago's leading hairdressers have written letters of welcome and praise of the unique Wilfred System of hair and beauty culture training.

Read what these experts say about Wilfred Academy and John Mueller.

CONDOS—ARTISANS OF BEAUTY, write: "Chicago needed a Wilfred Academy and we are glad that John Mueller was selected as its leader in our city. The combination should make Wilfred Academy the most outstanding beauty culture school in this section of the country."

EMIL RHODE of the EDGEWATER BEACH HOTEL SALON writes: "There is a definite need here for an institution of your calibre. I am acquainted with John Mueller's work in training young men and women for the beauty profession and I know every one will welcome his association with your famous organization."

Visit Wilfred Academy today! See Chicago's largest, most modernly equipped training center. See why beauty experts recommend Wilfred training for success in beauty culture.

MARINELLO

NOVEMBER 3, 1937.

AN OPEN LETTER TO AMBITIOUS GIRLS.

Off to a "flying start." You have heard that expression used time and again—in sports, in business, in studies—and it is always used in describing the winner. He or she won because of the "flying start." You can get off to a flying start in the field of Beauty Culture—the most promising field of endeavor open to girls and women—by taking your first step in enrolling at Marinello. After the completion of a course at Marinello, you are on the road to success—off to a flying start.

This adequate preparation for a successful career in modern scientific Beauty Culture is the explanation of the constant demand for Marinello trained Beauty operators. You can share in the opportunities this active demand offers. It will be to your advantage to have a personal talk with me at Marinello [National School of Cosmeticians, Inc.], 108 N. State-st., Chicago, the foremost school of Beauty Culture in the world. Day and evening classes at Marinello must necessarily be limited. It will pay you to visit our school today as a limited number of students enrolling for our class of November 8th will receive an extra dividend. If you cannot do this, write or phone State 5057 for National Descriptive Manual.

LEGAL NOTICES.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY
DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS
BRIDGE REVENUE BONDS—PROJECT NUMBER THIRTEEN.
NOTICE OF SALE.

The Commissioner of Highways of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, at his office in Frankfort, Kentucky, on the 23rd day of November, 1937, at ten o'clock A. M., Central Standard Time, will receive and publicly open sealed competitive bids for the purchase of Commonwealth of Kentucky Bridge Revenue Bonds, Project Number Thirteen, in the principal amount of Nine Hundred Fifteen Thousand [$915,000.00] Dollars, to be issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 172, Acts 1928, and Chapter 157, Acts 1930, General Assembly of Kentucky, by the Department of Highways, an agency of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, to provide funds with which to acquire by purchase the Milton-Madison Bridge, crossing the Ohio River between Milton, Kentucky, and Madison, Indiana, from Urban J. Alexander of Louisville, Kentucky.

The Commonwealth of Kentucky Bridge Revenue Bonds, Project Number Thirteen, will all be dated December 1, 1937, and issued in denominations of $1,000.00 each, and numbered consecutively from "One" upward, and all of said bonds will mature on January 1, 1953. All of said Commonwealth of Kentucky Bridge Revenue Bonds, Project Number Thirteen, will be redeemable on any interest payment date on thirty days' notice at par, and a premium of two and one-half percent of the principal amount thereof if redeemed on or prior to July 1, 1940, and a premium of two percent of the principal amount thereof if redeemed thereafter and on or prior to July 1, 1941, and a premium of one and one-half percent of the principal amount thereof if redeemed thereafter and on or prior to July 1, 1942, and a premium of one percent of the principal amount thereof if redeemed thereafter and on or prior to July 1, 1943, and a premium of one-half of one percent of the principal amount thereof if redeemed thereafter and on or prior to July 1, 1944, and without premium if redeemed thereafter and before maturity. Both principal and interest on the Commonwealth of Kentucky Bridge Revenue Bonds, Project Number Thirteen, will be paid in lawful money of the United States at the Chemical Bank and Trust Company, 165 Broadway, New York City, New York. The bonds will be subject to registration in the name of the holders as to principal alone. All of said bonds will bear interest payable semi-annually on January 1st and July 1st at the same rate not exceeding, however, three percent in a multiple of one-eighth of one percent, and each bid must specify the rate of interest and the price bid for the bonds of this issue. The bonds will be sold at part plus accrued interest and any premium which the bidder will pay.

Bids will not be considered unless accompanied by an unconditional certified check on a bank or trust company considered by the Commissioner of Highways to be financially responsible, payable to the order of the Treasurer of Kentucky, for one per centum [1%] of the par value of the amount bid for. Award or rejection of bids will be made on the date above stated for the receipt of bids, and the checks of the unsuccessful bidders thereupon will be returned immediately. Check of the successful bidder will be held uncashed as security for the performance of the bid; but, in the event any successful bidder shall fail to comply with the terms, covenants and conditions of the bid, the check may then be cashed and the proceeds thereof retained as and for full liquidated damages. Whenever such terms, covenants and conditions shall have been complied with, or when it shall be found impossible by the Commissioner of Highways to issue and deliver the issue of bonds, the check will be returned.

The Commonwealth of Kentucky Bridge Revenue Bonds, Project Number Thirteen, will be delivered and payment therefor must be made in accordance with the bid of the successful bidder at the Lincoln Bank and Trust Company, 421 West Market Street, Louisville, Kentucky, on or before December 10, 1937, at 10 o'clock A. M., Central Standard Time.

The Commonwealth of Kentucky Bridge Revenue Bonds, Project Number Thirteen, shall be secured by a trust indenture to be executed by and between the Department of Highways, an agency of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and a trust company qualified to act and hereafter to be selected by the Department of Highways as trustee, as provided by Chapter 157 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Kentucky at the 1930 session thereof, which trust indenture shall contain substantially the same provisions and covenants as the trust indenture heretofore executed by the Department of Highways, dated June 1, 1937, securing the Commonwealth of Kentucky Bridge Revenue Bonds of Project Number Twelve, insofar as such provisions and covenants shall be applicable.

If the definitive bonds shall not be prepared and ready for delivery on December 10, 1937, the Department of Highways will issue temporary printed bonds of the same denomination, which will be exchangeable for the definitive bonds when the latter are ready for issuance and delivery.

All bidders must agree to furnish and pay for the cost of printing the trust indentures, and the printing and/or engraving of the bonds as furnished by the Department of Highways, the form and terms of which shall be substantially the same as the Commonwealth of Kentucky Bridge Revenue Bonds, Project No. 12, now outstanding, except the paragraph thereof relating to the redemption thereof prior to maturity, which paragraph of said bonds shall be in conformity with this Notice of Sale; and all bidders must agree to pay Masslich & Mitchell, attorneys, 120 Broadway, New York, their fees and expenses incident thereto for the preparation of the trust indenture and legal opinion approving the validity of the proceedings, sale, execution and delivery of said bonds.

Each bid must be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Bid for Commonwealth of Kentucky Bridge Revenue Bonds, Project No. 13" and delivered to the Commissioner of Highways in Frankfort, Kentucky; and no bid will be received after the hour and date first above stated and no bid shall be withdrawn after said hour and date.

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY
By THE DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS as an agency thereof,
By ROBERT HUMPHREYS, Commissioner of Highways.
Dated at Frankfort, Kentucky October 30, 1937.

SUPREME COURT, KINGS COUNTY. ESTHER KIRSCHEN, plaintiff, against PHILIP KIRSCHEN, defendant—Summons. Action for absolute divorce.

To the above named Defendant:

YOU ARE HEREBY SUMMONED to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer, or, if the complaint is not served with this summons, to serve a notice of appearance, on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty [20] days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service. In case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated, April 26, 1937.

MORRIS SPEVACK, Attorney for Plaintiff. Office and P. O. Address, 299 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York.

To Philip Kirschen: The foregoing is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Henry G. Wenzel Jr., one of the Justices of the Supreme court of the State of New York, dated October 20, 1937, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of Kings, at the Kings County Hall of Records, in the Borough of Brooklyn, City and State of New York.

Here Is Something Absolutely New!

Automobile dealers all over America are flocking to Chicago to see the new process Community Motors has developed for reconditioning used cars.

Community Motors has developed a process so new—so different—so changed—as to revolutionize this industry.

No matter what your previous idea may have been about a used car, you will have a surprise in store for you when you see a "Community Re-Newed" Good-Will Used Car.

Space does not permit us to describe this process to you, but one look at "Community Re-Newed" Good-Will Used Car will tell you the story.

TO INTRODUCE

Trigger Man Confesses in Grant Park Moonlight Murder—Conservatives Defeat C. I. O. in Detroit

CONFESSES FIRING FATAL SHOT IN GRANT PARK MOONLIGHT MURDER— Anthony Sapienza as he was returned to Chicago yesterday from Shreveport, La., where he was captured. Soon after arriving home he confessed to state's attorney's aids that he fired the shot in Grant park on Aug. 22 which killed Herbert W. Lee. He confessed after being confronted by Leonard Doxey, a companion in the killing. (Story on page 1.)

JAPANESE BOMBING PLANES FLY OVER SHANGHAI BEFORE SPREADING DEATH AND DESTRUCTION— Two bombers as they flew over the Cathay hotel, Nanking road and the bund, on their way to Chapei recently. The Japanese, after weeks of fierce fighting, finally drove the Chinese defenders out of Chapei, which was left in flaming ruins. The Chinese took up new positions south of Soochow creek along the international settlement and a new battle is raging for possession of Hungjao, a western suburb of Shanghai. This picture was received in San Francisco yesterday by Clipper plane and sent to Chicago by Associated Press wirephoto. (Story on page 9.)

[Associated Press Photos.]

COMMUNIST ARMIES, ONCE THE SCOURGE OF CHINA, AID NANKING GOVERNMENT AGAINST JAPANESE— Striking pictures of Chinese Reds, who for years were the plague of the central government, but have now been enlisted to help fight the Japanese in the northern provinces. The soldiers at left have American made submachine guns. At right is a group of young soldiers on the march. The communists are credited with slowing up the Japanese in their campaign to annex the northern provinces. They are said to be well equipped and under able leadership.
